Popularity comes through an appreciation of Other People's Feelings and an Equal Forgetfulness of Our Own—Not Always the Beauty Who Is the Most Popular—Waists for the Traveler—How to Mark Clothing—How the Traveler May Cut Down Laundry Bill.

To be really popular means also a great deal more than merely having attention. A girl who is not liked by other girls finds her success an ephemeral one.

There is a popular supposition that a beautiful girl is disliked by others less favored, but it is in most cases a fallacy.

Girls are quite as susceptible to the beauty of another—if they like her—as are the men.

The girl who is generally popular with boys is the spontaneous, affable, half fellow sort—the girl who meets half way the topics in which a boy is interested; who is ready to laugh at a joke and take one on herself and good naturedly, who is a good sport and to whom, as a comedian once said, "Life is to laugh."

But the girl with whom the men are more apt to fall in love is she of charming manners, of quick sympathy and of tact.

She is not inevitably the beauty of the belle, but she has the "something" indescribable that quietly and insidiously wins hearts.

Some time ago there was a popular girl of this type exactly—she has now married a prince. She was not pretty and she had no money at all.

The secret of her success was really one of good manners, manners that came from a happy and kindly attitude of mind that looked altruistically outward instead of egotistically inward; in other words, an appreciation of other people's feelings and an equal forgetfulness of her own.

This girl was dark, her features were heavy, in repose her face might easily have been sullen, but she had a friendly expression, a bright, winning smile. If she passed someone she knew she bowed as though the person she was bowing to were the one out of all the world that she was most glad to see. She had also a good memory for faces. She had no vivid traits of personality that attracted men at first sight, but she showed no jealousy of prettier girls who had more attention than she.

She was incapable of meanness; she was always kindly and happy looking; she had remarkable tact.

Naturally everyone who knew her liked her, and consequently when she had been "out" three years not only was she popular alike with men and women, boys and girls, but she had probably more offers of marriage than any girl in town, and while she was becoming an actual belle her more beautiful and less agreeable contemporaries were on the wane.

Waists for the Traveler. Crepe de Chines are popular and practical, as they clean easily. The familiar double frill is still used, as are also narrow frills which outline the front pleats, or follow the side fastenings. They have the button through collar and cuffs, with long shoulder lines. Wash silks have broad or narrow stripes in purple, gray, blue, rose, yellow or brown. Then again any color may be found with a white stripe. All these silks are made in the mannish style. Unlined net and lace waists are also very practical, as they are easily laundered and cool.

TO MARK CLOTHING. To bring the letters up black, when marking clothing with indelible ink, press firmly against the chinney of a lighted lamp or gas globe for a moment. This will do when a hot flat-iron is not convenient.

PRETTY BRASSIERE. A pretty brassiere is made of alternate strips of lace and beading, through which wide ribbon is threaded. Adjustable straps are used for evening wear.

THE LAUNDRY QUESTION. Until one has tried it when planning for an extended trip when economy must be closely considered, it is scarcely realized the extent to which laundry bills may be cut down without personal discomfort. Gauze underwear should be worn, as it can be laundered in one's lodging room. Take a little alcohol lamp provided with a folding water vessel, some washing powder and a cake or two of soap expressly made to wash articles satisfactorily in cold water. Shirts and neckties should be of wash silk, cotton crepe or lightweight wash flannel, and neckwear the kind that is easily laundered.

WANT PRESIDENT TO VISIT CAMP

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Wilson is being urged today to leave the White House for 24 hours and spend that time under canvas with the militia of the District of Columbia. The president's acceptance is based entirely on the condition of his engagement book, for he is heartily in sympathy with the citizen soldiery, according to his friends and before he joined them in camp. The commissioners of the District of Columbia leave tomorrow for the camp of the Washington militiamen and every effort is being made to include the president in the party. The question, so far as Mr. Wilson is concerned, appears to rest with congress and the foreign situation. If these remain quiet, it was said today, the president probably would go.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

(From Woman's Tribune)

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a sea trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness. Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered axolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, 1-2 pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.

