Washington, February 10.—The following general order was issued to-day:

War Deparement, Washington, February 9, 1886.—With profound sorrow the Secretary of War announces to the army that Major-General Winfield Scott Hanook died to-day at Governor's Island in the harbor of New York. He was a soldier without fear, a citizen without reproach, a patriot without guile. He will ever be a noble and impressive figure in our history, and his countrymen will always recall with pride and pleasure his heroic and inspiring conduct during those last memorable hours on the field of Gettysburg. For his meritorious and conspicuous share in that great and decisive victory, he has received the gratitude of the American people and the thanks of Congress. The flag will be placed at half-mast at all military posts and stations and thirteen minute guns will be fired on the day after the receipt of this order, and the usual badges of mourning be worn for thirty days.

WM. C. Exponorr, Secretary of War, Lieutenant-General Sheridan will act as pall bearer at General Hanoock's funeral. Major-General Schofield will also attend.

In offering the resolution Mr. Hoar said that when the announcement was made yesterday of the great public calamity that had occurred in the death of the illustrious soldier, the Senate very properly followed all precedents in like cases, and what Mr. Hoar was sure would be in accordance with the dier, the Scalar precedents in like cases, and what Mr. Hoar was sure would be in accordance with the desire of the distinguished deceased, that is to say, the Senate proceeded with the public business. But it was proper that proceedings should at once be initiated for paying a tribute to the memory of the deceased.

Galway, February 10.—Parnell in an address to the Parliamentary electors of this city yesterday, in response to the appeals to have his candidate withdrawn in favor of Lynch, the native candidate, used the following language: "Having agreed to support Captain O'Shea, we will not deviate a hair's breadth from the course decided upon, Captain O'Shea will vote with the Irish party. If he be defeated it will weaken my hands."

Act, and Ex-Congressmen Eppa, Hunter and Ex-Assistant Attorney-General McCammard appeared for the Central Pacific, and Jere Wilson for the Union Pacific, Assistant Secretary Jenks read a statement showing that about $3,500,000 had thus been paid, of which the Government claimed it was entitled to 25 per cent. He said the subsidy payment had been included in the accounts of the roads as part of the operating expenses, which the Railroad Burean thought improper, and the proposition is to demand of the roads one-quarter of all that has been paid, and one-half of all hereafter paid, the subsidy being $5,000 a month. The railroad attorneys said they had telegraphed to their principals asking for a statement of the facts, and asked for delay. Secretary Lamar thenordered that the matter be held over until Nebruary 26th, when it will be taken up.

Just a Western Incident. Washington, February 10.—Superintendent Jameson, of the Railway Mail Service, has received a blood-stained leather mail bag from the West, which had been slit open bag from the West, which had been slit open with a knife. It bore the following information from Mr. Wasfield, Superintendent of the Western Division: "The Indian question, as it applies to the Postoffice Department. About 2 p. m. on July 23d, 1885, while F. M. Peterson, a mail carrier on the route from Crittenden to Lochiel, Pima county, Arizona, was on his return trip from Lochiel, he was killed by Apache Indians. After murdering the carrier, the Indians out open the bag and destroyed the mail, tearing it into fragments and scattering it over the ground. Two pouches were carried. The one herewith was left on the scene of the tragedy and bears the sanguinary stains of the victim."

INTERRED IN THE GENERAL'S MAUSCLEUM

At Montgomery cemetery. The cemetery can properly be termed the burial ground of the Hancock family. The General's brother John many years ago purchased a lot there, in which lie the remains of his seven children. The adjoining lot was purchased by General Hancock and his twin brother Hilary, and in it they placed the remains of their parents. By the side of the latter lies the body of Winfield Scott Hancock, Jr., the General's grandson and namesake, who died when an infant, in the summer of 1880, the news of his death reaching the General the same day he was formally notified of his homination for President. In 1833 General Hancock built a handsome mausoleum. The only member of the General's immediate family now entombed there is his daughter. Ada, who died in 1875.

The body of General Hancock was to-day partly embalmed. Colonel John P. Nicholson, Chief Recorder of the military order of the Loyal Legion, who arrived to-day, has taken charge of the dead General's personal affairs in accordance with the request made by him several years ago.

