

NEXT HOUSE WILL BE REPUBLICAN

New York Reports Complexion of Next Congress on Face of Latest Returns—Senate Still in Doubt and Figures Very Close—Seven States Are Still Doubtful.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Republican has reversed the Democratic control of the house of representatives on the face of incomplete returns up to 3 p. m. today.

At that hour both the Republicans and the Democrats were claiming a majority of the senate. Returns indicated that the membership of this body would be close and possibly a tie, in which event even Vice President Marshall would have the deciding vote. With returns from 17 congressional districts missing, the Republicans apparently had succeeded in filling 225 of the total number, 435 of the seats in the house. The Democrats seemed assured of 191 seats, the Socialists 1 and the Independent 1.

The Democrats had seated 45 senators on the face of the returns up to that time and the Republicans a similar number. Reports from six of the contests which still are incomplete, show returns so far favoring three Democrats and three Republicans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The next house of representatives will be Republican on the face of the latest returns. The political complexion of the senate is still in doubt.

To the house 219 Republicans apparently had been elected and 183 Democrats, together with one Socialist and one Independent. Definite returns from thirty-one districts were missing or in doubt. The 219 Republicans constitute a majority of the house which has 435 seats.

The last state figures were so close as to make it certain that probably not until all the returns were received from seven doubtful states could it be determined whether the Republicans or the Democrats were to control.

The Democrats, according to available returns this afternoon, have 45 seats in the senate and the Republicans 44. No definite results have been announced on contests in Michigan, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon and West Virginia.

Republicans Elected.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—Returns indicate North T. Gentry, Republican, won in the eighth over W. L. Nelson, N. E. Rhodes, Republican, in the 13th, and I. W. McPherson, Republican, in the 15th.

Elkins Is Re-Elected.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 6.—Former United States Senator Elkins, Republican, now with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, will be the next United States senator from West Virginia succeeding Nathan Goff. Elkins was opposed by former United States Senator Clarence W. Watson, Democrat.

NEBRASKA
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 6.—Latest election figures indicate the Republican candidates for congress won in all six of the state's districts except the third and fifth. The vote on congressmen, however, is still incomplete. Additional reports today helped to swell the vote by which United States Senator George W. Norris, Republican, was re-elected to the senate, and S. R. McKelvie, Republican, to the governorship.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 6.—Nebraska voters yesterday approved an amendment to the constitution to prevent all but fully naturalized citizens from voting. Formerly aliens who had declared their intention of becoming citizens were allowed to vote. Returns indicate the amendment carried by a big plurality.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 6.—Congressman C. O. Leboer, Democrat, was defeated for re-election by A. W. Hoffman, Republican. The third and fifth Nebraska districts are still in doubt, returns this afternoon indicate the probable defeat of Dan Stephens, Democrat, by R. E. Evans, Republican, in the third and the probable re-election of Congressman A. C. Shallenberger, Democrat, in the fifth, by a very close margin.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 6.—Incomplete returns compiled by the Lincoln Daily Star, according to an announcement by that newspaper, show Republican congressmen have been elected in all six of the state's districts.

Returns compiled by the Lincoln Daily Star early today, however, gave the Republican candidates in the third and fifth districts slight leads over the Democrats, indicating the Republicans may have made a clean sweep of the congressional contests.

OREGON
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—Re-election of the full Republican state and congressional tickets in Oregon seemed fairly well assured today as slow returns added to the small but consistent margins of incumbents.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—Re-election of Governor James Whitcomb (Republican) and election of Senator Charles L. McNary, (Republican) to the United States senate for the long term seemed certain today on the basis of scattering returns from all parts of Oregon. Representatives McArthur and Sinnott were well ahead and the Republican state ticket as a whole probably was elected. Representative Hawley, Republican, was returned a victor with but little opposition.

SOUTH DAKOTA
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 6.—In complete and widely scattered returns from yesterday's election indicate that the entire Republican congressional and state ticket has been re-elected.

Senator Sterling has a substantial lead over his Democratic opponent, which hardly can be overcome, it is said. In the first congressional district, Charles A. Christopherson has a good lead; in the second Lieutenant Royal C. Johnson seems to have made a sweeping victory. In the third district the returns are so meager that no forecast can be made. The race seems to be close on the face of the returns at hand with the contest between Harry P. Atwater, Republican, and Harry L. Gandy, Democrat.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 6.—Widely scattered figures from Tuesday's election indicate that suffrage has been carried in South Dakota. In Sioux Falls the issue carried two to one and was running ahead in Minnehaha county. Hyde, Brookings and Hanson also voted suffrage.

