LOGAN CACHE COUNTY UTAH SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 6 1913

ELEVENTH YEAR

MORE RAILROAD WORK TO BEGIN

Transit Company to Operate as Far South as Hyrum This Fall Locating Permanent Line to Preston

The Logan Rapid Transit company keeps plugging away and ere long the more important valley towns will be connected with one of the best interurban electric railroad services to be found in the entire country. On Monday the work of constructing the road bed from Providence on to Hyrum will commence and will be pushed with vigor by the West Construction company which has been given the contract for the work. A few days ago an engineering party started the location of the permanent line from Smithfield to Preston. This preliminary work will be completed this fall, plat and charts will be made, proper ties to section corners, etc., will all have been completed before spring opens, when the present plan of northern county extension will be pushed to Preston. The work to Hyrum will be completed sufficiently early this fall that the service to that town will be put into operation before winter is on us.

DAILY MAIL BY CITY CARRIER

City Delivery Service Extended Upon Request of Congressman
Joseph Howell

Upon the request of Congressman Howell, backed by a favorable report of Postmaster Odell, the first assistant postmaster general recently authorized the city delivery of mail service extended to the residents living on Canyon road east of Crockett avenue.

One of the conditions upon which the department granted the extension was that the patrons living in the new territory would provide suitable mail receptacles at their respective residences. This has been done, and new numbers placed upon all of the houses and the people in this portion of our city are now enjoying the benefits of a daily mail service by city carrier.

Huerta is to Resign Presidency of Mexico

Proposes to Retire in Favor of Gen.
Trevino and Become Candidate
at October Polling

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—That Gen. Huerta intends to resign the presidency in favor of Gen. Geronimo Trevino and become a candidate at the October elections, is the statement made tonight by a well known Mexican close to the administration.

Gen. Trevino is making his way to the capital and little effort has been made to disguise the fact that he has been summoned officially. Just how the contemplated succession is to be brought about has not been disclosed. There are persistent rumors of impending changes in the cabinet and it is said that General Trevino is to be made minister of foreign relations in order legally to succeed to the presidency. He was reported to be at (Continued on page eight)

MOARI PEOPLE TO VISIT HERE

A delegation of Moari people will visit in Logan next week, coming to this city Monday from Bear Lake where they have been on an outing. A public meeting is being arranged for by the South Sea Island missionaries and will be held in the tabernacle. The announcement of time and date will be given later. The visitors are representatives of the church school in New Zealand and will be entertained while in the city by both local colleges. They are on an investigating trip to carry back to their own people, educational ideas from the United States.

A GOOD MAN PASSES AWAY

Acute Dilation of the Heart Blots Out
Life of Prominent Cache
Valley Citizen

In the death of James Nelson of College ward who passed away on Thursday night from acute dilation of the heart, Cache county has lost one of her honored and respected citizens, a man who was known everywhere for his good deeds. He has been known as one of College ward's best citizens, having been devoted to his religion to the extent that he has filled two successful missions, one in the Southern States and the other in the Western States, the latter of which he returned home from two years ago.

Mr. Nelson has been troubled for about fifteen years of bladder stones. He finally consented to an operation which was performed on Monday and the patient was recovering nicely till Thursday morning when the complication of heart trouble set in which caused his death.

When a young man, Mr. Nelson was called to Arizona by the church authorities where he gave material assistance in the colonization of that state. He later returned to Cache valley where he has always taken an active part in religious matters as well as in matters pertaining to county, state and national government. He was first counselor to ex-Bishop C. W. Dunn and later was second counselor to Bishop Olsen which position he held up to the time of his death. A family of seven children and a wife survive him. The funeral services will be conducted from the College ward meeting house on Sunday at one o'clock and interment will be in the Logan cemetery.

OPENING OF NEW JERSEY ACADEMY

School Offers an Attractive Home and is Equipped For Efficient School Work

New Jersey Academy will open on Wednesday, September 10. Many improvements have been made in the buildings during the vacation; the library has been materially increased and much equipment added. The school was never able to offer a more attractive home or better equipped for efficient school work.

