MISSED SIXTY DOLLARS

BUT RELIEVED ARTHUR SINGLETON OF TWO TWENTIES.

A Woman Also Robbed—Utah County Thief Arrested in California—Verdict Against the Sioux Mining Company—Park City's Fourth of July Programme—Snow Storm in Summit—Divorce at Farmington—Logan Notes.

Provo, July 3.—This morning two more crimes came to light, the perpetrators of which are supposed to be tramps, and the officers are exerting every effort to bring the offenders to justice.

Late last evening, as Albert Singleton was passing along the street at the corner of F and Seventh streets, he was held up by two individuals, one of whom was a tall man in dark clothes, and the other a short heavy set person in corduroy. Singleton was made to throw up his hands at the point of a revolver and was relieved of $40 in cash, after which the holdups made a hasty departure. On his inside pocket Mr. Singleton had $60 in greenbacks, which the outlaws omitted to take, supposing that the two $20 gold pieces in his trousers pocket was all he had.

This afternoon Sheriff Storrs arrested a man at Springville on suspicion that he is one of the robbers and Singleton went immediately to identify him.

A WOMAN ROBBED. Mrs. Sophia Snyder was also robbed last night by a man who asked for board and lodgings, who took from her house a lady's watch and $25 in cash and silver.

Suit has been filed in the district court by R. S. Hines against Luke Cook and Louise Cook for the purpose of foreclosing a mortgage given to purchase a note of $170.50 with interest.

VERDICT AGAINST THE SIOUX.

Arguments were concluded last evening in the case of William E. Wilson vs. the Sioux Consolidated Mining Company. At a late hour the jury returned with a verdict awarding the plaintiff the sum of $7,000 for personal injuries resulting from being struck down by a vicious animal and run over by the cars used to take ore out of the mine.

RAILROAD DAMAGE CASE.

The next case for trial was that of Alvin Green vs. the Union Pacific Railway company, which has been instituted to recover damages for the killing of ten head of cattle by the defendant corporation, which is alleged to have occurred between American Fork and Lehi. Several persons losing cattle in this manner have assigned their claims to Mr. Green to avoid bringing several actions. David Evans and Jacob Evans are attorneys for the complainants and J. W. N. Whitecotton appears for the corporation.

CAPTURED IN CALIFORNIA.

An important capture has just been made by W. S. Gregory, sheriff of Alameda county, California, of the mentalist of Sheriff Storrs and his deputies. The man captured is named Ranier, and he is accused of burglary, having some time ago broken into a building belonging to Lorenzo Argyle, of Bonanza, and stolen several articles of value, the most important of which was a wagon which he took with him overland to California. The officers have been vigilant in following up the individual and finally run across a clue as to the wagon, and subsequently effected the arrest of the thief. The prisoner will be brought back to Provo at once and prosecuted.

KILLED THREE BATTLES.

Wasatch Wave: While John Cleer was in search of stock in the Center creek hills the other day, he came across and killed three large rattlesnakes, one of which had just finished swallowing a full grown ground squirrel.

J. C. Lambert, the popular Kamas lumber dealer, had the misfortune to have his left hand fingers almost entirely severed from his left hand one day last week by a cut-off saw which he was using at his mill. The saw cut diagonally across the base of the hand from the fingers, but left the skin whole on the under side. The wound was put together and sewed up, and every effort possible will be introduced to save the fingers. Mr. Lambert had a narrow escape from bleeding to death before medical aid could arrive.

The articles of incorporation of the Wasatch creamery have been filed for record in the recorder's office, and the officers are qualifying. The company has a capital stock, as is well known, of $7,000, 10 per cent of which is fully paid up, and everything is moving along smoothly. CALIFORNIA'S SENSATION.

Mrs. Bradbury and Her Paramour in Trouble. San Francisco, July 2.—Mrs. Bradbury, the wife of a Los Angeles millionaire, who eloped with H. R. Ward, now talks freely of her escape. She and Ward have taken rooms in a lodging house in Nevada, a quiet spot, and after ordering a note from a French restaurant, she said: "You may call this either a love match or a scandal. I prefer to call it a romance. Colonel Bradbury was a rich husband, but I have happiness with Mr. Ward. He can support me, and I have no fear of desertion."

Mrs. Bradbury denies that she has parted all her jewelry, but confesses to a shortage of ready money. She proposes to have a good time, and seems surprised that her capitalist husband has not pursued her. Mr. Ward prefers not to talk about his wife and children, who are now abroad. They registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Nevada." They were, however, recognized and requested to vacate their apartments at an hour's notice, and left there ostensibly to catch a train. Instead of leaving the city they repaired to Merchand's restaurant, and remained until the evening papers appeared, when they learned to their dismay that the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Vice, contemplating their arrest upon the charge of adultery.

This announcement occasioned a flurry, but before the couple could be arrested by Secretary Kane of the Society for the Prevention of Vice at the restaurant, while Ward was scouring the city for a hiding place, Mrs. Bradbury took her arrest quietly, but was evidently completely taken by surprise at the turn events had taken. Late this afternoon, W. S. Ward was arrested by an officer of the society for the prevention of vice, for alleged violation of the seventh commandment. Ward was furious at his arrest, denouncing the officer and denouncing the society in vigorous terms. Mrs. Bradbury, who has throughout displayed much less nervousness than her companion, was particularly conspicuous in making light comment and giving no evidence of a disposition to resort to woman's tears. The pair were taken to the city prison, and a few moments later Mrs. Bradbury was liberated first, and immediately drove down alone to the Alameda Hotel. She was met by her father, who composed and dispatched several messages with business-like precision. She was heavily veiled as she walked from her carriage to the telegraph office, but when she wrote her telegrams she raised her veil, and the telegraph clerks remarked on the absence of perturbation. After Mrs. Bradbury was arrested, she was made to interview him, but he was not willing to make any statement. He tried to maintain an air of nonchalance, but it was obvious that he was not at all satisfied with the course of events. He was informed that Colonel Bradbury was coming to San Francisco on his way east. Ward could not control his anger any longer, but he continued to maintain an attitude of bravado. Neither Ward nor Mrs. Bradbury would discuss their plans or future movements.

Davis County Clipper: George Payne, one of the proprietors of the guano beds, and A. M. Simpson, arrived home on Friday in a roundabout way from Gunnison Island after a tour of a Robinson Crusoe experience on the Great Salt Lake. Messrs. Payne and William Ogden went over to the island a day or two before with provisions for Mr. Simpson, who was over there, and during the night the cable broke, letting the ship drift about five miles from the shore, disabling her, so the two gentlemen above mentioned crossed over to the west side of the lake, a distance of about 100 miles, then walked about 40 miles to the Central Pacific railway, where they flagged the train about four miles west of Keilton and came into Ogden.
