

Wild West Show Plans Get Start; City Asked to Help

A wild west show that bids fair to outshine any other similar event will be staged in Ogden this fall, providing plans broached at a meeting of the city commission and prominent business men of the city last night materialize.

It was announced by Otto Meek and B. M. Fox, two well known cattle and horse men of Ogden, that they had raised $10,000 for a three-day show and figured on selling this sum to $15,000 before they finished.

"We will put up a list of prizes that will attract the best riders of the country," said Meek.

Mr. Fox, who was one of the organizers of the Frontier Day celebration at Cheyenne, told the men that as a community asset and investment the wild west show could not be bettered.

"It will bring thousands of people into the city for a week nearly, the merchants will necessarily benefit and the advertising Ogden will get will be of incalculable value."

Others present were A. P. Bigelow, representing the financial interests; O. J. Stilwell, secretary of the Ogden Chamber of Commerce; R. A. Norris, representing the Ogden real estate men; George Glen, president of the Rotary club; Mayor Frank Francis; City Commissioners Chris Flygare and J. Ray Ward.

Mr. Meek's plan was this: "The city is to build a stadium on Monroe park with a quarter mile running track and a field where the riding events could be held. The seating capacity, to assure the backers of sufficient attendance, should be about 7000. When not used for the wild west show the stadium would be available for an athletic park."

The mayor said that the city's present finances would not permit of this plan just as it was outlined by Mr. Meek, but he believed that some way could be found to erect the stadium. "Such a stadium is a vital community need," said the mayor, and by building it now we would anticipate that which we would have to do later on. I am certainly in favor of a wild west show. Ogden has never put on anything big for years as a community and it is opportune that we extend ourselves and let the world know that there is an enterprising city in Utah."

A. P. Bigelow, one of the city's most ardent boosters, said no doubt such a show would benefit the city. Finances could also be arranged, he believed.

George Glen, president of the Ogden Rotary club and member of the committee that staged the Rotary Rodeo in Salt Lake last year, was enthusiastic with enthusiasm. "We can put it over," he said, "and I am convinced that the benefit to accrue will far repay the effort expended."

The other men present were of the same opinion and all agreed that the show should be put on for the publicity it would give Ogden.

Definite steps for the celebration will be further outlined at a meeting of these same men with the city commission Thursday morning.

Danes to Celebrate Return of Schleswig

Friday, July 9, will be celebrated throughout the world by people of Danish descent. The celebration will be observed in America and all persons of Danish descent are urged to fly both the American flag and the Danish flag side by side on that date. The act of the king of Denmark in signing the reincorporation act, which makes the return of Schleswig to Denmark, is the reason for the rejoicing.

Word concerning the event was received here today from the ministry of foreign affairs. The telegram reads as follows:

"The treaty between Denmark and the allies concerning the granting of Schleswig to Denmark was signed at Paris on July 5. The king of Denmark will sign the reincorporation act July 7, which day will be celebrated as 'Genforeningsdag.' On July 19 the king will cross the former border line, and on July 11 a celebration will be held at Dybbøl, and on July 12 a visit will be made to Tønder."

The return of the land which formerly was held by the Germans will be a day of general rejoicing throughout Denmark, as for years the greater part of the population of the district has been of Danish descent.

NEGRO FIGHT CASE OPENED

Trial of John Efferson, Charged With Deadly Assault, Underway.

With the impaneling of a jury this morning in Judge A. W. Agee's division of the district court, the case of the state against John Efferson, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, opened.

In the complaint Efferson, colored, is charged with cutting T. B. Terrell, also colored, with a knife during an altercation at the Union depot May 14, 1919. Depositions taken from witnesses show that the victim of the battle was severely injured.

During the preliminary hearing which was held some time ago, it was shown that Terrell received more than a dozen severe cuts and 122 stitches were necessary to close his wounds. At the time Efferson declared that he was overcome with rage and did not know he was causing damage with his knife.

Both the men were said to have been employees of the railroad and the fight began when they met on the platform at the Union depot. Efferson is said to have had a knife in his hand with which he was whittling a stick of wood when Terrell approached and the fight opened.

POLICE REPORT MADE BY WARD

Interesting Data on Law Enforcements For Past Six Months.

That police officers of Ogden have made an exceptional record during the first six months of J. Ray Ward's administration, from January 1 to June 30, is shown in a recapitulated report submitted this morning by Commissioner Ward to the city commission. One of the best indications of the alertness of the officers and the sternness in which violations of the law are disposed of is shown in the fines and forfeitures for the six months which reaches the surprising total of $12,199, which is exclusive of approximately $300 more obtained in fines from cases turned over to the district court. This additional amount has not yet been included in the report.

As a comparison and indication of department efficiency, it is shown that the total amount of fines and forfeitures obtained during the entire year of 1919, only $12,199, and approximately $14,000. During the first six months of this year the total has already passed the mark by nearly $1000 and indications are that the coming six months will net an equally large amount. This indicates, beyond any argument that the police department is in an extremely healthy condition.

The total number of arrests for the first six months of Commissioner Ward's administration has reached 221. The law violators paid a total of $12,199 into the city treasury and spent 1943 days in the city jail and 519 days in the county jail.

That the officers were thoroughly upheld in their arrests and that when the offenders faced the city judge they met with an inflexible force to protect the city and its citizens is shown when but 430 days were allowed as suspended sentences. But 23 cases are now pending before the court.

Drunkness was ruled with a stern hand and 112 persons were arrested and tried in the city court during the six months. As a result of their escapades they paid heavily and enriched the city treasury to the extent of $4,412. The city drinkers spent 1293 days behind the bars in the city jail, and 99 days in the county jail. Eight of the 112 persons arrested for tipping the bottle to too abrupt an angle were found not guilty and their cases dismissed. Not one of the contraband liquid consumers were allowed suspended sentences.