CHAUTAUQUA ASSURED A FUTURE

Stockholders of the Utah Chautauqua assembly met last night in the city hall, and by the action taken gave assurance that the institution will be retained in Ogden. Nine new stock certificates were issued at the meeting, making in all forty shares sold and practically eliminating the deficit. Directors were elected by ballot and vacancies were filled by appointment.

Dr. S. W. Wherry, president of the board, presided at the meeting. Dr. E. P. Mills, secretary-treasurer, was present and fulfilled his duties. The stockholders confirmed the appointment of J. C. Cooper to the directorate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. F. V. Fisher, and J. S. Lewis, retiring director, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Dr. E. L. Rich.

Five new directors were elected for three years, as follows: Prof. D. H. Adams, principal of the Central Junior high school Mrs. Geo-gia Marriott, Dr. S. W. Wherry and Angus Kennedy.

Officers will be elected by the directors at a meeting to be held in Dr. Wherry's office Monday night. A committee of three will be appointed to give additional publicity to the Chautauqua. The board was authorized to name a committee of fifteen business men and women to act as an advisory board, and the new board will also decide upon plans for next year and take up the project of combining with Boise, Reno and The Dalles to bring to the west the best Chautauqua attractions.

MISS MACK HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Miss Ada Mack, a member of the Elks excursion party to Yellowstone park, had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday night after the train left Brigham. Miss Mack had left the cars to greet some friends and the train started before she got to her car. Not wishing to be left, she reached for the first car that came, which was one several lengths ahead of the special Ogden cars.

BUSINESS FOR THE COUNTRY

Chicago, Aug. 7.—General business in this country is showing a degree of confidence and courage that is both reassuring and remarkable, in view of the rather strained credit situation abroad. This confidence and courage all through the middle west, and in fact the entire United States, is generally accepted as indicative of a sound business situation. The most striking feature of the advances to the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago, referring to the agricultural prospects and business outlook, is the absence of pessimism in face of a rather high and tight money market.

This is due, no doubt, to the expectation of a bountiful crop production, low stocks of merchandise in the hands of manufacturer and retailer, satisfactory collections, and the well employed labor situation coupled with these has been an encouraging increase in railroad earnings, a development that has helped dispel some of the gloom which has hovered over the railroad situation since the refusal of the interstate commerce commission to grant the transportation companies permission to increase rates to a moderate degree in order to offset the increased cost of operation.

Another encouraging sign has been the heavier exports of grain and other commodities, which have contributed liberally to transportation earnings, and to the building up of a credit balance abroad as a bulwark to our banking situation. Nor does this disposition to facilitate the marketing and exporting of the new crop show signs of abatement. This is slowly contributing toward a reduction of loans at the banks, and of indebtedness in mercantile lines.

For a few months following the big crops of 1912 business was abnormally brisk, but this did not continue long enough to produce an over-extended mercantile condition, and within the last few weeks there has been a healthy retrenchment to a normal volume. Therefore, in general, fundamental business conditions all over the United States are held to be good, the one deterring influence being the money market, which reflects a scarcity of capital and has caused a rather strained credit situation that is world-wide, and becomes acute only when the demand for the greater use of credit and money exceed the ordinary volume. The seasonal preparation for the movement of the crops has already been reflected by interest rates in this country, and while there are no signs of an abatement in the demand for money or an easing in rates, the very fact that everybody is on the alert for signs of abatement. This is slowly contributing toward a reduction of loans at the banks, and of indebtedness in mercantile lines.

Broadly speaking, the crop outlook averages well, and the production from the soil promises at least to be up to the average, in the aggregate. There are always exceptions, due to local conditions and affecting individual crops, but taking the agricultural situation as a whole, the indications point clearly to a general production that will largely offset in value the shortages in individual crops. In addition to the major crops the fruit production promises well in northern states, but lack of moisture has dimmed the prospects of the southwest. The quantity of peaches and apples will be under the average.

