Christmas Greetings

In the various walks of life there is much we can do to enliven and make happy the course of others. One of the means to accomplish this result is to extend a word of good cheer at this holiday time. We are happy to be able to perform this little duty by offering to our numerous friends the kindly greetings of the holiday season.

May your joys be added, friends multiplied, enemies subtracted and hardships divided.

It will also be well for us all to give heed to the needs of our fellowmen and aid and comfort where we can. We are pleased to send our friends the kindly greetings of our heart and wish them all the joy and happiness they can participate in with light hearts and glad souls.