WASHINGTON
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—Republican gain today in the house seemed likely in Washington today as overnight returns added strength to the indications for the election of J. Stanley Webster, over the Democratic incumbent, C. C. Dill.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—Washington's next delegation to the lower house of congress will be solid Republican, returns today showed. East-ern Washington reports indicated the state's one Democratic representative, C. C. Dill, was defeated by J. Stanley Webster, former state supreme court justice.

The state yesterday definitely put itself in the "bone dry" list by approving a prohibition amendment passed by the last legislature.

MONTANA
HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, continued his lead in the race for the senate from Montana. The returns tabulated from 539 precincts in 149 showed Walsh 26,474; Lanstrum 23,978; Rankin 13,557.

In the first congressional district Congressman John M. Evans, Democrat, incumbent, has a lead of less than 1,000 over Frank B. Linderman, Republican, had a slight lead over Harry B. Mitchell, Democrat, in the votes so far tabulated.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—Chance for a Democratic gain in the house was indicated today by additions to the slow returns showing Harry B. Mitchell, Democrat, leading Carl W. Tid-dick for the seat of Jeanette Rankin, candidate for United States senator. Miss Rankin, however, was running a poor third to Senator Walsh.

MISSOURI
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—With one-third of the district vote tabulated, speaker of the house of representatives, Champ Clark, Democrat, is leading B. H. Dyer, by approximately 10,000 votes, according to unofficial returns up to 9 o'clock this morning.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—Returns received this morning showed that Judge E. H. Spencer, Republican, had been elected United States senator over former Governor Joseph W. Folk, Democrat, by an estimated majority of 30,000; that Speaker Champ Clark has been re-elected and the Missouri has lost three Democratic seats in congress.

GEORGIA
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—The nine southern states east of the Mississippi river, normally Democratic with the exception of two Republican districts in Tennessee and one in Virginia, returned their usual Democratic majorities in yesterday's election, according to latest reports today. All Democratic senators were elected and in the house seventy-six Democrats and three Republicans were returned.

Louisiana refused to grant suffrage to women, the constitutional amendment being defeated by a large majority.

Florida entered the column of "bone dry" states, based on today's figures.

CALIFORNIA
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—California will return to congress at least five Republican members, three Democrats and one Prohibitionist. This much was certain early today as the result of yesterday's election. Contests in two other districts were still undecided. Governor William D. Stephens, Republican, continued to increase his lead over Theodore A. Bell, a Democrat who made the race for governor as an independent candidate.

A Republican lieutenant-governor also appeared to be elected.

The prohibition amendment gained an overnight majority, but its fate is still in doubt as only a small percentage of the votes have been counted.

A liquor regulation amendment and a proposed compulsory health insurance amendment were defeated on the face of incomplete returns.

Honolulu advises state that J. Kuhis Kalliananole, Republican, territorial delegate to congress from the Hawaiian islands, has been re-elected defeating Lincoln J. McCandless, a wealthy sugar planter, who won the Democratic nomination. Kalliananole has served eight consecutive terms in congress.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 6.—Congress: Returns coming in slowly from the seventh congressional district show Barbour, Republican, with a lead of 135 over Hawson, Democrat, in 148 complete precincts out of 711. The vote was Barbour 6962; Hawson 6826.

MICHIGAN
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—Tuesday's election for United States senator in Michigan has narrowed down to a nip and tuck race with Lieutenant Commander Truman H. Newberry, Republican, maintaining a narrow lead over Henry Ford, Democrat.

A careful compilation made by the Associated Press based on returns from practically 75 per cent of the precincts in the state give Newberry 173,193 and Ford 171,377.

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—Eight precincts in St. Clair county, the first reporting in Michigan give: For United States senator: Newberry, Republican, 458; Ford, Democrat, 383.

For governor—Sleeper, Republican, 544; Bailey, Democrat, 298.

Suffrage—Yes, 285; No, 330.

