

STEVE ADAMS IN PARK CITY JAIL

Man Who Confessed to Many Atrocious Crimes Stole Some Furniture in Utah Camp.

HIS SANITY QUESTIONED

WAS NOT A MEMBER OF PARK CITY UNION. (Special to The Herald.) Park City, Utah, March 18.—Steve Adams, alias Steve Dickson, alias Adam Stevens and numerous other aliases, who is now before the limelight in Idaho as a confessed accomplice of Harry Orchard in numerous escapades wherein the lives of others were sacrificed and planned to be sacrificed, was in Park City during the spring and part of the month of June, 1898, and during his stay here he got his name on the criminal docket of the city justice's court. The fellow came here, he said, from Colorado, in company with a woman of numerous matrimonial adventures, who at that date was playing an engagement as the wife of Adams. After securing a small house on Woodside avenue and starting to keep

These three fellows went under a variety of names while here, and they with Adams left town just as soon as he got out of jail. After Adams was put in jail his attorney advised that he tell the court his true name, and at the trial Stevens confessed that his true name was Stephen Adams. Talked of Many Crimes. Before the trial of Adams he talked quite freely of his life and experiences, and to several he stated that he had been in Cripple Creek all during the trouble there, that he had been on the inside of the workings of the union, and that he had been one of three chosen to assassinate the three judges of the supreme court of Colorado, Governor Peabody and Adjutant General Sherman Bell. He said that he had been in the bullpen in Cripple Creek, and that it was he who placed the loaded and cocked revolvers in the shaft at the Independence mine during the strike. His tale of crime covered a multitude of adventures, including assisting in the distribution of numerous bombs set to kill people who were passing. The picture taken in Idaho in which the man sought to disguise himself is recognized by many here as being a photo of Adams, the man of the experiences, but those who knew the man here are of the same opinion that they held while listening to his weird stories fully convinced now that the man is crazier than ever before. Did Not Belong to Park Union. Adams was not a member of the Miners' union while here, and was unknown to the officials of that organization in town. The woman who was with him told also of wonderful adventures, but her experiences were along the matrimonial

IDEALISM IS THE BEST

IDEALISM IS THE BEST PRIESTS AND TYRANTS EVER WORK IN HARMONY. "The Four Isms that Dominate Humanity" was the theme of Rev. Frank Pay Eddy at the services of the First Unitarian society in Unity hall yesterday. Mr. Eddy began by defining what he meant by an ism, as he used the term in the sermon. He said that an ism is a belief in a certain doctrine or principle, which is held by a certain class of people, and which is supposed to govern their conduct. He then cited four isms which he believed had governed human conduct: Idealism, Materialism, Mammonism, and Mammalism. He argued that idealism is the best, and that it is the only way to achieve true happiness and peace. He concluded by saying that all of these isms are necessary, but that idealism is the most important.

OGDEN NEWS.

LEE CASE IS DELAYED

Man Accused of Bounty Frauds May Not Be Brought to Trial. Three weeks ago Jonathan Lee was arrested for bringing the accused man to trial. The case is delayed because of the difficulty of finding a suitable jury.

GIRLS ARE ACCUSERS.

Colored Quartette in Ogden Face Terms in Penitentiary. From disclosures made since the arrest of the two white girls, who gave their names as Dot True and Jane Nelson, in connection with the intimacy which has been maintained between them and a colored man, four of whom are now under arrest, it is expected that charges sufficiently serious to land the colored quartette in the penitentiary will be preferred by the police. The stories as told by the girls to the officers since their arrest, and upon which they are being held, are that they were seduced by the colored man, and that they were forced to have intercourse with him.

PLANS FOR PACKING PLANT.

The plans for the new packing plant of the Ogden Packing & Provision company have arrived in Ogden and will be submitted within a short time to the board of directors for ratification. Some minor changes only will be made and the work on the construction of the buildings will be commenced as soon as the weather will permit.

IS ACCUSED OF FORGERY.

Thomas King, who was employed as a bar tender at Layton, was placed under arrest there yesterday by Sheriff James West of Davis county and brought to Ogden where he is wanted on a charge of forgery. The complaint was sworn out by Joseph H. Payne, in the municipal court here Saturday and the arrest effected on telephone advice from the local sheriff's office.

DEATH CALLS A PIONEER

Phares Wells, Who Came to Utah in 1848, Passes Away. Phares Wells, 92 years of age, died yesterday morning at the home of his son, John T. Wells, 424 East South Temple street, of general debility. The deceased was born in a farming town in Bucks county, Pa., in 1814, and while a boy learned the carpenter's trade. He came to Utah in 1848, and crossed the plains

WASTEFUL WAYS OF LIFE.