Manufacturing as a whole is in good shape. Most concerns have plenty of business, though of course there has been the usual lull in volume months. The lumber industry and mining may be called fair, though somewhat spotted as to locally building operations have proceeded slightly below the ordinary activity, but the industrial situation as a whole seems to be good in fact the correspondence to the Continental and Commercial National bank indicates that manufacturing industries, commercial establishments and agricultural resources of the west were never in a healthier condition, excepting, of course, those lines of trade which depend almost wholly upon the railroads for orders.

FATHER WANTS NAMES OF CHILDREN CORRECT

New York, Aug. 7.—Because his marriage occurred as the result of elopement and he and his wife lived under an assumed name for years to prevent her parents from finding them, Samuel Breuer, head of the mimeographing concern of Samuel Breuer & Son, got permission today from Supreme Court Justice Donnelly to change the name of his children, Robert and Martha, from the assumed name of Werner to Breuer.

Breuer told the court that he was married in Jersey City in 1897 and that fear that his wife's parents would pursue them and take their daughter back home, led them to go to Philadelphia and live under the assumed name.

MRS. E. B. STONE FUNERAL ON THURSDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma B. Stone were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Fourth ward meeting house, with Bishop E. A. Olsen officiating. The speakers were President C. F. Middleton, President John Watson and George Shorten, as well as Bishop Olsen, Ben Critchlow, Rhea Stevens, Mary Jacobs, Elsie Shorten and Mary Farley were the vocalists.

The funeral was largely attended. The Ladies of the Maccabees and Pythian Sisters attended, marching from the house to the meeting house and to the cemetery.

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Compose, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfum, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonic. Adv.

AMERICANS LYNCH MEXICAN OUTLAWS

Mexico City, Aug. 6.—Seventeen Mexicans have paid with their lives for mistreating the daughters of Matthew Gourd, an American farmer, near Tampico last Monday. American farmers participated in the execution of the penalty, according to information, regarded as reliable, received here today.

The Americans, joined by Mexican land owners in the district of Amador, near Tampico, organized a posse and rode into the hills in search of the band of outlaws which tied Gourd and robbed him and afterward offered indignities to two daughters in sight of their helpless father. The band was located and defeated in a fight and several of its members were captured.

The seventeen men killed by the posse included those slain in the fighting and those put to death afterward. Some weeks ago a number of the Mexican land owners joined with the Americans in the formation of a vigilance committee, but this was the first time that the committee had taken the offensive against criminal bands. It is reported that twenty-four women of the Atascadero colony have gone to Tampico as a precautionary move. The government here does not admit yet the truth of the attack upon Mr. Gourd's daughters.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS.

The hours for sprinkling lawns from June 1st to October 1st are as follows:

For all consumers east of Adams avenue (including consumers on Adams avenue), 6 to 8 a. m. and 5 to 6:30 p. m.

For all consumers west of Adams avenue, 8 to 10 a. m. and 6:30 to 8 p. m.

Sprinkling without a nozzle is positively prohibited, and water found running through a hose without a nozzle will be turned off.

In case a fire alarm is sounded all water consumers will immediately shut off all lawn fixtures.

The Water Works Department requests the co-operation of all consumers in the matter of lawn sprinkling, and where only a small lawn is to be watered, expects that only an amount of water necessary for the lawn be used and not allowed to run the entire time of the sprinkling hours when not necessary for the proper care of the lawn.

CLERKS OF PROVO ENJOY EXCURSION.

Provo, Aug. 7.—About 1000 residents of Provo and vicinity attended the Retail Clerks' excursion to Geneva today. An attractive program of games and races with prizes offered by Provo merchants was enjoyed, the day closing with a dance in the big pavilion in the evening.