MASSACHUSETTS
BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The Democrats captured a seat in the United States senate from Massachusetts yesterday when former Governor David I. Walsh was elected by a plurality of 18,908 over Senator John W. Weeks. The vote of the state complete was:

Walsh (Democrat) 206,710; Weeks (Republican) 187,802; Thomas W. Lawson (Independent) 22,000.

Lieutenant Governor Calvin Coolidge, Republican, was elected governor by a plurality of 17,147 over Richard H. Long, Democrat.

INDIANA
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—With about half the returns from the state tabulated, the Republican state ticket continues to lead by large majorities. Two congressional districts are in doubt, Republicans having won the others.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—A complete victory for the Republican ticket in Colorado, with the possible exception of Edwin Taylor, Democrat, as congressman from the fourth district, was evident from returns from approximately half the precincts of the state available early this morning. Phipps, Republican, was leading Shafroth, Democrat, by 5,867 in 798 precincts for United States senator, while Shafroth, Republican, for governor, had better than 10,000 margin on Tynan, Democrat.

NEW JERSEY
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—New Jersey Democrats have gained two seats in the house of representatives, according to returns up to noon, although the Republicans elected their candidates for the United States senate, Governor Edge for the long term and Senator Baird for the short term.

KANSAS
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 6.—State Democratic Chairman Murphy this morning stated that the Democrats concede the election of the entire Republican ticket—senator, congressmen and state officers—with the exception of Congressman Ayers of the eighth district. The vote in that district still is considered in doubt by Chairman Murphy.

NEW MEXICO
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 6.—Scattering and incomplete returns indicate election results in New Mexico will be very close. On early returns Senator Fall, Republican, shows a slight lead over W. D. Watson, Democrat, for the senate. Less than half a normal vote has been cast in the state. An accurate estimate of the result will be impossible until late Wednesday.

OKLAHOMA
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 6.—The re-election of United States Senator Robert L. Owen, and a gain of one Democratic congressman, is indicated in returns today from slightly more than one-half of the state.

Returns from 833 precincts in fifty-one counties gave for governor: Robertson (Democrat) 43,121; McKeever (Republican) 37,751.

Suffrage apparently was defeated. House: Oklahoma—Morgan, Hastings, Carter, McKeown, Thompson, Ferris, McClintock.

IOWA
DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 6.—Returns from remote precincts today were expected to decide the close gubernatorial contest in Iowa, which, with 500 of the state's 2343 precincts reported, showed:

Governor W. L. Harding 43,405; Claude R. Porter 43,682.

Republican candidates for congress were elected in every district, unofficial reports showed, while William S. Kenyon, Republican, was returned to the United States senate by a decisive majority.

Meager returns on state offices under governor showed the Republican candidates leading.

DAVID W. GODDARD WRITES FROM FRANCE

David W. Goddard, son of Mrs. Martha Goddard, 540 Twenty-third street, has written a letter to his mother telling of all the interesting occurrences in the past few weeks from a first hand viewpoint. Goddard is a clerk in the aviation section and has been in France since the first opening of activity against the Boche. He has traveled over nearly all of France and visited several sections of the front, where he has been an interested and keen observer of the military operations.

Goddard is remembered as one of the most popular young singers in Ogden. He was a student at the University of Utah when he secured the position in the aviation section.

Tells of Drive
"I know you all are proud of our boys over here," he writes, "for the manner in which they so nobly washed out the San Mihel salient. We were kept busy working at full speed for several days before and after the drive started and while the push was in progress everyone was alive with enthusiasm and confidence in our army. Such hourly or daily news as seeped through by way of Aero Squadron supply officers, was eagerly devoured."

"Now that the first and successful drive launched by the Americans has somewhat subsided everyone is praising our first army and feeling so optimistic about the future. The French people can hardly say enough in expressing their great admiration of the Americans and their recent victory over the Hun."

Welcome Return
"Many of our officers, including those in our office have visited the reconquered section of France. Everywhere the children and women as well as old men, who have been in bondage under Boche dictatorship, for the past 4 years, welcomed the return of the French Polu and also the American soldier. One of our officers told me that the Boche had surely intended to stay there some time as he had visited wonderful summer quarters, well equipped in every modern way, in many of the woods near encampments. (They are ours now.)"

