

LIBERAL LEADERS AGAINST THE PLAN

Declare Referendum Unsuitable to Political Conditions in Great Britain.

UNIONIST PARTY UNITED

Courage of Former Premier Balfour
Commended—More American Dollars.

London, Dec. 2.—The few days of discussion in the general election campaign leaves it clear that the Liberals, as a party, will have none of a referendum on tariff reform.

The Liberal leaders, from Premier Asquith, down, in their public speeches since the announcement of Mr. Balfour, the opposition leader, of his willingness to leave tariff reform to a referendum, have frankly deprecated the referendum as being unsuitable to Great Britain as a party, will have none of a referendum on tariff reform.

Meantime, however, a further fact is that the Liberal leaders have had the effect of uniting the whole Unionist party and press in its favor, and Mr. Balfour's courage in adopting it is hailed as having secured for his party an excellent prospect of victory.

It is a curious fact that at the time of the rupture of the recent vote conference an inspired statement in the Times asserted that both sides to the conference had rejected the referendum.

Afterthought Alleged.

If that be the case, Mr. Balfour's decision must have been an afterthought, as it is asserted in well-informed quarters that he first consulted Joseph Chamberlain and obtained his acquiescence before proceeding to shelve temporarily the tariff reform by urging recourse to the referendum.

Campaigning was again in full blast tonight. Mr. Balfour said, in a speech at Glasgow, that no Irishman would thank the people for an independent Irish parliament unless it was "accompanied by a British subsidy."

Mr. Edward Grey, the foreign minister, said in a speech at Bristol:

"The greater measure of devolution is necessary to save the house of commons from perishing by the congestion of business and to save its reputation as an imperial authority. There is nothing in John Redmond's home rule proposals which is not in full force in the Canadian provinces."

Mr. Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, criticizing the referendum proposal in a speech at Bristol, said it would have to be accompanied by universal suffrage. There were other questions. Mr. Birrell said, besides the tariff and home rule. Were the Tories, he asked, prepared to submit to a referendum the questions of navy and army expenditure, conscription, capital punishment, the nationalization of railways and the budget?

More American Dollars.

Boston, Dec. 2.—On the eve of important elections tomorrow in the British elections, the United Irish league of America, through its treasurer, Thomas R. Fitzpatrick of this city, forwarded today to the Irish National party another remittance of $10,000. This makes a total sent in the last six weeks of $60,000 of the "American dollars" which have caused adverse comment by a section of the British press.

"The denunciations of America and Americans by the Tory press," said National Secretary Fitzpatrick today, "has acted as an incentive to Ireland's friends here to help the cause along. As instancing how wide-spread is the feeling aroused by the attacks, the national treasurer yesterday received from friends of Ireland in Chicago $4,200 from Ray Francis, ex-$200, in addition to a contribution of $2,000 ten days ago, and from Seattle $2,650."

EAGLES KIDNAP OFFICERS.

The desire to change the organization of the Salt Lake lodge of Eagles, was realized at the annual election last night when Axel A. Steele, a dentist in the sheriff's office was chosen president. After vigorous contests the following were selected to fill minor offices: Vice president, Darley P. Christensen; treasurer, John A. Eklund; secretary, H. S. McCann; and chaplain, F. A. Ellis. Up to an early hour this morning the Eagles had not been able to agree upon a board of directors. Mr. Steele succeeds Albert Herz as president.

EDUCATOR PRAISES SALT LAKE SCHOOLS

Dr. A. E. Winship Says This City Has Most Splendid System in the World.

That the United States leads the world in educational progress, is the claim of Dr. A. E. Winship, Boston, editor of the Journal of Education, the leading weekly educational paper of America, who arrived in Salt Lake yesterday on a lecture tour. He will address Salt Lake teachers at the high school assembly hall next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Dr. Winship is pronounced one of the leading authorities on educational matters. He says that within the last ten years more progress has been made throughout America in this line than in the preceding thirty years.

Leads the World.

"One of the wonders of the modern world is the phenomenal strides made by Salt Lake City in this direction," he said. "Within a space of several years this city placed in operation one of the most splendid public school systems to be found anywhere in the world. During my frequent visits here I have found a modern progressive spirit pervading and governing the school system to a degree unsurpassed in any other city."

For twenty-five years Dr. Winship has been lecturing and visiting in the United States and Canada, starting a school district in America that he has not invaded with his progressive views.

Monday and Tuesday will lecture to the Salt Lake teachers on what he considers the two principal features of the Salt Lake school system, "instilling manliness and womanliness," and "getting into the game." By the latter he means the fitting of the children for practical life.

SMOKE NUISANCE

IS DISCUSSED

Commercial Club Committee to Confer With City Council on the Matter.

By approving the action of the committee on sanitation and public welfare in the question of the question of abating the smoke nuisance, the board of directors yesterday placed the Commercial club on record in favor of a campaign to free the city of smoke and its evils. That committee, backed by the city council, will confer with the city council at its next meeting regarding necessary action to this end.