Former courses of study have been enlarged and several new courses added. The domestic science department will be under the management of an efficient teacher who will devote her whole time to the work. Attention is particularly called to a course in home making that will be offered for the entire year. The subject is broad and admits of combining several subjects which perhaps can later be developed in separate courses as the school grows. The house itself will be studied, its management, convenience, sanitation, etc. The best way of doing the house laundry will be considered and if it seems advisable, lectures on home nursing will be given.

We are also pleased to announce that we can offer our students this year instruction in elocution. The work will be conducted in connection with the English department under the management of Miss Bessie Coats and one period a week will be devoted to this important subject without extra expense. Private lessons and special classes will be arranged for as the demand requires.

A physical culture teacher has been secured for the exercise period. This time will be made one of pleasure as well as profit. Each girl will receive the personal attention of the director and be given exercises best suited to develop her strength and endurance. Those needing corrective work will be given special exercises fitted to their individual needs.

Our grounds provide an excellent tennis court which the girls enjoy very much. Volleyball and catchball keep a number of the more active girls busy, while croquet furnishes sport for others. We also have an excellent out of door basketball court where there will be many exciting interclass games.

United States Troops In Texas Along Mexican Border Ready For Action Moment Call Comes.

Photos by American Press Association.

United States troops along the Mexican border were in readiness for any emergency during the negotiations between President Wilson and Provisional President Huerta of Mexico. In one of these pictures the Eleventh United States cavalry is shown on the march in Texas near the border line. A scene in one of the camps along the border is also shown. American troops have been patrolling the international line now for many months, expecting at any time to be ordered into the troubled country.

MISS POULSON VISITS B. Y. C.

Outlines Her Views on Importance of Physical Education For Girls and the Results to be Obtained

On Tuesday the physical director for women at the Brigham Young College, Miss Laura Poulson, was at the College looking over the situation and making plans for the physical culture courses to be given during the coming school year. Considerable new apparatus, for the exclusive use of women, was ordered and the gymnasium and the dressing rooms will be well equipped for use at the opening of the school. Miss Poulson was well pleased with the prospects and the excellent gymnasium and swimming pool.

When interviewed on the subject of physical education for women, Miss Poulson talked as follows:

The physical education movement which is sweeping the United States, is finding, as every new, big, splendid movement finds, much antagonism and this antagonism centers around the work for girls and women, rather than the work for men and more particularly around athletics for girls. This attitude is due to century old traditions. The man has always worked outside, has always played games, has always been physically active. The older men have always taught the younger how to play, the rules of the game. Owing to this, a high standard of sportsmanship has been reached among men. On the other hand at the time when a girl should be beginning games, she is taught that they are unlady like. She is playing without the approval of the community—a big factor in play. She has always been regarded as helpless as far as the work of the world is concerned. In other words, she has not been free—she has been a victim of conventions. As a result the standards of health among women have been lowered and not only the standards of health among women but the standards of the race itself. It is only recently that women have had any freedom either mentally or physically.

Girls Poor Losers
Girls on the whole, have no idea of sportsmanship—they are poor losers, not because they are dishonest, but merely because they have no idea of civic loyalty. Women have had no hand in the making of laws, therefore they haven't much regard for them. Women can't play a team game because for generations they have not had to co-operate with any one. Women can't see, think and act—they see, act, and then think. To do these things correctly comes instinctively a ball correctly, not because he is superior, but because his ancestral heritage has been superior. My attitude in regard to this is that girls should be just as competent physically as boys, that they should have just as fine perception, co-ordination, co-operation, loyalty and freedom as boys and they are now beginning to have just that.

The end is not that she should be better able to be a "good player," but that she should be a better wife, home maker and a mother. Athletics have increased her socializing influence—she has poise, power, ease, she has the happiness, the contentment, that comes only from the power "to do."

FIRE ENGINE DID GOOD SERVICE

The town clerk of Providence has written a letter to Logan City thanking Mayor Hayball, and all the city officials who so quickly responded to the call for assistance at the fire at Hyrum Fuhrman's barn. The neighboring town appreciates the fact that Logan has such a splendid motor fire engine and to know that its officials are willing to render assistance in case of fire, as they did the night in question. A check was sent by the Providence town board covering the expense of running the engine to their town.

