Jennie Vernon Masqueraded as a Man Until the End.

CLOSE OF A STRANGE CAREER

TRUE CHARACTER REVEALED ON HER DEATHBED.

(Special to The Herald.) Cheyenne, Wyo., July 29.-Masquer-ading as a man, doing manual labor and living among rough, uncouth laboring men in Shanty Town in South Cheyenne for two years, ever guarding her secret, and with but few suspecting her identity, Jennie Vernon finally gave up the struggle of life and now lies dead at St. John's hospital from cancer of the stomach. Taken to the hospital a few days ago as Thomas Maxfield, her sex was discovered by the attendants, and an effort from cancer of the stomach. Taken to the hospital a few days ago as Thomas Maxfield, her sex was discovered by the attendants, and an effort was made to learn something of her family before she died, but Jennie Vernou did not want the world to know of her past life and died with the secret.

her past life and died with the secret in her own heart.

Some effort has been put forth by the authorities to learn of the past history of this strange woman, but without result. The Herald correspondent, after working on the ease for several hours, learned much that heretofore has been known only to those who were intimately acquainted with the were intimately acquainted with the woman, and this information may re-sult in the disclosure of her past life.

Was Married Woman.

Jennie Vernon came to Cheyenne from Pueblo, Colo., July 28th, 1992. She was accompanied by Al Vernon, who was killed in the West Cheyenne yards on May 20th, 1903. The pair lived in a but in South Cheyenne, and recently Jennie Vernon told a friend that she and Al Vernon were man and wife.

from Pittsburg, Kansas, where Vernon owned a valuable house and other property, which he sold before coming west. Aside from these facts little is known of Vernon.

Jennie got on a drunk and was thrown into jail. After serving a short sen-tence she returned to South Cheyenne and took up residence with David Aue, a Kentuckian wko is employed in the Union Pacific yards as a wood chopper. Aue never suspected Jennie's sex un-and took up residence with David Aue, a Kentuckian who is employed in the Union Pacific yards as a wood chopper. Aue never suspected Jennie's sex until a few weeks ago when she admitted that she was not a man and that Thos. Maxfield was not her true name. She objected to going into details, but Aue Jearned much about her past life.

Mother Still Living.

Today Aue informed your correspondent that Jennie Vernon was 47 years of age, and that she leaves a married daughter and grandchildren in a small town in Missouri. Aue could not remember the name of the place. He says that Jennie's mother, who is very old and feeble, lives in the same town. Jennie Vernon left Missouri seven years ago and about the same town. The plan of the bureau is expanding somewhat from the original idea. Now it is the intention to have an attractive room fitted in the best of style and large enough to include a comprehensive display of the mineral wealth of the entire state of Utah. San Francisco has a display of this kind open to all tourists. It is one of the attractions of the coast city, especially to those interested in minerals. The intention is to have a similar institution here, and the Real Estate association intends to have a collection of ores and other minerals that will do full justice to the mining districts of the state.

The bureau is to be placed in charge of a bright, husstling, public spifited young man, and it will be supported by contributions from members of the association and other men interested in some collection of order and the places in the west to study mines and mining. . SOME DOUBT EXPRESSED

WILL WAIT FOR CONFIRMATION BEFORE CREDITING NEWS.

The report, that Port Arthur was taken by the Japanese army, received in the city yesterday afternoon, caused unusual excitement and enthusiasn among the Japs of Salt Lake. Eddie Hashimoto, after he read the bulletin in The Herald window, rushed wildly down the street waving his hands, shouting the news to everyone. Eddie said "that is the beginning of the end, it is the best news I ever heard. The old bear is dead for sure."

H. Senow, secretary and treasurer of the Japanese American Industrial corporation, who is usually a total abstainer, werft so far as to add a half tea spoonful of whisky to his ginger ale and called it a high ball.

TEST OF ENDURANCE.

Aged Man Makes Ascent of High Mountain Peak.

(Box Elder News.)

John Evans of the Third ward, 75 years of age, has long had a desire to olimb to the top of the highest peak in this vicinity, so at 7 o'clock last Monday morning he started in to gratify his desire, choosing the peak east of Three-Mile for his objective point. He began his ascent at the Reservoir hill, and after climbing steep hills, over deep ravines and through thick underbrush, he reached the snow line just as the sun went down. There was yet a steep climb before him, and, exhausted as he was, he determined to make it. He finally reached the coveted spot in the gloom of the evening, and then began his weary march homeward, arrivink there at 1 o'clock the next morning. It was a test of endurance that has seldom been equaled by those of Mr. Evans' age, and he appears to be none the worse for the trip.

Members of the city council are telling around how President Frank J. Hewlett had to climb the fence to get into the World's fair. It came about in this way: Hewlett with some of the other members were inveigled into the national Democratic convention hall the night Judge Parker was nominated for the presidency. So completely carried away with the eloquence of Littleton. Delmas, Bryan and the other Democratic orators did President Hewlett become that he lost all idea of time. He sat completely hypnotized till the time arrived after which no one would be admitted to the fair grounds.
