GLEN S. WARNER ON FOOTBALL

Man Who Coached Carlisle Talks on Rules.

FAVORS TEN YARD CLAUSE

THERE SHOULD BE MORE SPEED AND LESS WEIGHT.

Boston, Jan. 22.—Glen S. Warner, the Cornell and ex-Carlisle coach, in an interview this week on how the game of football should be changed said:

"After having studied the question carefully, I am of the opinion that the only way of solving the problem of producing a more open and spectacular style of play, together with a proper ratio of punting and rushing, is by increasing the distance to ten yards, and by increasing the distance to ten yards, and by increasing the distance to ten yards..."

"First—By compelling the defensive backs to remain in line five or perhaps ten yards back of the line of scrimmage until the ball is put in play."

"Second—By allowing forward passes to be thrown from the line of scrimmage, but only if the distance to the line of scrimmage is ten yards or more."

"Third—By permitting off-side play after the ball is put in play."

"No restrictions have ever been placed upon the positions assumed by the players on the defensive, and with only five yards to gain in three trials, there of course should be none, but by increasing the distance to ten yards, and by increasing the distance to ten yards..."

"Fourth—By increasing the weight of the players, especially in the back field, because speed is essential there in getting quickly to the point of attack."

MAY REOPEN BOXING

Senator Frawley of New York Has a Bill to Allow Fighting to Be Resumed.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Senator Frawley, the father of the boxing bill considered in the legislature last year, has offered in the upper house a bill permitting amateur boxing matches to be conducted under the supervision of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The rules of this organization are to govern all bouts, which must be professional boxing, which was given the right of way. The opposition to it was so great that both bills fell by the wayside.

The New York senator said in discussing his bill: "The advocates of the bill to concentrate all their energies on presenting it alone with a professional boxing bill, which was given the right of way. The opposition to it was so great that both bills fell by the wayside."

COACH FOR COLUMBIA

New York Baseball Player is Hired to Teach the Game to Students.

New York, Jan. 22.—Columbia's baseball players will be under the care of Billy New York National League player...

"With the large amount of promising material now at the college, it is expected that the new coach will be able to develop a strong nine, which will make a better record than last year's team. Only three players were drafted for the Columbia last year."

"Graduate of Brown university, which he left in 1902. He immediately became a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, where he played for two years. The Giants took him in 1902 and he is especially well known for his power and speed."

"In the latter department the Columbia men are weak, and they have all confidence that the new coach will put them into better shape."