Providence School Opens.—The Providence district school was opened on Monday with a maximum attendance. The opening is three weeks early for the purpose of trying an experiment of early opening of school giving a three weeks vacation in October, best digging season. If the experiment is the success it appears to be, schools in all the towns where it is asked for will be given the early opening next season.

IMPROVEMENT IN CORNER STORE

Interior Appearance Modernized by New Lighting System Which Assists in Showing Large Display of New Stock

The Howell-Cardon company has again added another improvement to the interior of its large department store by installing over head display cases in which has been placed a new lighting system. The purpose of the new cases and the additional electric lights is that, the large display of new stock of fall and winter supplies and ladies furnishings which have recently been unpacked and placed systematically throughout the various compartments of the store, can be shown to the best advantage. The idea is not entirely new with the local firm, for all the largest and best drygoods stores on the coast and in the east are adopting the system. The local institution is simply keeping pace with the latest ideas for displaying their goods so that a customer can see what is in stock and purchase that which she is in the market for. In the new show cases has been arranged as fine a line of silks as one would care to see anywhere.

The ready-to-wear department has been enlarged with thirty more feet of floor space on which has been placed on display a line of dresses and fall and winter coats which have not been shown in the town before, the old stock having been completely disposed of before the new was put on display. Business has begun to move in fine shape at the big store. The altering room is filled with wearing apparel which has been sold to the early purchasers of fall clothing. The management is very optimistic regarding the business outlook in this valley, believing that the fall of 1913 will bring forth one of the best seasons for the business man that has been seen in years.

RETURNS FROM NEW YORK TRIP

Representative of Ogden, Lewiston and Northern Railroad Company Says Finances Have Been Provided

Attorney F. W. Crockett, legal adviser for the Ogden, Lewiston and Northern railroad, has returned from an extended trip to New York City where he completed negotiations for the money whereby actual work on the proposed railroad is to begin in the very near future. Attorney Crockett said yesterday to the Republican representative, just say, "The only thing to be done now is to go ahead and purchase the spikes, ties and rails and order the track laying to begin and the necessary finances to take care of the project are in hand." The company's representative said further that the printer had been ordered to publish the bonds the sale of which has already been made and they will be realized on within 45 days after the printer's ink has dried. All the above sounds very encouraging to an anxious public which will naturally get in and boost the proposition as soon as something tangible is in sight. Everybody is anxious that the local promoters of the proposed road will realize on their efforts to build this road which is estimated to cost about $9,000,000.

OF INTEREST TO ALL PARENTS

At the Sunday School Union meeting on August 17, the supervisors of the Parents department took up the subject of dress, proper and improper, and it was decided to take the subject up with all the Parents classes of the Cache stake.

A committee was appointed and the subject has been carefully considered, and the committee are pleased to learn that this subject is being considered by the Parents classes of Provo, an account of which appeared in the Deseret News and Herald-Republican and we believe it should be inserted in our local papers. It is as follows:

Provo, Sept. 1.—The combined Parents classes of this city have drafted a set of resolutions which they will present to the city commissioners, urging that a law be placed upon the statutes prohibiting the wearing of scanty clothing to appear on the streets of Provo and calling for a general reform in dress. The resolutions passed yesterday are as follows:

Be not the first by whom the new is tried,
Nor yet the last to cast the old aside.

"Since the leaders of our church have cautioned us against excess in dress, and in view of the prevailing fashions, which do not sufficiently cover the body, and therefore are immodest and not sanctioned by the thinking public at large, regardless of creed, we the members of the Parents classes in Provo City Sunday schools unite our efforts to bring about a reform in this direction.

"Therefore, be it resolved, That these fads and fashions are not a creation of our own, nor a creation of necessity to fill a want for suitable clothes, but are forced upon us by manufacturers who are seeking markets for their products by creating new and extreme opposite fads and (Continued on page four)
