These Democratic newspapers that are criticizing the Republican administration for printing an important advertisement required by law in a Republican country newspaper, must have forgotten that under Gov. Beckham's administration important State publications, required by law and paid for out of the public treasury, were safely hidden away in a Fulton paper owned by Col. Mott Ayres.—Clinton Gazette.

LIFE OF GEO. HARDY.

For several reasons, the name of Geo. S. Hardy, who shot himself last week, at Union City, is frequently heard in this section. From the following facts concerning his life:

"Geo. S. Hardy was a son of the late Wm. Hardy, a resident of the First Civil District of Ohio County and there the young man was born Sept. 18, 1863. He was then nearly forty-six years of age. The senior Mr. Hardy was a man of good character and thirty habits and was trained in these useful ways. From the farm he ventured in Missouri and accumulated some experience in what is known in common parlance as trading.

From Missouri he returned to Union City and entered business as partner with Mr. Brummett in a tall shoe store. W. B. Moore succeeded Mr. Brummett, and Mr. Hardy succeeded Mr. Moore. The firm then became Hardy Brothers.

It was about nineteen years ago when Mr. Hardy went to Union City. A few years after this the interests of Hardy Brothers were consolidated with those of J. R. Moran and the style of the firm was Morgan & Hardy Brothers. The business continued to prosper, but a division soon took place, Mr. Moran buying the interests of Hardy Brothers. The Hardy Brothers & Sherrill department stores were established, afterwards changed to Hardy Brothers & Harwood. Mr. Harwood retired, and then the Hardy, Malone & Jones and the Hardy, Corum & Jackson stores were established as separate institutions.

Some years ago Mr. Hardy retired from active service in the management of the stores and succeeded in the grain business afterwards known as the Hardy Grain Co. It was during his administration that the company built one of the largest grain elevators in this section. Another profitable investment was the four big mills at Humboldt. During the time Mr. Hardy became interested as a silent partner in several other business houses in Union City, he went to Union City and Ohio County, Napoleon of finance, of business and of public enterprise. His success in finance is understood.

About twenty years ago, Mr. Hardy and Miss Arlette Morris, of the same vicinity were happily married, remaining with Mrs. Hardy are ten children—Will Morris, a son next grown, and a baby daughter, Mrs. Louise. Another son was Geo. S. Jr., whose death occurred a few years ago.

Mr. Hardy was a member of the Methodist Church, a Mason, an Odd Fellow, an Elk, a K. of P.

LET US GET BUSY.

Fulton County is placed in the Institute District this year by the State Board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration, for a series of lectures along agricultural lines, and animal husbandry. If the farmers of the county desire to be enlightened on any special subject not in the repertoire of the lecturers in the district to which they have been assigned, the Commissioner of Agriculture will gladly send a specialist to lecture and demonstrate.

Already the organizers are in the field getting the farmers and merchants interested, and in Lewis and Mason counties the merchants are offering liberal premiums for the best display of farm products, horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

Fulton County will hold her institute at Fulton this year, on the 20th and 27th of November. When the organizer—J. W. Elvershacker—starts in to organize the county, we hope that he will be met with a hearty response on the part of the merchants of Hickman and Fulton in the matter of liberal premiums for the best display of farm products, horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

Last year the institutes were conducted chiefly by Kentucky talent, the year the best lecturers in the State will be in the field, men who "make good" in their particular lines, and the unsuccessful ones eliminated, so we bespeak a successful institute and the dissemination of much valuable and useful farm knowledge.

John A. McClure is the director of the Third Institute District, and he assures us that he will bend every energy to pull off a successful institute in Fulton county. With him will be associated J. B. Walker, of Christian County, who has been making extensive experiments for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A unique feature of this year's work is Domestic Science, conducted by the following ladies: Mrs. Chas. P. Weaver, of Louisville, Mrs. Paula Brockbridge, of Lexington, Mrs. Della Marshall, of Lexington, and Mrs. Letcher Riker, Harrodsburg.

Let's get busy for this great event.

Clothes Experience

OUR tailoring department is a success mainly because we have developed the business by safeguarding the interests of our patrons, in other words, a trial order with us invariably means a pleased and permanent customer.

THE FALL SEASON IS HERE

and we are offering GREATER INDUCEMENTS than ever.

FIRST—An ALL WOOL line of 1200 bright stylish patterns, no mercerized cotton, nothing but pure WOOL.

SECOND—Our prices have not advanced and although every pattern is guaranteed all wool we show just as many styles at $14.00, $16.00, $18.00 and $20.00 as ever.

THIRD—The system of measurements we use insures the particular kind of fit, style and individuality desired by each customer.

FOURTH—No man who orders clothes of us ever has a chance to complain, for unless the garments are all he expects in every respect, we keep them—not under protest, but cheerfully, willingly.

If the elimination of all chances of disappointment and dissatisfaction appeal to you—come and see our great selection of Fall Woolens and learn how and why we make clothes at the lowest prices.