THE GUARD OVER THE DEAD BODY

To-night consists of Captain Charles Morris, Lieutenant O. E. Wood and Colonel A. W. Vodges. There is a probability that the Port Hamilton band will march in the procession.

Mrs. Hancock was confined to her bed all day to-day, and was attended by a number of female relatives. She is prostrated by the shock.

The following-named persons will act as pall-bearers: Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, Secretary of State: Generals Sherman and Sheridan, W. F. Franklin, W. F. Smith, J. G. Frye, A. H. Terry, John Newton, Nelson Miles, F. A. Walker, Mr. B. M. Hartshorne, Colonel W. P. Wilson and Major W. D. Miller, the two latter being aides de camp of the deceased during the late war. It is also expected that the President and members of the Cabinet will attend the obsequies.

Mrs. Hancock to-day received a touch in which he referred to his own recent bereavement in the loss of his wife and daughter, and speaking of her deceased husband as a loss to the nation.

Washington, February 10.—The following general order was issued to-day:

Manual Training in Public Schools New York, February 10.—A movement is on foot here having for its final object a revolation in the public school system, under which all children can study books half a day and receive manual training the other half. From this point of view the forth-coming Children's Industrial Exhibition here attracts much attention. It will be unique and of prophetic significance, as the responses show. All industrial schools within thirty miles of the city will be represented. The Gramercy Park Tool House will send the model of a truss bridge, in wood, foundations and all, made by boys, also a steam engine, cabinets, desk, upholstery work, carvings, many specimens of wood-work done with the saw, hammer and lathe; printing, photographs, etc. Governor Hill is much interested in this system, and an effort will soon be made to have it become a part of the common school system of the State. volution in the public school system, under responses show. Columbus, Ohio, February 11,—Daniel J. Dalton, clerk of the Hamilton county court, was arrested this morning at the instance of the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the House, and brought before that body of the House, and brought before that body for contempt, in refusing to allow the committee to make a photographic copy of the tally sheet of precinct A, fourth ward, Cincinnati, and also in failing to produce the original returns before the committee at Columbus yesterday. A resolution was offered directing that Dalton be placed in the jail of Franklin county for a period of thirty days, unless he agree to furnish the returns for the purpose as requested. The resolution was under discussion at 11 a.m. as to the powers of the committee and the House in such cases. By consent of the House Dalton appeared by attorney.

San Francisco, February 11.-It has been ascertained that the patient afflicted with the dread disease on the steamer "Belgic." arrived from Hong Kong yesterday, is a negro stowaway, who showed first signs of the disease when eight days from this port. He was immediately isolated. It is believed none others of the 273 passengers and crew have been infected.

Quarantine officer McAllister has ordered the afflicted patient to the county bosnital.

Quarantine other measurement as ordered the afflicted patient to the county hospital, and the remaining persons on board the "Belgic" are to be transferred to the hulk of the "Dakota," in the stream. If no further signs appear they will be released in fifteen days. The vessel will be thoroughly fumigated and be allowed to discharge her cargo.

The House.

Washington, February 10.—Nothing of importance came up in the House to-day.

Mr. Blanchard, of Louisiana, offered the following series of resolutions:

Resolved, That this House has learned with profound sorrow of the great and irreparable loss which the country has sustained in the death of that great and good man, Major-General Winfield S. Hancock.

Resolved, That this House, in common with all his countrymen, mourns the death of him who was a stainless soldier for the Union in the war, and an undannted defender of the Constitution and civil liberty in peace, and at all times a stainless man and incorruptible.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect and affection for the exalted virtues of this heros and patriot, this House do now adjourn.

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House honored dead a copy of these resolutions, and the assurance of the heartfelt sympathy of this House in the hour of bereavment, which is alike hers and the country's.

The resolutions were adopted, and accordingly the House adjourned.

But I will go further and say that I and others who were with me going up through Virginia after the war was over, went out of ginia after the war was over, went out of our way and we saw where Hancock's corps had charged across those prairies, and saw the trees through which these men charged with Hancock at their head. He had the confidence of General Grant and of every man who ever had Hancock in command, myself included. He was loyal, obedient and completely satisfactory, never questioning an order.
