ROUND ABOUT THE STATE

What Is Going on in Different Sections of Kentucky.

CAPITAL NOTES.

New Fair Association. The Franklin County Fair association, with an authorized capital stock of $5,000 was organized here amid much enthusiasm at a meeting of the Business Men's club. The association will make application for membership in the Kentucky Fair association.

Big Shipment of Tobacco. Tobacco raised in Franklin county was sent to every quarter of the United States when 620 hogheads were shipped from this city. It is the property of the American Tobacco Co., and it required 45 cars to carry it away from the city.

Must Secure Money. Unless the $20,000 due the school for the deaf at Danville is paid in a short time the school will have to be closed. So says C. McDowell, of the school. Treasurer Farley claims that there is no money in the treasury to use for that purpose.

Capitol Commission Denies Charges. Atty. Gen. Breathitt prepared an answer to the petition of Miss Mayme Cook, of Louisville, against the state capitol commission to restrain that body from carrying out a contract to furnish the new state capitol. The answer is a general denial of the charges.

Sale of Old Furniture. The removal of the state government from the old to the new capitol building, with modern equipment and furniture, will cause a unique sale of old furniture in which interest already has become keen. Seekers are flocking here.

Old Cases Again Called. In the Franklin circuit court the cases against former Gov. Taylor, former Secretary of State Finley and Capt. John I. Powers, who are charged with being accessories before the fact in connection with the killing of Gov. Goebel, were again called.

Equity Docket to Occupy March Term. The March term of the United States court of the Eastern district will begin in this city March 8, with Judge A. J. Cochran, of Maysville, presiding. Most of the term will be devoted to the equity docket, as there will be few criminal cases to be disposed of.

Mustered Out Because of Inefficiency. Adjt. Gen. Johnston issued an order mustering out of the state guard service Companies L of the First, A and L of the Second and L of the Third regiments. The order says the companies fell below the average required in the federal and state inspections.

Delegates Appointed. Gov. Willson appointed United States Senator Bradley, W. A. Robinson, of Louisville, and T. A. Combs, of Lexington, delegates to the third annual meeting of the International Conference on State and Local Taxation, at Louisville, September 21-24.

Brooms Higher. M. Dorn, general manager of the Frankfort broom factory, announced an advance in price of brooms of $1 per dozen following the increase in the price of broom corn from $60 to $100 a ton. The drought of last season is held responsible.

Louisville, Ky.—J. J. Garr, a member of one of the most prominent families in Jefferson county, died here. He was 59 years old and all his life had largely engaged in farming. He was highly respected.

Lexington, Ky.—Mrs. Elizabeth B. Collins was arrested here and taken to Cincinnati, where she is wanted for the alleged abstraction of jewelry and a field glass from the residence of R. J. Sullivan.

Jackson, Ky.—The first regular term of the Eastern District of Kentucky to be held in this city was commenced in the Breathitt county courthouse by Judge A. M. J. Cockran.

Lexington, Ky.—Wesley H. Tilford, who was born 58 years ago in this city, had lived here since his early youth and had been associated with the standard Oil Co. for more than 20 years, died in New York city.

Jackson, Ky.—Twenty-one persons, for various offenses against the internal revenue laws, were sentenced to serve from 30 days to 6 months in the Breathitt county jail. Federal Judge Cockran permitted them to give bond to serve their time next fall.

London, Ky.—Deputy United States Marshal Thompson, of this city, with a large posse, has been in the neighborhood of Stearns, Ky., for the past three weeks looking for Berry Simpson and his gang. He returned here after giving up all hope of capture.

Louisville, Ky.—Mrs. Cleo F. C. Cohn, a member of a pioneer family of Kentucky, an educator of note, and one of the most prominently known women in Jefferson county, died here. For years she had conducted the East Cedar Hill Institute.

Lexington, Ky.—Robert A. Downing, senior member of the Parnell-Downing Drug Co., was stricken with paralysis in his bath-tub at his home here.

Owensboro, Ky.—T. S. Anderson, the aged president of the defunct Daviess County Bank and Trust Co., who was convicted in January of swindling to a false statement of the condition of his bank, is ill of smallpox in the county jail.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—The Galt house, the largest hotel in the city, was burned to the ground. The fire is supposed to have originated in the kitchen. The building contained many guests, who, at the alarm of fire, ran to the street in their night clothes.