One of the most interesting of the amusement features was the glove contest between Thaddeus McNeill and J. M. Jones. "Muggsy" and "Slim," who in civil life are suave and sedate clothiers, Jones is six feet four inches in height, and McNeill five feet four inches. Although Jones had a big advantage in reach, he was knocked out by his short but plucky opponent. The knockout was a new departure from the prize fight game, and was struck from behind after Muggsy, who first made a faint of being all in, rushed between "Slim's" legs and with a terrific blow on the back of "Slim's" head brought him to the floor. Sam Schwab, the referee, gave the decision to "Slim" on a foul, however, much to the disappointment of "Muggsy's" friends, who believed their champion ought to have been given the decision because of his headwork.

W. M. Wilson, manager of the resort, was tireless in attending to the comfort and pleasure of his guests, and deserved great credit for the day's success.

RAILROAD MEN ARE THE PALL BEARERS

Funeral services for Sidney C. Thompson, the signal maintainer who was electrocuted near Groome, were held yesterday afternoon in the Riverside meeting house and were attended by so many friends and relatives that the capacity of the building was taxed. Six members of the Southern Pacific signal service acted as pall bearers.

Bishop A. A. Bingham officiated at the services. Besides him the speakers were Bishop Henry Garner, E. A. Larkin, President C. F. Middleton, and Samuel G. Dye. Music was furnished by the ward choir and Henry C. Childs.

DENY STRIKERS ANY ARBITRATION

Boston, Aug. 6.—Two hundred strikers from two Hyde Park manufacturing plants controlled by Governor Eugene N. Foss, stormed the state house today, demanding an immediate hearing of their grievances by the state board of arbitration. Chairman Howland refused to receive the party, explaining that the board was occupied with other matters. The strikers then appealed to Governor Foss, insisting that he order the state board to receive the petitioners at once.

The governor replied that he had no authority in the matter.

The strikers arrived at the south station late in the forenoon and paraded up Beacon Hill. A few young women bearing American flags headed the line. Others carried signs reading: "We want a living wage," "We want justice," "We demand arbitration" and "We are the Foss strikers from Hyde Park."

Statehouse Guarded.

The coming of the men, whose quarrel with the governor has been bitter since they went out several weeks ago, had been heralded, and at the capitol they found policemen stationed at all the entrances. So they halted under the archway.

A moment later a sergeant-at-arms appeared and warned the strikers that they must not block the archway. He added, however, that all who could be vouched for as strikers at the Foss plants would be admitted to the building. The men then filed into the capitol, and a committee of four entered the office of the state board. When Chairman Howland appeared the leader of the delegation said:

"We, the Foss strikers, demand a public hearing."

"It will not be granted," the chairman replied. "We are now considering other matters. Usually when there is a desire for a public hearing those interested show us the courtesy of asking for a formal date."

The committee then withdrew and the strikers marched to a hotel in the vicinity.

EXORBITANT CHARGE BY ONE EXPRESS COMPANY

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 7.—When in 1909 an express company charged Senator Bengt E. Sundberg of Kennedy, Kittson county Minnesota, $32 for carrying a casting worth $2.50 to him from Minneapolis, the company laid a foundation for an expense to the combined express companies of the country of approximately $26,000, 000 per year.

The casting was ordered by telephone from Kennedy to Minneapolis. Sundberg wanted it for his threshing machine and he wanted it in a hurry. When it arrived the express charges made him mad clear through as he explains it, and he swore that he would have revenge. How well he succeeded can only be realized in the order of the interstate commerce commission today, for it was Senator Sundberg who engaged James Mahan, now congressman-at-large from Minnesota, instructing him to bring action before the interstate commerce commission which resulted in today's order.

"Collection of rube stories," replied Farmer Cortossel. "Mother thinks I ought to talk a little dialect to amuse the summer boarders."—Washington Star.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
