Indignation Throughout South and Central America Over the Bombardment of Puerto Cabello.

London, Dec. 15.—It, was learned this afternoon that the proposals now before the British government are the original proposals forwarded by Minister Bowen but which have now received a strong support from the United States government.

In Ambassador Choate's absence, Charge d'Affaires White is making every effort to arrange some pacific method of settling the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela. He is in constant communication with the state department at Washington. Nothing definite has yet been arranged, but the Associated Press understands that there is some hope of further hostilities being averted.

The negotiations are handicapped by the absence from London of several of the cabinet ministers, as before an answer can be given the cabinet will probably have to meet. No final decision is expected before Wednesday.

Foreign Minister Princiti, replying to an interpellation, made a statement on the subject of Italy's attitude toward Venezuela. He reviewed the causes leading up to the Anglo-German action and said:

The chamber was animated in view of the preannouncement of Signor Prinettl's statement, during which United States Ambassador Meyer occupied a seat in the diplomatic box.

The foreign minister said that further considerable damage to Italians in Venezuela had been caused during the last revolution, but that the amount of these damages had not yet been ascertained. As soon as he was informed of the Anglo-German action he addressed London and Berlin progosing to participate in the measures these countries were about to undertake to collect similar claims, and his proposition was favorably received. of representation of the south in Republican national conventions.
To Senator Quay of Pennsylvania and a group of newspaper men, Senator Pritchard said he would support any properly directed effort made to reduce the representation of the southern states in national conventions.
"I believe," said he, "that is the only fair method and I am in favor of it. The representation of all the states in Republican national convention should be in accordance with the number of Republican votes cast in the several states."

Senator Quay expressed his gratification that Senator Pritchard had taken that stand, and remarked, "I am with you."

Senator Pritchard explained that he did not favor cutting down the representation of the southern states in congress, as he did not think that could be done constitutionally