Lexington, Ky.—The trial of John Abner charged with the assassination of James Cokrill during the Breathitt feud trouble in 1903, was called at Jackson. This is the last of all the murder cases growing out of the Breathitt assassinations.

Maysfield, Ky.—In his charge to the grand jury Circuit Judge Bugz read the law regarding the selling of pooled tobacco to independent buyers and then instructed the jurors to do their duty. It is estimated that about 2,000 loads of tobacco have been brought to Maysfield and sold loose.

Lexington, Ky.—Articles incorporating the Braznell Co., which is to take over the controlling interest in the Bell-Jellison Coal Co., were filed here. The capital stock of the company is $120,000. The incorporators are A. S. Braznell, his son, R. A. Braznell, and E. J. Hanlon, all of Pittsburg.

Lexington, Ky.—The bill providing for a proposed amendment of the state constitution to secure state-wide prohibition, which will be introduced at next session of the legislature, prohibits the manufacture, sale, barter or giving away of intoxicating liquors in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky.—Chris Mueller, who had represented the 46th legislative district in the lower house of the general assembly, died here. He was one of the democrats who, by voting against J. C. W. Beckham to the last, finally made possible the election of William O'Connell Bradley to the senate.

Louisville, Ky.—The movement to establish prohibition in Kentucky has led the Model License League to gather these figures: Distillery and brewery property in Kentucky, $67,000,000; operating capital, $125,000,000; internal revenue collections, $24,086,663.11; licenses and taxes, $2,071,881.29; pay labor, $11,150,000; cooperage, $2,259,687.50; spend for bottles and cases, $7,069,881.10.

Covington, Ky.—Railroad detectives arrested two young men here on the front end of the baggage car of a C. & O. train. In the pockets of one of them, John Davis, 22, of Alexandria, Ky., were found forty locks of hair, each tied with a dainty ribbon, to which was attached the name of the former owner. The labels showed that they had belonged to women in Huntington, W. Va., Newport News, Ashland, Ky., Catlettsburg, Ky., Lexington, Ky., Covington, Newport and Cincinnati.

Madisonville, Ky.—B. L. Teague, colored, of this city, has been appointed rural route carrier out of Madisonville on route No. 4, with Floyd Grace, another colored man, as substitute. The announcement of these appointments has caused considerable comment, and it is the general opinion that a petition will be sent the postmaster general to rescind the appointments. There are over one hundred families on this route, all white but three, and the appointment of these colored men is not at all satisfactory, and it is reported that they will remove their boxes if these men are to remain as carriers.

Owensboro, Ky.—J. A. Harris, one of the most prominent insurance and real estate men in Owensboro, was arrested on the charge of setting fire to and attempting to burn his storehouse in this city on February 13. Lloyd P. Bennett, a former Deputy United States Marshal in Western Kentucky and brother of Senator Alvis Bennett, of Ohio county, was also arrested, he being charged with being an accessory in church affairs. He was formerly connected with the real estate department of the defunct Daviess County bank and was also superintendent of the Homestead Land Co., one of James H. Parrish's concerns. He came here from Louisville a number of years ago.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—In order to make a test case and get the opinion of the court of appeals as to the constitutionality of Kentucky's new school law, the Christian county fiscal court refused to make a tax levy to raise the $10,000 asked by the school board.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—Eight senators from the Tennessee legislature are here. In a statement the unaways declare that their sole reason in leaving was to prevent the republicans from naming a member of the board of primary election commissioners.

CLASS THAT HUSBY WAS IN.

Possibly Wife Did Not Mean It Just That Way, But There It Was.

A husband and wife ran a freak show in a certain provincial town, but unfortunately they quarreled, and the exhibits were equally divided between them. The wife decided to continue business as an exhibitor at the old address, but the husband went on tour.

After some years' wandering the prodigal returned, and a reconciliation took place, as the result of which they became business partners once more. A few mornings afterward the people of the neighborhood were sent into fits of laughter on reading the following notice in the papers:

"By the return of my husband, my stock of freaks has been permanently increased."