Some of the most unfortunate citizens without enthusiasm for steady employment steered a wide course from Ogden during the past six months and 43 of them were gathered in by the officers. They paid the city $344 on vagrancy charges and spent 118 days in the city jail. On the other hand these unfortunate who were without employment and without place of rest, and who exhibited their desire to do right by applying at the police station for work and explaining their circumstances to the officers, were taken care of as lodgers. The report shows that 309 needy men were given lodging the night after their cases had been investigated.

Gamblers found the law rigid and 53 of them were landed in the city jail, paying fines and forfeitures totaling $1920 and thirty days in jail. But, four of them were found not guilty of the charges lodged against them, the others paying the extreme penalties.

Fifty-nine juveniles were taken into custody by the officers for various offenses and were turned over to the juvenile court.

MALE AND FEMALE.

An interesting feature of the report is the arrests of persons of various ages, and their sex. Of the 96 juveniles taken into custody, three were girls. Eighteen women and 297 men between the ages of 18 and 25 years were arrested; 130 men and 8 women between 26-27 years; 90 men and 9 women between 28-32 years; 93 men and 8 women between 33-37 years; 49 men and 5 women between 38-42 years; 34 men and 1 woman between 43-47 years; 42 men and 1 woman between 48-52 years; 19 men and 2 women between 53-57 years and 35 men over 57 years of age.

An equally interesting portion of the report is the nationality of the offenders. It was shown that 731 men and 41 women were Americans who ran foul of the law; 11 violators were American colored; 23 Chinese; 5 Danish; 4 English; 40 Greek; 6 Hebrew; 1 Hollander; 7 Irish; 12 Italian; 13 Japanese; 11 Mexican; 1 Russian; 1 Scotch; 2 Syrian; 2 Spanish and 1 Swede. The number of males were 874 and the females 47.

CONSTRUCTION ON WOOL SCOURING PLANT TO START SOON; OFFICIAL IN OGDEN TO GET WORK UNDERWAY

Work on a wool scouring plant which will cost more than $250,000 will be started in Ogden immediately, according to Clifford P. Fell, assistant secretary and treasurer of the United States Wool company, who is here on a business trip.

The plant, which will be located on the site of the old race track near Kanerville, will be the first of the new system, but the manufacturers who have received wool after our treatment are enthusiastic. Because of our ownership of this new process we are meeting with opposition from the old companies, but we feel that our outlook is remarkably bright.

"Manufacturers of knitted woolen goods in the intermountain states have difficulty competing with eastern manufacturers, although the western knitters live in the midst of the wool producing country. This is because nearly all the woolen yarns are made in the east."

"With the construction of our plant here we look to see a plant for producing woolen yarn established on the site directly adjoining us. If woolen yarns can be produced here, then there seems to be no reason why a big business in knitted goods cannot be built up."

"Our people are deeply appreciative of the efforts put forth in our behalf by the Ogden Chamber of Commerce, O. J. Stilwell, H. M. Rowe and Charles Barton. We like the site obtained for us, which we have purchased and we look to the future with confidence."

Sam Jost, Jr., and his family, had been to Bear Lake on an outing. Returning yesterday, Mr. Jost bought some cherries to eat on the way down. One of the children became ill, and Mr. Jost speeded up his automobile to rush the sick child home.

Child Ill; Motorist Speeds Up; Arrested

He was going too fast when he struck the twenty-second street and Washington, according to Motorcycle Officer H. R. Eklund, who was arrested. Due to the extenuating circumstances Judge D. R. Roberts imposed a suspended sentence in the city court this morning.

Prominent Men Concerned

The concern is headed by some of the most prominent men in the west. Governor Shoup of Colorado is one of the directors of the company. Judge H. L. Ritter of Denver is the president. Colonel H. Y. McBride, the inventor of the new process, second vice-president; Colonel Bulkley Wells, president of the American Mining Congress is the chairman of the board of directors, and J. L. Warren is secretary and treasurer. John Byrne of Casper, Wyo., a cattle man of national reputation, is also a director, while Clifford Fell is assistant secretary and treasurer.

The plant when completed will be connected with both the Denver & Rio Grande and Oregon Short Line railroads by the Amalgamated Sugar spur.

If Ogden is unable to accommodate the employees of the concern at the conclusion of the erection of the structures, homes will be established on the company's property for their use, according to Mr. Fell. He said: "I am here to make arrangements with the Wheelwright Construction company for the grading of our site at the old race track on the Hooper road."

This grading of the site will mark the first steps in our plans to erect a scouring plant here. The Philadelphia plant is virtually completed, the test run having proved satisfactory. Plans for the Casper, Wyoming, plant are progressing satisfactorily.

The construction of a scouring plant here should mean much to the community as well as to us. Ogden is in the center of the wool producing district and the location of a plant here is logical.

Abe Lincoln's Farm Along Great Highway

A stone's throw from the Lincoln highway, and just a few miles out of Denison, lies the only piece of ground Abraham Lincoln ever owned, according to the Lincoln Highway Forum. It is rather a poor farm as Iowa farms go, for it is rough and hilly, good only for stock feeding. It is hard to find and he who seeks it must wander around in the hills out of Denison before he locates it.

The farm was deeded to Lincoln for his services in the Black Hawk war, and though he never lived on it, there is reason to believe that he was planning, when public life was over, to return to his Iowa farm and spend the remainder of his days there near the great road which now bears his name, a most adequate memorial to the martyred patriot.—Motor Life.

Hampton's case was scheduled to come before the court July 13, but upon motion of his attorney the case was continued until July 27.
