

World Events For the Week

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20.

Raymond Robbins, a Democratic national spellbinder, addressed a large gathering of Democrats at Saltair.

Bryan starts on a short speaking tour in the eastern states.

Six children, aged from six months to six years, burned to death in Palouse, Washington.

Gov. Johnson of Minnesota announces that he will accept the Democratic nomination for governor.

The government will commence condemnation proceedings against certain ground around the Federal building in Salt Lake, for the purpose of acquiring more land to enlarge the building.

The Utah Methodists gather in session in Ogden.

Salt Lake Eagles return from Seattle convention. The drill team captured third prize.

Three thousand American marines take part in parade in their honor in Sydney, N. S. W.

Mr. Taft will likely soon take the stump.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21.

In an address delivered at Hot Springs, Ark., Mr. Taft said: "The people have ruled through the Republican party."

Six additional indictments were returned by the grand jury sitting in session in Springfield, Ill., against some of the recent rioters.

A Jewish family exterminated by Russians in the village of Ymrievka, in Yekaterinoslav province.

A squad of thirty-two soldiers assault and outrage a young woman at Camp Crawford, Wyo. Twenty-six of them have been captured.

Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, treasurer of Democratic national committee, states that funds are coming in in fair amounts.

William J. Bryan delivers an address to an immense audience at Des Moines, Ia.

Jos. A. Silver and Lon J. Haddock of Salt Lake will go to Louisville, Ky., to look into the matter of bringing a new $150,000 steel plant to Salt Lake City.

It is expected that woolgrowers from Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah and Nevada will gather at the meeting of woolgrowers to be held in Armory hall, Salt Lake City, Aug. 25.

Senator Reed Smoot will arrive in Utah from his European trip about September 1st.

In the contention for boundary lines between San Pete and Juab counties, State Engineer Tanner decides in favor of San Pete.

Methodists in session in Ogden go on record as in favor of the anti-saloon campaign.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 22.

Nathan Oaks Murphy, former governor of Arizona, died suddenly in San Diego, Calif.

Mr. Taft declared that if elected his first effort will be that of tariff revision.

Weber county Republican convention will be held in Ogden, September 26th.

Provo will have big celebration on Labor day, September 7th.

Cache county will hold its Republican county primaries August 29th.

Robert Eyer, 22 years of age, heir to $2,000,000 steals a $3,100 touring automobile to sell to pay off a girl who had sued him for breach of promise. He wanted to marry another girl.

Izzet Pasha is now living in London, in concealment.

The Injunction Reform League, composed of labor leaders and members, was organized in Chicago.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 23.

Fire has been raging in Constantinople for a number of hours, 1,500 houses have been destroyed.

A number of prominent Italians of Salt Lake met and organized a club, having for its purpose to bring the former citizens of Italy into closer relationship.

Mayor Cook and Sheriff Smalley of Cheyenne, Wyo., put an end to gambling in that city.

A new telegraphic invention exhibited in London, transmits 40,000 words an hour.

Cuba seeks public ownership. The island, it is now believed, is able to care for itself and capable of self-government.

It is now announced that English capital has been enlisted for the purpose of completing the Moffat road from Denver to Salt Lake.

MONDAY, AUGUST 24.

A lone highwayman holds up twelve stages in Yellowstone Park. He secures $2,000 in cash, $10,000 in valuables and several thousands in jewelry.

Two thugs hold up a woman in New York, and after robbing her they throw her under the wheels of an approaching trolley, where she is ground to pieces.

L. P. Judd, clerk of Salt Lake board of education, returns from the East and states that Salt Lake schools are conducted as efficiently and cheaply as any in the East.

W. L. Fitzgerald named as assistant chief of the Salt Lake fire department.

An application is filed with the state engineer for 100,000 acres of land which will be redeemed.

The conference of Utah Methodists which has been in session in Ogden adjourned.

Summit county convention will be held in Coalville, September 3.

Baron Speck Von Sternberg died at Heidelberg, Germany.

Quite a number of termed "Taft Clubs" are springing up all over the state of Utah. Ostensibly of Republican birth, some of them, it seems, were conceived with a spirit of disloyalty to the so-called dominating "bosses" now said to be in control of the Republican machine in the state of Utah. In other words, some of the progenitors of the new clubs have thinly masked their intentions under the name assumed, declaring that it is merely an armor plate of protection to shield the independents in the Republican party. Such assumption on the part of their people may be wrong, but judging from the results so far attained, the report must be true. What is expected to be gained is not at this time apparent. Some of the clubs are going to have candidates; they are going to break slates and crack skulls; they are going to compel the erstwhile high and mighty "bosses" to crawl in the mud of fallen mightiness and kowtow to the new power that has risen. Such moves may be good public policy, but they do not always indicate good judgment. As a friend said to an Irishman, who was toiling laboriously up a hill, struggling with a load of wood, swearing and complaining: "Pat, suppose the top of the hill were Heaven. Would you expect to get there, blaspheming as you do, kicking up the fuss you are?" "O! dunno whether I'd get there," replied Pat, "but I'd raise a — of a rumpus trying." It seems that the Taft clubs are raising a rumpus all right, but whether they will get there or not seems to be the question.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25.

John W. Kern is formally notified of his nomination to the vice-presidency on the Democratic ticket. He makes a lengthy speech on Democracy.

A lone highwayman holds up the Cody-Meeteetse stage near Cody, Wyoming, and gets $1,500 from the passengers. He may be the same bandit that held up the Yellowstone coaches the day before.

Ferdinand Pinney Earle, an artist, who some time ago created something of a sensation by leaving his wife and child in order to live with his soul affinity was lodged in jail today charged with beating his affinity, which goes to show that affinities do not always affine.

The residents of the west side district of Salt Lake City are making contributions to carry on the protest against having the red-light district moved to the west side.

A movement is on foot to have the next G. A. R. encampment convene in this city.

Someone has stolen eleven thousand pounds of lead pipe from the Water Works department. A thorough investigation is to be made by Water Master Thomas Hobday.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26.

More than twenty lives were lost and enormous damage was done to property by floods that are prevailing in western South Carolina and in eastern Georgia.

Efforts are being made by the New York Stock Exchange members to rid Wall Street of its undesirable element, that is, those who speculate beyond their ability to make good.

Tony Pastor, the dean of American Music Halls, died to-night at 10 o'clock.

Bandit who held up Yellowstone Park stage has returned the pocketbook that he took from Mr. Jos. Geoghegan.

Wm. R. Hearst offers another cup to the Irrigation Congress to be given to the State furnishing the best exhibit. It will be remembered that the last trophy given by the Irrigation Congress was won by Utah and is to be seen in the Commercial Club.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 27.

James Pitt, brother of Chief of Police Pitt of this city committed suicide at Goldfield by shooting.

A movement is on foot to have Salt Lake City adopt the Des Moines plan of civic government. This plan has been said to be superior even to the Galveston plan.

Wm. J. Bryan is busy making campaign speeches, he announces a plan for guaranteeing the deposits in National banks.

Denver policemen in a fit of infatuation attempt to lynch a prisoner who had shot a fellow policeman.