Guess Again

The Kalispell Times suggests that the people of this judicial district owe the office of district judge to Charley Foote because he was defeated for the office four years ago. The Times has another guess coming. The people of Lincoln and Flathead counties owe Mr. Foote nothing and are ready to pay the debt. Charley Foote is a good lawyer and a good citizen. He has reached an enviable eminence in his profession and in view of the fact that he represents nearly every important corporation operating in this district, he will doubtless continue to do fairly well in the future, if let alone. But, in all candor, the corporations should be satisfied with Mr. Foote's services as a lawyer and not ask the taxpayers to pay the bill.

Judge Erickson has made an admirable presiding judge. His record on the bench is spotless. He has rendered faultless public service. He owes allegiance to duty alone. He is prompt, impartial, just. A lawyer of splendid ability, a citizen of high ideals and clean life, a judge of unquestioned probity, John E. Erickson is recognized today throughout Montana, by lawyers and laymen alike, as a credit and adornment to the judiciary. The people in this part of the district will show by their votes in November that they are satisfied with Judge Erickson's record and have no desire to dispense with his services on the bench.

Hear These Men

Montana's next governor, Hon. Sam V. Stewart, and State Senator Tom Stout, who will be one of our congressmen, will open the state campaign for the local democrats. These two able and eloquent men will address the people of Libby and vicinity next Monday evening, Sept. 23, at the opera house at 8 o'clock. The new Libby band will furnish music for the occasion. Local democrats take particular pride in presenting these two candidates for high positions in the public service to the people of Lincoln county. They are clean, big and brainy men. They represent the best there is in Montana's public life today. Sam Stewart is one of the strongest and best men in this commonwealth. He has served the Montana democracy with devotion and conspicuous ability for many years. His public and private life show no blemish. He is eloquent, intelligent, able, honest. He has risen to a commanding position in public affairs by reason of his sterling qualities as a citizen and his high ideals of public service. He knows Montana and her people; he realizes her great resources and her unlimited possibilities. He will bring to the high office of governor a ripe experience, a clean record and a broad mind. As governor of Montana he will take exalted rank among the big men of the western world.

Senator Tom Stout, who is one of the democratic candidates for congress, stands at the very forefront of Montana's progressive young democracy. He has made an enviable record in the state senate as an advocate of all measures designed to advance the interests of Montana and her people. He is a free-lance, independent, vigorous and fearless. He does his own thinking and makes a mighty good job of it at all times. He will do what he thinks is right and he never thinks wrong. With Tom Stout and John M. Evans in the national house of representatives Montana will get back on the map of the nation.

Stewart and Stout will open the ball in Libby. They will tell the people some plain truths in a pleasing and instructive way. Everybody in this region who is interested in public questions should hear them. It will be worth while.

Stewart A Progressive

In commenting on the democratic state ticket, State Senator Tom Stout of Lewistown, democratic nominee for congress and a pronounced progressive, has the following to say in his paper, the Fergus County Democrat, of Hon. Sam Stewart, the democratic nominee for governor.

"This paper heartily supported the Hon. W. B. George, of Billings, for the gubernatorial nomination. The fact that he was defeated does not lessen our admiration for him in the slightest degree. We still believe that he would make Montana an ideal chief executive. But Mr. George was downed in a fair, square fight. It is impossible to conceive of any other man than a mighty good man defeating him, and we take off our hat to Sam V. Stewart, of Virginia City. We have known Mr. Stewart for many years and have never heard one word to his discredit. He is one of the state's foremost citizens, a big-hearted, generous fellow, possessed of a most admirable personality, a good speaker, a fine lawyer, and most loved where he is best known, in old Madison county, where he has resided for many years. His splendid personality and advanced progressiveness will contribute greatly toward his success, by an overwhelming vote, in November."

Jack Hall, the democratic candidate for railroad commissioner, is a hard-headed, intelligent, practical railroad man. He knows the business of railroading from A to Z. He has the confidence and friendship of the boys who work on the line from cab to caboose. It will be a relief to the taxpayers to have one member of the railroad commission who knows a cattle guard from a blind siding.