"Will not some philosopher of the coming race some centuries hence look back on our era and wonder at our wasteful, bungling ways of doing things, and at our strifes? Will he not look on our standing armies, our mercenary commerce and our crude educational systems with something like amused contempt? But even this man of the nobler future, this being of the higher type, would in his hour of reflection, pause to remark that his position of vantage became possible because we in our age of semi-barbarism were faithful to the call of idealism."

SMALL INCREASE MAY POSSIBLY BE GRANTED

Pittsburg, Pa., March 18.—Forty-five coal operators of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio left here tonight for Indianapolis to decide whether or not the miners shall get an advance and the amount to be given. One of the operators said tonight that he thought the miners would be given an increase of 5 per cent but no more a month.

CHILDREN CONFIRMED.

Washington, March 18.—President Roosevelt's second daughter, Miss Ethel; Secretary Taft's daughter, Miss Helen, and a daughter of General A. W. Greely of the army were among a class of twenty-five young people confirmed at St. John's Episcopal church this afternoon. Bishop Satterlee administered the rite of confirmation, the presentations to the bishop being made by Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, the rector of the church.

BELLAMY STORER IS TO RETIRE IMMEDIATELY

Washington, March 18.—Other than admitting that Bellamy Storer, the American ambassador to Austria-Hungary, is to retire immediately from his post, Secretary Root declined to make any statement regarding the change in the office. A successor to Mr. Storer will be named by the president tomorrow. The secretary refused to say who the new ambassador will be. It is known that there has been some friction with the administration which neither Mr. Root or others conversant with the condition of affairs will discuss.

MEETING CLOSED WHEN SPEAKER GOT EXCITED

St. Petersburg, March 18.—Six thousand persons participated today in the initial meeting of the League of Education which was inaugurated by the Constitutional Democrats to disseminate political instructions among the people. Prominent speakers were present and there was no intermission with the meeting until 11 o'clock, a well-known Liberal and former mayor of Baku, made an impassioned speech in which he demanded the abolition of the death penalty. Thereupon the police closed the assembly.

HAVE A SONG SERVICE.

Ogden Tabernacle Is Filled by Crowd of Worshipers. The explanatory song service at the Ogden tabernacle yesterday afternoon was the most successful event of that nature held in Ogden. The tabernacle was inadequate to accommodate the assemblage. The services were presided over by Bishop Robert McQuarrie of the Second ward. Horace Higgins of the First ward rendered solos and the Ogden tabernacle choir rendered four selections.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT UNLIKELY

Continued from Page 1. have little difficulty in convincing an honest jury beyond a reasonable doubt. The greatest interest, aside from the discussion of such details of the case as have already been made public, is being taken in the place for holding the trials. The defense, as is well known, will try hard to secure a change of venue to another county not yet selected. The prosecution insists that the men can be fairly tried in Canyon county. The court may or may not in his discretion grant the change of venue. An argument frequently used against Canyon county and Caldwell is as to the difficulty of securing a jury. Some attorneys think it will be practically impossible in Canyon county, filled, as it is, with life long friends and neighbors of the Cayton county government, to find twelve men who have formed or expressed no opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused or who are not otherwise disqualified for jury service.

THINK JURY CAN BE SECURED.

The difficulty is readily recognized by the prosecution as well as by the defense, but the prosecution claims that a Canyon county jury will be fair enough to decide the case on its merits, regardless of previous opinions, expressed and unexpressed. In other words, that twelve absolutely fair men can be found in the county. Judge Smith has not, of course, indicated what he will do in the matter. His rulings heretofore, while almost uniformly against the defense, have been regarded as absolutely fair and in accordance with the strict letter of the law. Had it not been for Judge Smith's prompt action the defendants might still be in the state prison at Boise, subject to the rigid rules and regulations governing the custody of condemned convicts. At the request of counsel for the defense Judge Smith ordered the men taken from the penitentiary to the Canyon county jail, where they are accorded more privileges than they received at Boise.

ST. JOHN'S DEPARTURE.

The defense has been getting some comfort, after all, out of the extradition of Vincent St. John to Colorado, notwithstanding the fact that his caution resorted to a trick to get him home. "If I remember correctly," said Attorney Miller, "the chief detective for the prosecution, one McParland, made the boast that none of the men under arrest would ever leave Idaho alive, and we are hoping the incident is an omen of good fortune for the other defendants."

GRAND JURY ON WAITING ORDERS.