Fine Beer Taken
"I have spoken to several of the boys who were in the thick of it and they told me of the large quantity of good things to eat and drink that they found as the Boche was forced to leave in his flight. At Thiaucourt, one of the provincial towns taken, a large quantity of excellent beer was found. Indeed the boys did justice to the job of putting it under their belts."

"For the moment it is somewhat quiet but it will not remain so for long. Another outbreak is evident."

"The wonderful success of the English in the Holy Land and also in the near east, where English, French, Greeks and Serbians are putting to flight one of Germany's allies, Bulgaria, is truly thrilling."

"The French and English are gradually closing in on San Quentin and its evacuation by the Boche is expected at any time now. Just to prove to you that we are now on our downward path to victory I will quote what General Foch says in today's paper, the 'Daily Mail': 'We have reached the summit of the war and are now going down the slope, perhaps slowly, at first, but it will be like a ball rolling down a hill, which gathers speed as it goes. If our ball shows an inclination to go faster, we'll let it go and help it on.'"

"If the ball keeps on rolling as General Foch states we all hope to see foot on good old U. S. A. by next summer. What a great and glorious feeling it will be. It seems almost too good to be true."

As I Am Written a Large and Powerful Bombing Plane is Passing Overhead, having filled its mission of dropping bombs over some German airfield or city, and now returning to its nest. The sky is dazzling bright tonight with stars and great havoc is probably being wrought by our bombers. As I was returning from the village after securing my papers I stood on the roadside and watched the searchlights, signals and flares, play fantastically along the horizon.

"Occasionally the sky was illuminated by the discharge of a big piece. Such a sight can be seen almost any night while the rumbling of the guns can be heard all day long."

TWO RAILROAD MEN TAKEN INTO JAIL
R. A. Stahr and G. B. Patzel, railroad men of Salt Lake, were arrested by Sergeant Kellihiser on Twenty-fourth between Lincoln and Grant avenue, last night in a drunken condition.

Before Judge Barker this morning Patzel pleaded guilty and Stahr not guilty to the charge. The judge ordered bail to be paid in the amount of $50 in each case for appearance tomorrow morning.

After the case was closed Stahr

Patzel was released on the payment of bail.

ONION A DAY SAVES ILLNESS

According to the statement in the window of a store on Twenty-fifth street near the Union Depot "an onion a day keeps the doctor away."

An encouraging sign of the times, don't you think, when storekeepers take a hand in improving the health conditions of an epidemic stricken city.

Did it strike the proprietor of the store though, that it would be still more true to say that two onions a day will keep everybody away.

Try it on your friends.

SKETCHES OF SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES

Lawrence C. Phipps.
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—Lawrence C. Phipps of Denver, Republican, is a multi-millionaire who made the foundation for his fortune in the Carnegie Steel company. He is a leader in the business life of Colorado and a tireless Red Cross worker.

Phipps was born in Washington county, Pa., Aug. 20, 1862. He began work as one of "Carnegie's boys," holding the place of weigh clerk in a Carnegie steel plant. When he left the company he had risen to the position of a vice president.

Phipps removed to Colorado sixteen years ago. Here he engaged successfully in various commercial and industrial enterprises, including assistance in the upbuilding of the Moffat railroad. He was appointed by President Wilson at the outbreak of the war a member of the national finance committee of the Red Cross. His eldest son, Lawrence, is an officer in the American army.

John F. Shafroth.
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—John F. Shafroth of Denver, Democratic United States senator, has been prominent in Colorado politics for years. He was governor from 1910 to 1913 and a member of the fifty-fourth, fifty-fifth, fifty-sixth and fifty-seventh congresses, representing the Denver district.

Senator Shafroth was born in Fayette, Mo., in 1854. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1875. He is a lawyer. The senator has three children, John F., now in the navy; Morris Shafroth, a lawyer and captain in the army, and William Shafroth, also in the army.

Senator Shafroth was chosen United States senator for Colorado in 1913 by a plurality of 51,311 votes.

Albert B. Fall.
SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 6.—Albert B. Fall of Three Rivers, N. M., United States senator, is an extensive stock raiser in New Mexico. Also he has large farming interests and is a heavy owner in Mexican mining property. Senator Fall was born November 26, 1861, at Frankfort, Ky. He was educated in country schools of Kentucky and read law up to the time he was 20 years old. He practiced law in New Mexico from 1889 to 1904, specializing in Mexican law. Senator Fall has served as a member of the territorial legislature and was a member of the New Mexico constitutional convention. He has been an associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico and twice was chosen attorney general of New Mexico territory. Senator Fall was elected to the United States senate by the legislature in 1912 and drew the term expiring in March, 1913; he was re-elected in June, 1912. His credentials, however, were not signed by the governor and he was again re-elected in January, 1913.

