CUMMINS SAYS PROGRESSIVES ARE IN SADDLE.

What Directed Murdock's Attention to Joe Cannon's Machine in Congress.

Kansas City, July 27.—Senator Cummins, who passed through for Des Moines, predicted that the progressive Republicans would control the Republican national convention in 1912, and that the progressive Republicans might control congress before that time. He said:

"In the senate Aldrich and Hale are going to retire and there won't be any one in the senate on that side to take up the reins of authority. There is bound to be a disintegration of that force. Ready to take it up in the senate is the militant, aggressive organization of insurgent senators. As a nucleus right now we have fourteen senators."

Speech by Murdock.
Ottawa, Kan., July 27.—Congressman Victor Murdock in a speech here said that Speaker Cannon had been a standpatter since he had been in congress.

Murdock told how his attention was first directed to the Cannon organization because of its power to finish its enemies. He said in part:

"It was the case of Lilly, of Connecticut. One day I was walking down the street with Congressman Lilly when he said: 'I wonder if the people will ever get on to the crowd?'"

"That was the first intimation I ever had that anything was wrong in congress."

Senator Frye Not Ill.
Lewiston, Maine, July 27.—The family of Senator William P. Frye stated that there was no truth in the published report that the senator intended to retire because of ill health.

Rainbow After Sunset.
One of the most remarkable and unusual aspects of the sharp storm of yesterday evening was the development of a brilliant rainbow after sunset.

The phenomenon was visible over the greater part of mid-Surrey, and as the storm was coming from the east developed when the first drops of rain fell shortly before sunset at 7:37 p. m. The rainbow gradually faded away at its lower edges, but about half of its arc was still visible at 7:42 p. m., five minutes after the sun had dropped below the horizon.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored
My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.
MISS E. A. ROSS, Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head
For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

PREPARATIONS FOR THIRD GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Taking on International Aspect—Dominion Will Be Represented By Many Prominent Men.

THOUSANDS OF INVITATIONS

Niagara Falls, July 27. (Special).—Preparations for the third annual convention of the National Good Roads Congress, which is to be held in Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 28, 29 and 30, are taking on an international aspect and indications are that the Dominion of Canada will take equal part in the deliberations and discussions through the many celebrities that will attend from that country.

The international character of this great gathering is given increased prominence because of the fact that the congress is to be held on the Canadian border and, for the further reason, that Canadians are now manifesting an unusual interest in the good roads movement, and have accepted with significant enthusiasm the invitation to be present at this session.

The general subject of good roads is now engaging the attention of Canadian legislators in a degree almost equal to the place it is claiming in the public eye in the United States and it is expected that at least a third of the principal speakers who will address the congress will be Canadians who are thoroughly posted upon the subject and who will have valuable suggestions to offer.

Every effort is being put forth to secure the presence of Sir James Whitney, the premier of Canada, and the committee is confident that he will be here to fraternize with President Taft, Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York state; Colonel Roosevelt, Mayor Gaynor, of New York City, and others who are expected to attend the congress and address the gathering.

Committees of citizens of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Niagara Falls, Ont., are co-operating in the arrangement of plans for the reception and entertainment of the delegates to the congress and there will be plenty of interesting features in connection with the meeting on both sides of the border. Not a thing is being done on one side of the line that is not being duplicated on the other.

Mayors of Canadian cities, as well as commercial organizations and granges of the Dominion, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, etc., are displaying an interest in the coming convention and many of them will send delegates.

More than 200,000 invitations have been sent out, at least half of them being addressed to the owners of automobiles in Canada and the United States, special attention having been paid in the distribution of these to the automobile organizations in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec in Canada. One of the features of the congress is to be a monster automobile parade on the second day of the gathering. There are at least 250,000 automobile owners within easy ride of the city where the convention is to be held and it is expected the representation of this class of good roads advocates will be large indeed.

It may not be generally known that more than half the states in the union have adopted the principle of state aid and supervision over all or parts of the roads, while the remaining states are seriously considering sweeping reforms in their road laws. In Canada the same interest is being displayed, and this is bringing about a steady progress in road building which is now recognized as one of the foremost economic movements of the day. In the states that have reached a total of nearly $60,000,000 annually and many counties have issued bonds in large amount to further the work. Interesting discussions on the experience of this country and Canada will enliven the congress and the profit to those attending and represented will be great.

IN FASHIONABLE ROOMS COUPLE WAS DWELLING

San Antonio, Texas, July 26.—Trilled over the country for two years and apprehended here through a package mailed from Chicago, Fred A. Archambault was arrested here today with Nellie Taylor, daughter of prominent family of Mangan, Okla., 26 years old, and pretty. They were arrested at the instance of Mrs. Archambault, who says her husband fled with the girl two years ago. She has trailed them in nearly every state in the union since. She intends to prosecute to the limit and return to Chicago and get a divorce. Archambault and the girl refused to talk. They lived here in fashionable apartments.

CHOIR WILL SING

TRAINING 500 VOICES FOR EPISCOPAL COUNCIL.

Cincinnati Making Preparation to Entertain the National Church Convention.

BE IN SESSION THREE WEEKS.