The grand jury was in session all last week at Caldwell but it did very little work. It may be said that the body is on waiting orders, although it is managing to occupy a good part of its time with minor matters of interest such as reports on the condition of the various public institutions. A committee visited the county infirmary, for example, and a report will be made on that and on the condition of the jail. Considerable wonder has been expressed over the continued failure to indict "Steve" Adams, upon the strength of whose confession St. John was taken back to Colorado, and who has confessed to participation in numerous murders. It is thought that no connection between Adams and the Steunenberg murders has been established, and that this is the reason for the failure to indict him. He will be indicted, however, until the trials of Moyhead, Hayward and Pettibone are over, for he will be used as a witness against them, regardless of whether or not he is prosecuted.

FORMER IDAHO SHERIFF NOW IN STATE'S PRISON

(Special to The Herald.) Boise, Ida., March 18.—Peter A. Steers, former sheriff of Bingham county, was brought here tonight to serve a sentence of two years for embezzlement. He took license money and lost it in gambling. Steers desired to be permitted to come along. He asked the privilege of the traveling guard, saying he would come as soon as he received the commitment. Guard Robbins could not gratify his wish. Steers was at Pocatello when the guard arrived there at 4 o'clock in the morning, but was told to go to bed, as there were two men at Blackfoot to set. When Robbins got back with the two, Steers was at the depot to meet him. On the way from there he rode as though he were an assistant to the guard. He admits his offense and is anxious to serve his time and make a new start.

BOWLING CONGRESS.

Preliminary Work Mapped Out by Executive Committee. Louisville, Ky., March 18.—The executive committee of the American Bowling congress met today, following a dinner given in its honor by President Haeger, and considered the work preliminary to the opening of the congress. It was decided to recommend a number of changes in the rules of the two-man teams in future national tournaments. Philadelphia, St. Louis and St. Paul are in the race for the next tournament. Last night the Philadelphians claimed practically to have won the next tournament and the election of Albert Baltz for president. Tonight, however, the drift seemed to be toward St. Louis for the next tournament, while it was said that the delegation from that city had combined to support F. W. Groszowich of St. Paul or C. H. Kaufman of Cincinnati for president.

BELIEVES IRELAND HAS TURNED CORNER

London, March 18.—John Redmond, addressing a St. Patrick's day demonstration at Manchester yesterday, made the most hopeful speech yet heard from an Irish leader. He said he believed that Ireland had turned the corner, that the record of the last elections would never be reversed, and that the English of the future would give to Ireland all that she could reasonably expect or demand. The government would be given time to fulfill pledges contained in the king's speeches and the nationalist would not contemplate the possibility of a rising in which they would be forced to turn them upon previous governments.

CAN CHOOSE MODE OF DEATH.

Sebastopol, March 18.—Vice-Admiral Choukinn has rejected the proposal of Lieutenant Schmidt to set aside the verdict of death passed upon him by a court-martial for his part in the mutiny at Sebastopol, but has conceded him the privilege of being shot instead of hanged.

STEVE ADAMS. Alias Steve Dickson, Who Confesses That He Was Harry Orchard's Accomplice in Several Criminal Deals.

house, Adams secured work at the Daly-West mine. He was there but a short time when, on the 13th of June, 1898, while the family of Arthur Hooper were away on the Miners' Union excursion at Lagoon, Adams, or Stevens, as he was known, made a successful effort to get into jail by robbing the Hooper house of its furniture.

His Sanity Questioned. The fellow's sanity was questioned not a little while he was here as this piece of thievery and numerous other little things seemed to point quite strongly to a weakness in the reasoning power of the fellow. His robbery was made in the middle of the day, and he deliberately carried the furniture so stolen from one house to the other in the presence of the neighbors. When Hooper arrived he had the fellow arrested and for a little while it looked bad for Adams, as there was thoughts of sending him up for housebreaking. However, his wife made such a talk to the complaining witness of her poverty and absolute dependence upon Adams for a living that the charge was finally reduced to petit larceny, and upon this charge before Judge W. S. Lockhart, Adams was tried and sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or fifty days in the city jail.

Three Pals Got Him Out. During all this time three men who came here with Adams and his wife interested themselves more than ordinarily to secure the fine, and before the trial secured counsel for their friend.

Drank Much Whisky. Adams himself while here displayed a rare appetite for whisky, being drunk whenever the opportunity afforded itself. He left no unpaid bills because the stores of the town did not trust him. The man made an effort to secure the full amount of his bail money after being sentenced, but failed in this. He was finally let go on the payment of $25 upon the stated agreement that he was to leave town, which he did the day he was released, and from that time until he was heard of in connection with the Orchard case, people who knew him here forgot all about him.