Anne Martin.
RENO, Nev., Nov. 6.—Miss Anne Martin, professor, artist, Socialist, member of the Fabian society and athlete, is credited by her supporters with having won suffrage for the women of Nevada.

She was born in Empire City, Nev., in 1875, and graduated from the Nevada state university and Leland Stanford, Junior, university. She studied at Cambridge, London and Leipzig and after taking a course in art in New York, was professor of history and lecturer on art at the University of Nevada from 1897 to 1903.

While in London she was arrested during the "Black Friday" suffrage demonstration on the steps of the house of parliament. Herbert Hoover, now United States food administrator, gave bail for her release from jail.

From 1892 to 1894 she was woman tennis champion of Nevada. She has won a number of golf tournaments and is known as a "hiker" and horseback rider.

Oscar M. Landstrum.
HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—Physician, publisher, lodge man, and one of the leaders in Montana's Republican politics for years, Dr. Landstrum probably takes more pride and genuine pleasure out of his connection with the newspaper game than any other of his activities.

Dr. Landstrum adjourned politics in the heat of his campaign, offered his services to the state board of health in the fight against influenza and was assigned to a remote district of the state where doctors were scarce. Dr. Landstrum will be 49 years old this month and is a native of Galesburg, Ill. He came to Montana in 1895, a year after his graduation in medicine, and settled at Marysville, a country community near Helena, moving to Helena in 1905. He has served in the Montana state legislature.

Jeannette Rankin.
HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—"Jeannette Rankin, Republican, of Missoula." That is all the congressional directory for the 65th session, when Miss Rankin was a member of the house of representatives, has to say about the first congresswoman of the United States. Miss Rankin was considerably more modest than were other members of that same congress.

Miss Rankin was born in Missoula, Mont. She was elected to congress in 1916, and was a candidate for the United States senate on the new national party ticket. She was defeated in the primaries on August 27 for the Republican nomination by Dr. C. M. Landstrum. She was educated in the public schools of Montana and is a graduate of the University of Montana. The later graduated from the New York school of philanthropy and attended the University of Washington.

William E. Borah.
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 6.—William E. Borah, Republican, was born in Fairfield, Illinois, June 29, 1865. He was educated in the common schools of Wayne county, Illinois, at the Southern Illinois Academy, Enfield, Illinois, and at the Kansas State University. He was married to Mamie McConnell, daughter of former Governor W. J. McConnell of Idaho, April 21, 1895. He was admitted to the bar in 1889, practiced law at Lyons, Kansas, 1890-1, and at Boise, Idaho, since 1891. He received 22 votes for United States senator January 14, 1903, with 26 votes necessary. He was elected senator for the term of 1907-13 and 1913-19. He was a member of the Republican national committee 1908-12.

Frank L. Moore.
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 6.—Frank L. Moore, Democratic nominee for long term senator from Idaho, is a resident of Moscow, and has been a resident of the state 35 years. He is 55 years of age, and was born in Olmsted county, Minn. In 1888 he graduated from University of Michigan. During the last four years he has been practicing attorney of Latah county. He was elected presidential elector from Idaho in 1912. He served in the state legislature in 1900 as senator from Utah county, and for years has been prominent in Idaho politics.

John F. Nugent.
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 6.—John F. Nugent was born at La Grande, Ore., June 23, 1868. He moved with his parents to Silver City, Idaho, when a small child. He was admitted to practice law in 1897 and was county attorney of Owyhee county, Idaho, for two terms. In 1906 he removed to Boise where he has since resided. Nugent was chairman of the Democratic State Central committee of Idaho 1908 to 1912, and was defeated for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in 1914 in the primary by former Governor James H. Hawley. He was appointed United States senator by Governor Alexander, Jan. 22, 1918, to fill vacancy occasioned by the death of James H. Brady and was nominated as the Democratic candidate for United States senator in a state wide primary, September 3, 1918.