Cincinnati, July 27.—With the appointment of David Davis to direct the singing of the great vested choir of 500 voices at the general Episcopal convention meeting in Music Hall in October, and the selection of Karl O. Staps, of St. Paul's cathedral, to superintend the organ recitals, practically all arrangements for the great gathering of churchmen have been completed. Only the dates of several receptions to the visitors, what excursions the party will make and the program of speakers have not been settled.

"The convention will very probably continue for three weeks which have been planned for it," said the Rev. Charles G. Reade, general secretary. "The last convention, held in Richmond, Va., in 1907, held for 15 days, but the increase in problems and the growth of the church will probably draw it out a week longer this year. This is the largest convention we have ever had. In fact, it is so large that we will have to do something unprecedented in our gatherings, which will be the separation of the holy communion of the Te Deum service into different buildings."

"I do not look for any very important business to be transacted in Cincinnati. The prayer book and the constitution will not be changed, nor have I heard of any striking action on foot. Minor matters and a meeting of mutual help will be the program, I suspect."

The convention will open with holy communion at 8:30 a. m. October 5 in St. Paul's cathedral. At 10:30 the Te Deum service will be held in Music Hall with the largest vested choir that has ever sung in Cincinnati. The opening sermon will be preached by Right Rev. John Wordsworth, bishop of Salisbury, England, a grandnephew of the poet William Wordsworth. Shortly after the convention will go into legislative session. The conventions of the Episcopal church are modeled closely after the national form of government. The House of Bishops, which will meet in the north division of Music Hall in secret session, corresponds to the senate. The chamber of deputies which is composed of eight representatives from the 65 dioceses of the country, will assemble in the theater of Music Hall. The floor space will be curtained in so as to bring the delegates closer together, and visitors may listen to the proceedings from the balconies. Business can originate with either body, but, as in congress, must be ratified by the other body before adoption.

The south hall will contain the headquarters of the Woman's Auxiliary, which 1,000 members are expected to attend. Here also will be held the Sunday school conference and a huge Sunday school exhibit of books, maps and methods collected for years in New York. This hall will contain the rooms of the Girl's Friendly society, the Junior Auxiliary, the Church Publication club, the Daughters of the King, a hospital, conducted by the St. Barnabas Guild for Nurses and a tea room which each parish will have charge of in turn.

Behind the chamber used by the house of bishops, in the north hall, will be a dining room for the 105 bishops; behind that a dining room for the delegates, and in the rear the kitchen. Music Hall proper will be fitted with a telephone exchange, a telegraph room and a branch post-office. For the further convenience of the visitors a special street car service will be maintained, and their baggage especially tagged at the depots to insure quick hauling. In addition a committee made a thorough inspection of the city's boarding houses a short time ago and charted 175 for use.

The united offerings given entirely by the women of the church, which three years ago amounted to $250,000, will be held in Christ church. The returns this year are expected to reach the half million mark.

Bishop Vincent, of Southern Ohio, has arranged to give a reception to the house of bishops at the Sinton and a reception to the convention as a whole will be held at the Art Museum. An excursion to the Blue Grass region, an auto ride to Ft. Ancient and a river trip are planned for the Saturday afternoons.

The evenings will be turned over to missionary sessions, particularly fitting, as the convention takes place on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the appointment of the first missionary bishop of the church, Bishop then factiously known as the "Bishop of All Out of Doors." Bishop C. H. Brent, of the Philippines; Bishop Kinsolvin, of Brazil, and Bishop Peter T. Rowe, of Alaska, will be among the speakers of these meetings.

J. Pierpont Morgan will be among the delegates, Samuel Pom. of Battle Creek, Mich.; Louis Howland, of LITTLE FARMS.

Well Titled in Denmark Salvation of Its People.

"A little farm well titled" is the one that pays. It is the intensive farming on a small acreage that brings in the most money. Many a man makes more money on 40 acres than others do on 160, and with far less labor. Denmark is a country of small farms. With an area of one-fifth that of Kansas and a population somewhat larger, it is the paradise of the small farmer. A generation ago the Danish farmers discovered that the wheat fields of the United States and Argentina were threatening their prosperity. They did not complain of this, but tried to find a remedy for it. They sent a commission to learn how Ireland was supplying England with bacon and eggs and butter. They then set to work to transform Denmark into a great market garden. The government acted as agents. Soils were studied. Chickens, carefully selected for their capacity as egg-producers, were imported. The farmer became an agricultural expert, knowing just what food to feed to stock and what breeds to raise. Intensive agriculture has shown that large farms are High Honor.

An English Lord was a guest in a certain home, and his hosts were very anxious to show the highest respect to their distinguished visitor. The best food in the market was served at the meals interspersed with "My Lord" this, and "My Lord" that, in obsequious tones.

In the morning, the hostess, wishing to send some warm water to his lordship by her 18-year-old son, instructed him thus:

"Now, Charles, knock at the door of his room; and if he asks 'Who is there,' you must answer, 'It is the boy my lord.'"

Charles proceeded up stairs and knocked at the guest room door, and the visitor asked from within, "Who is there?"

But the child, overwhelmed by the responsibility of his errand, became confused and replied, "It is the lord, my boy."—Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.