The ordinance making it a misdemeanor to cause or permit the emission of thick black smoke or chimneys from city houses passed four years ago, is said to be inadequate in that it does not designate who shall enforce it. The Commercial club will propose that a smoke inspector be appointed to handle the question.

So far prosecutions against violators of the ordinance have failed for lack of means of presenting adequate testimony. To remedy this it is proposed to have pictures taken of the guilty smokestacks to be used as evidence in court.

MASSAGE HALL A SUCCESS.

The University of Utah gym was crowded last evening on the occasion of the giving of the music department. Over 200 couples crowded the hall, which presented an unusual sight in the way of costumes. Every nationality and every age was represented. The Scribner's capture the big prize of the evening for the last sustained group.

GIRLS ARE ARRESTED.

Mamie Laverne and Lilly Morris, nineteen and twenty years of age respectively, were arrested in a Greek coffee house in West Second South street last night by Patrolman R. A. Radke upon suspicion of having been procurers of a house of prostitution. The cases will be thoroughly investigated today. It is expected that emigration officers will be notified.

TAKEN BACK TO OGDEN.

After having been released upon his own recognizance, William Seigel, aged twenty-three years, who escaped from the chain gang of the Ogden city jail several weeks ago, was again arrested last night by Patrolman R. A. Radke. He was turned over to Capt. C. Brown of the Ogden police department and taken back to Ogden last night. Seigel had nearly $100 on his person when taken into custody.

COMBINE S WAREHOUSE TO DISOLVE PACT

known business man of this city, who was formerly in the coal business here. According to the information received yesterday, Queally came to Salt Lake at about the time the coal question with reference to raising rates was agitated and arbitrarily ordered the dealers to tack on another 50 cents per ton, putting it up to so-called independent dealers to take the option of either falling into line or having their yards reduced to rubble. Queally would make them look like they had been moved. They fell into line.

"Queally," said the ex-coal dealer, "he was operating in a small way, but now he is a multi-millionaire. And he has made his fortune from coal. He is not only a heavy stockholder in the Kennecott mine and the Gunn-Jacobs company at Rock Springs, but he is also a stockholder in the Federal Coal company here so that he gets a rakeoff both coming and going."

Increase at Mine.

"That Queally produces 2,000 tons of coal per day, meaning a net profit of $1,000 per day, or $350,000 a year, and that without any extra expense. He has made the claim that the cost of production at the mine has been increased; that the miners have received an increase in their pay. Well, you know what that means. Their increase means perhaps three cents per ton."

"In Idaho, where the people were paying $6 per ton for their coal, the insatiable commercial commission got busy and ordered a reduction in the price of hauling of fifty cents to certain points. That should have made the price of coal to the consumers $5.50. Did they get it for that? Not on your life. What did they do? They simply raised the price fifty cents at the mine and the dear public had to pungle up $6 just the same."

Special to The Herald-Republican.

Provo, Dec. 2.—At an enthusiastic meeting this evening the Provo Commercial club declared itself as bitterly opposed to the exorbitant and oppressive price of coal and pledged itself to co-operate with the Salt Lake Commercial club in securing the demanded reduction. The club also declared itself in favor of the formation of a public utilities commission law.

President William M. Roylance stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of securing relief from the advanced price of coal, which had come to the exorbitant and oppressive price to the manufacturers and consumers of the state alike.

James Clave explained that the Salt Lake Commercial club had gone to considerable trouble and expense in taking up the agitation for lower coal rates, and inasmuch as the securing of the desired end meant a benefit to the state in general, it behooved the members of the Provo Commercial club to lend all possible support and aid in securing the desired result. He stated that he had conferred with a number of prominent attorneys and all said that relief could be obtained under the present mine statutes.

"Resolved, That the Provo Commercial club co-operate with the Salt Lake Commercial club and with other civic organizations for the demanded reduction in the price of coal and that a committee of five be elected to work to this end."

For Public Utilities.

J. G. Carpenter presented an amendment in motion to amend the favoring of a public utilities commission clause. He stated that the sentiment throughout the state was rapidly growing in favor of such a commission, and declared that ninety per cent of the members of the Salt Lake Commercial club favored the enactment of such a law, while the Weber club has already decided to use in favor of the same.

Mr. Clave objected to the amendment on the grounds that the meeting had decided to consider the mine statutes, and all said that relief could be obtained under the present mine statutes.

"Resolved, That the Provo Commercial club co-operate with the Salt Lake Commercial club and with other civic organizations for the demanded reduction in the price of coal and that a committee of five be elected to work to this end."

MASTERPIECES IN ART

Thirteen-Year-Old Avar Fairbanks
of This City Displays Remarkable
Appetite for Sculpturing.

