

CARNIVAL TO ARRIVE HERE TODAY; TO RUSH UNLOADING

The big Clarence A. Wortham shows, which come to Ogden to present the American Legion carnival for the Herman Baker Post No. 9, American Legion, are expected to arrive in this city late this afternoon. The shows will at once start unloading, probably at Becker's spur track, near Twentieth and Lincoln streets, and transferring the caravans of wonders to Lorin Farr Park for their engagement of five days and nights. Safety first has been the byword of the railroad company and the show folk in the long run from Reno, with its maze of grades and curves. The shows are cast-bound after having a most successfully built up a wonderful reputation in California, the northern part of which state they played for the first time this season.

ENGLAND'S RICH WOMEN PRACTICE ECONOMY; SHOPS SUFFER (By International News Service.) LONDON.—Women of means and good social position are radically reducing their expenditures. An exclusive restaurant, catering only to the wealthy class, is said to be running at a loss of over $5,000 per week through the falling off in trade, and the flower shops are feeling the effects of the new "economy." Women are ordering one gown where they used to order three, said a fashionable modiste. "I know of several cases where women who formerly had new gowns for every one of the days at Ascot are only getting one. They will show off the new gown the first day and on the second day will wear cloaks to hide the fact that they are wearing the same gown again."

FATHER OF 17 CRUEL (By International News Service.) SHAMOKIN, Pa.—Charging the father of his seventeen children with cruelty, Mrs. Delmar F. Campbell, forty-six years old, has brought suit for absolute divorce. Fourteen of the Campbell children are living; seven are more than twenty-one and seven are under age.

ACCOUNTING IS ASKED BY MAN

William R. Miller Charges That His Partner "Double-Crossed" Him.

Charging that his partner "double-crossed" him and sold mining property at a large profit without his consent, William R. Miller filed suit today in the district court against John T. Graham. Miller asks that an accounting be made and that Graham be compelled to explain his transactions and divide the profits of the deal.

In his complaint Miller sets forth that prior to February 20, 1920, he had entered into correspondence with W. W. Jones of Toledo, Ohio, for the purchase of mining property near Tyson, Idaho, and had obtained a price. On about the same date, according to the allegations, Mr. Miller entered into an agreement with Mr. Graham with the understanding that Graham was to assist in the promotion of a company to purchase the property. Some of stock was sold, Miller charges, through his and Graham's efforts.

Miller further charges that he believes the defendant went to Idaho and obtained option on the property in his own name and later told the stockholders that the deal had fallen through and tendered return of their money. He then transferred the property to some unknown person for a large amount of money, Miller charges.

He sets forth that the property is worth at least $20,000 and demands that the defendant be compelled to make an accounting of his action and pay him one-half of all profits. Failing to do this, Miller asks that judgment be awarded him for $2750 with interest and court costs.

Naval Athletes to Attend Olympic Games

Fifteen representatives of the western section of the United States navy selected from the Pacific coast naval stations as competitors in the Olympic games were Ogdens visitors for a short time today. The men recently won honors at the trials staged at San Francisco and are expected to show a world class in the games overseas.

Of the entire number twelve were in the service during the world war. One of the members, Howard Scott, a distance runner, is said to be a wizard on his dogs. Scott recently competed in a service meet in the Hawaiian Islands and won the mile in near record time, covering the distance in 4 minutes and 20 2-5 seconds. He is also a half-mile of some repute, having a record of 1 minute 57 2-5 seconds in this event. Scott is expected to be one of the strong representatives of the naval aggregation.

Clarence Huntman, a pole vaulter with a record of 13 feet 2 inches, is also with the party and is expected to bring home honors. The men are under the supervision of Chief Petty Officer Walter Mitchell.

'Bish' Kay Making Good at Washington

Harold "Bish" Kay, former athletic star at the University of Utah and at the Ogden high school, has been promoted four times since he entered the United States service at Washington, according to word received here today. Kay is employed under Senator W. J. King in the department of commerce. He attends the George Washington university in the evenings.

He was recently offered an exceptional position by Senator King in Oklahoma, but declined to accept until he has completed his course at the George Washington university. Kay, while at Ogden high school, was one of the greatest gridiron players in the state and later at the University of Utah made history for himself in all branches of athletics. He is one of the greatest gridiron players that ever donned the mole skin in this state.

Kay will return to Ogden for a short vacation during August, after which he will return to his post at Washington. He is a member of the Utah club at Washington of which several Ogdensites are members.

Ogden Rotarians Take Up Wild West Show

At the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club held at the Weber club today the members went on record in support of the show planned by B. M. Fox, Otto Neek and other Ogden men.

The city officials have pledged their support. Mountain park site is being urged for the show, the facilities of the site being all that are necessary to make such a show a huge success, it is said. A running track with a 100-yard track intact will be installed with the completion of plans and a stand to seat several thousands erected.

The possibilities of the success of such an undertaking were discussed at the meeting by President George Glenn of the Rotary club and O. J. Stille of the Ogden Chamber of Commerce.