WILL GET REDUCED RATE

An excursion rate of one fare for the round trip from every railroad station in Montana to Helena and return will be in force on all railroads in the State during the week of September 23 to 28 inclusive, on account of the Montana State Fair. Just what this concession means, is better understood, when it is stated that no other state in the union has ever been given terms of equal liberality for a similar attraction. In most of the states the best that is ever secured is a rate of one and one third fare the round trip, and in many states there is no concession whatever. In North Dakota, for instance, whoever wishes to attend the State fair must pay full fare both ways, from whatever point he wishes to go.

A rate of one fare for the round trip in Montana means a saving to State Fair visitors of sums as high as $18 or $20, for from some sections of Montana people have to travel 600 miles to reach the capital city.

HERE'S SOME REAL NEWS

It seems that our friend Dave McGinniss, who has been very busy for the last year or so building an electric railroad through the Flathead country—on paper—has a little spare time just now and has decided to build a few public service plants in Lincoln county. A dispatch to the Spokane Chronicle from Kalispell one day last week reads this way:

"Articles of incorporation of the Lincoln County Public Service corporation have been filed in the office of the county clerk. The concern is organized for the purpose of supplying gas, electricity, water and power principally, but the articles permit of the conduct of any other business for which private corporations are formed.

"David R. McGinniss of Fresno Cal., Earl D. Brown and John J. Green of this city are the incorporators and directors. The company is capitalized at $200,000. The new company at present owns valuable water power sites in Lincoln county which it is purposed to develop."

There seems to be some question in this region about the extent and value of Dave's water power privileges but no one in Libby questions his capacity to furnish all the gas and wind necessary to run several good sized plants.

A WEEK TO LEARN.

Notable New Educational Features at the Spokane Fair.

Successful fairs now pay far more attention to securing new educational features than was the custom a few years ago. While the amusements are not neglected and there is always something going on to entertain every nation, education is really the star feature, and nowhere else can an inquiring visitor learn so much about the great Inland Empire and the general progress of art and agriculture.

The Spokane Fair this year proposes not only to provide this free education, but is going to bring thirty farm boys to the Fair to enjoy a week of fun and learning combined at the Fair's expense. The Washington State college will look after the boys and will also install a comprehensive exhibit showing the work done at the college. The Idaho university and the Spokane schools will also have complete exhibits, and liberal prizes have been offered for rural school exhibits.

Two other very practical features along this same line are a model creamery, which will operate daily, and a milk test open to all cows, grade or pure bred, all testing to be done in an open booth and fully explained.

The Spokane Fair management want to make the week of Sept. 30 notable in every way and guarantee that every one who attends the Fair can, if they will, learn something about the line of agricultural science which most interests them.

Sept 30 to Oct 6 1912

BIG MASQUE CARNIVAL

One of the big entertainment features of the Flathead County Fair will be a masque carnival, Friday night, October 11th, commencing at 8 P. M. on First Avenue East in Kalispell.

First Avenue East will be roped off three blocks from Railroad Street to Third Street for a big promenade and dance. One end of the street will be occupied by the Indians where war dances will be pulled off and the north end will be occupied by dancing and masque promenade. This will be a feature of one evening.

The Flathead band, under the able management of M. B. Rizzo will furnish music for three days of the Fair and also furnish concert music on the streets Thursday and Friday evenings of the Fair.

The program provides for the biggest social event ever held in Kalispell.

BIDS FOR WOOD

Bids will be received up to Monday noon, October 7, 1912, by the county clerk for a 125 ricks of 16 inch seasoned body wood, 85 per cent of which shall be tamarack and fir. Same to be delivered and piled as directed at the court house and jail at Libby, Montana. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for $25. The board of county commissioners reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The interest being taken by the horsemen of Montana, as indicated by the entries being received by the Secretary of the Flathead Fair Association, indicates that one of the best racing events ever held on the Flathead track will take place at our coming Flathead County Fair, October 9th-10th-11th and 12th, 1912.

The harness races are open to all comers and a running race program for local horses in Flathead and Lincoln counties is being prepared. The Flathead track is one of the finest in the state and is better this year than ever, owing to the use of a California track harrow, the best and most improved implement that has been devised for perfecting a race track.

A modern stable for the accommodation of race horses was built last year that is thoroughly up to date in addition to other box stalls on the grounds.

The date set for closing entries September 15th, will be held open later. The purses are as liberal as those offered at any of the county fairs in the state and owing to the dates of our Fair, coming after the eastern Montana Fairs and the Spokane Fair, the Flathead race meeting this year should be one of the most interesting in the history of the Association.