In the shadows of the great pillars of the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts in New York the slight figure of a mere lad has been seen for many days, studiously copying the masterpieces of group sculpturing, oblivious to his surroundings. It is Avar Fairbanks of Salt Lake, the latest member of that family to develop the artistic temperament. Though but thirteen years old, they say he is destined to add another star to Utah's constellation of famous ones.

Day after day he has haunted the great museum, applying himself to his work with true artistic interest. Soon he intends to go to Boston to enter the Boston art museum and later he will be joined by his brother, J. Leo Fairbanks, who is now an art instructor in Salt Lake's public schools, and together they will tour the art centers of Europe.

J. Leo Fairbanks, the noted Salt Lake artist, has been known to be planning a trip to Europe to study in the old art schools for some time. At the opening of the school year an understanding was effected with the school authorities by which the art supervisor was to receive a leave of absence.

of rented houses in the Mexican quarter reveals the fact that many Mexican families have disappeared.

Battle Lasted Eight Hours.

Mexican City, Dec. 2.—Newspapers received from Chihuahua today state that a Mexican soldier arriving there reported that the government forces last night killed and wounded in the fight at San Andres last Sunday, after which they withdrew to Panadero, where they halted for orders.

According to this version of the battle, which has been reported earlier as resulting in the rout of the revolutionists, the government forces were attacked in the morning by forty rebels. The fighting continued for eight hours, when the soldiers had exhausted their ammunition. The rebels closed in and were met with a bayonet charge, and their bayonets the loyal troops fought their way through the enemy.

The soldiers, however, suffered severely. The insurgent inhabitants of the country refused to give them water or food and in some instances fired on them from the hill tops. Most of them were wounded and suffered severely from hunger and thirst.

The military authorities stated that they suspected that the railroad men along the line of the recent fighting were in collusion with the insurgents. Telegraph operators, they said, had advised the rebels of the movements of the troop trains which were also stopped without orders at points where ambushes had been prepared.

In some cases the trainmen refused to move cars out of the danger zone until compelled to do so at the muzzle of a gun in the hand of an officer.

Money Withdrawn from Banks.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 2.—More than half a million dollars has been withdrawn from the Chihuahua banks and placed on deposit in El Paso within the last week, according to statements of the local bankers. Much of it has been brought here by Mexicans.

Pearson interests at Pearson, Chihuahua, came in last night with his sister and a body of all women, and left the camp about 200 in all, and that the men were prepared for trouble. There were rumors, however, that the Pearson camp was to be attacked again.

Notwithstanding Sheriff Walton of Albino yesterday reported that he and his posse had been unable to find a trace of armed Mexicans in the Terlingua district of Texas, there is much apprehension in that region. W. J. Newson, manager of the Marathon telephone exchange, received a report that armed revolutionists were gathered near the old smelter at the mouth of Terlingua creek. Fifteen armed men are on guard.

Mormons Lack Arms.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 2.—The Mormon colonists at Colonia Dublan are organizing into military companies for the protection of the town, if attacked, but are unable to buy any arms, according to a dispatch to the Herald this morning. The dispatch says Mexicans at Casas Grandes have received arms from the federal government, but have none to spare to the Mormons. The people at Colonia Dublan are still greatly excited. It is asserted, although no revolutionists have come close to the colony.

Flying a White Flag.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Dec. 2.—The peace commission appointed by President Diaz left here tonight to confer with the revolutionists at San Isidro. The revolutionists promised to facilitate the passage of the peace commissioners' special train, which floated a white flag. This is the first time in thirty years that the Mexican government has made such overtures.

For Breakfast Try "Sunkist" Oranges

Luscious Tree-Ripened Fruit

It is not sufficient to know that oranges are the most healthful of all fruits. It is quite as important to know the kind of oranges that are most healthful and most palatable. The very finest California oranges are now packed under the label "Sunkist." Please serve "Sunkist" oranges at breakfast tomorrow and learn the superiority of tree-ripened, seedless, fiberless oranges over the commonplace kind. Don't fail to save the wrapper.

There is so much "meat" and nourishment in "Sunkist" oranges and so little waste that, in addition to their extra fine flavor and goodness, they are really the most economical oranges to buy.

"Sunkist" Lemons Juiciest

Lemons differ as much as oranges. Pithy, thick-skinned lemons contain very little juice. You waste money when you buy them. Please ask for "Sunkist" lemons and note how uniformly sound each one is, and what a small percentage is skin and fiber.

Get This Valuable Orange Spoon

Save 12 "Sunkist" orange (or lemon) wrappers and send them to us, with 12 cents to pay charges, packing, etc., and we will present you with a genuine Rogers Orange Spoon, of beautiful design and highest quality. Begin saving wrappers today. If you desire more than one, send 12 "Sunkist" wrappers and 12 cents for each additional spoon. In remittance, please send one-cent stamps when the amount is less than 4 cents; on amounts above 4 cents, we prefer money order, express order or bank draft. Don't send cash. We will be glad to send you complete list of valuable premiums. We honor both "Sunkist" and "Red Ball" wrappers for premiums.