No other business was transacted before the meeting.

CAMPAIGN FUND PROBE GOES ON

Committee Learns How Money Is Sent Out From Political Headquarters.

CHICAGO, July 7.—One million dollars with which to further the campaign of Major General Leonard Wood for the Republican nomination was underwritten by a group of New York men a year ago, William Loebl, chief treasurer for Wood, told the senate investigation committee.

Mr. Loebl, former private secretary to Theodore Roosevelt, said he was called into conference with George A. Whelan, Rufus Patterson, Colonel Ambrose Monell, Seth Freeman and others to give his opinion as to what Wood's campaign fund cost.

"I estimated the expense at $1,000,000," he said. "Colonel Monell underwrote $250,000; Mr. Whelan $250,000; Mr. William Cooper Proctor $250,000 and I covered the rest."

Loebl presented check books showing the amounts he received. Senator Reed questioned him concerning an item of "the check book" for $25,000.

CHECKS ARE MAILED Loebl said he mailed such checks under orders of former Postmaster General Hitchcock. One check went to Florida, one to Georgia, one to a Colonel Smith, one to a Republican national committeeman in the District of Columbia and one to Maryland.

These checks were put in envelopes without letters and mailed, the witness said.

When Senator Reed asked if this was not an unusual way to send money Loebl replied: "Not in politics."

A million dollars, Mr. Loebl said at one point, is a small amount for a national campaign. "I want to place it in perspective," he added. "That is not a promise made by the general or his friends to a single contributor."

MONEY FOR CHURCH After Mr. Loebl was questioned by Senator Reed concerning conferences during the Lowden campaign, he was asked to state the cost of the Tabernacle Baptist church in St. Louis. Babler said there had been some feeling against Lowden because of the East St. Louis, Ill., race riot.

"This money was to allow that feeling then," asked Senator Reed. "I had talked with the colored members of this church," Babler said when Senator Reed interrupted to ask: "And you thought this $100 would add force to your argument. It was the persuasive force of greenbacks?"

"I wouldn't say that," the witness rejoined. Babler said he was asked to contribute to the church and also at the same time discussed the campaign with the church members.

MONEY IS RETURNED. Then the contribution and the campaign help you wanted were intimately connected," Senator Reed asked.

"No, but one followed the other." The item was marked "returned to L. E. Emerson" (the Lowden campaign manager), and Senator Reed commented he "supposed" when the colored brethren found out it was political money they returned it, and washed their hands of the whole wicked transaction."

"I suppose so," said Babler. "Colonel Smith, of Columbia, Mo., was listed for $500, also 'returned to L. E. Emerson.' Davis is a professor in Stephens college, Babler said. He declared money was spent 'conscientiously and legitimately.'"

"Even that given the colored church boys and the college professor?" Senator Reed asked.

D. W. Huckelde of Warrenton, Mo., followed Babler on the stand.

CARDS STACKED PINCHOT SAYS

Wall Street Wins No Matter Which Candidate Is Chosen, Liberal Chief Says.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Amos Pinchot, of New York, a member of the committee of 48, which meets here Saturday, in a national convention issued the following statement today: "The Democratic convention held the Republican convention, was highly satisfactory to the men and women of America who want a new party. We could have hoped for nothing more evasive or less calculated to meet the needs of the public either in the matter of the platform or the candidate."

FULL OF SOUND. "The Democratic platform is a decidedly eloquent document that is full of sound and means nothing at all. So is the Republican platform. It has no constructive policy or program. It is the expression of a few politicians who if they had ideas, dared not offend Wall Street by expressing them. It goes on the theory that the public's appetite for buncombe was not fully satisfied by the Republican performance and so it offers another full meal."

As to Mr. Cox, like Mr. Harding, he was chosen because he is a mediocre man whom the financial world and the political machine which the public should pause to admire. The new party will hold its convention in a few days. My advice to the public would be to read its platform carefully, and if it is not clear, brief, practical and constructive to retire to their homes next election day and steer clear of the polls."

COUNTY RECORD IS INCOMPLETE

Fire Years Ago Destroys Books, Ogden Pastor Learns

Fires in years past have burned many old Weber county records, the Rev. John W. Hyslop of the Church of the Good Shepherd discovered when he set about obtaining information desired by a justice of the peace at Stoville, California.

The justice was straightening out some pension papers for an old soldier. He wanted the record of the soldiers' marriages. They are now in the hands of the justice of the peace at Stoville, California.

The Rev. Hyslop could not obtain the facts from the records of the Episcopal church here because those records were burned in the Eccles building fire in 1911, so he went to the court house.

There he was informed that the county records of marriages go back no further than 1887. The destruction of the county court house by fire had destroyed the records.

The Rev. Hyslop was the first rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd here. He officiated from 1870 until he died in 1881. His widow resides at Alameda, Calif. The justice of the peace at Stoville has been referred to Mrs. Hyslop. It is thought he may have the personal register of her late husband and the necessary information can be obtained from this register.
