WESTERN PIONEER DIES IN GERMANY

Boise, Ida., Oct. 15,-Mrs. R. Z. Johnson arrived here unexpectedly to-day and gave her two sons, leading attorneys, the first news of the death in Germany of their father, one of the foremost citizens of Idaho, who expired September 10 following a paralytic stroke five days before.

This action was in accordance with his dying request to save his sons

Richard Z. Johnson was twice at torney general of Idaho. In the early days of Virginia City he was asso-ciated with the group that included Judge Goodwin of Salt Lake, the Comstockers and others. He came to Ida-ho in 1864. He was 77 years old and of late years had spent most of his time at his villa on Lake Constance, on the Switzerland border.

"BATTLE OF FORT LARAMIE"

There is action in every minute of the headline feature in two parts, "THE BATTLE AT FORT parts, "THE BATTLE AT FORT LARAMIE," which will be seen at Oracle today. The story has been taken from an incident which actually occurred during the frontier days many years ago. Captain. Blackburn, an Army surgeon, incurs the enmity of the medicine man of the Cheyennes when he treats the daughter of the chief. Peace had just been declared between the Cheyennes and their enemies, the Ogallalas. The death of the Indian girl causes the Medicine Man to incite his tribe to wreck vengeance upon the army post. An attack is made which results in the massacre of all the soldiers with the exception Captain Blackburn, who is away at the time, and his sweetheart, Ellen. The latter is saved by Hawk, an Indian whom she has befriended. She leaves a note fas-tened to a post telling Blackburn she has been taken to the Indian camp. Blackburn is later captured by the Cheyennes, but not until he has, through strategy, caused the Ogallala to resume their warfare upon the Cheyennes, Black burn is about to be tortured at the stake when the attack occurs and with Ellen and Hawk makes his

ROAD SPENDS MORE THAN IT EARNS

New York, Oct. 6 .- The New York New Haven and Hartford railroad during the year ending June 30, 1913, terday by Howard Elliott, the new president of the system, explains this deficit and tells what has been done and what is in prospect to meet the adverse criticism of which the railroad lately has been the target President Elliott says that while the earnings for the first few months of the fiscal year were the greatest in the history of the company for a similar period the net results for the year compared with 1912 show a large decrease due to "heavier op-erating expenses, which reflect prin-cipally the expenditures made by the company to put the property and equipment in better condition to handle business safely and promptly, and to pay increased wages."

In further explanation of these figures President Elliott goes on to say:
"The unfortunate accidents at Westport Conn., on October 3, 1912; At Stamford, Conn., on July 12, 1912, and at North Haven, Conn., on September 2, 1913, the continued inves-tigations for several years of the company and its operations, and the resulting demoralization and expenditures, made the year one of unusually heavy outlays.

higher wages."
