CENSUS MAY DISCLOSE THERE ARE 40,000 RESIDENTS HERE

When a complete count and record of United States inhabitants has been procured by Uncle Sam, and the pencils of census enumerators have been laid away, what will be the total number of Ogden's inhabitants?

This question is causing considerable interest and a review of the rate of urban growth of the city since the decennial census of 1860 indicates that the population of Ogden, when the census is completed and official figures given out, will be in the neighborhood of 45,000 people.

From 1860 until 1910, Ogden developed from a city of 1464 inhabitants to a community of 25,580. Between the years 1860 and 1870, the town doubled its population, the official figure being 3127. During the next ten years the city developed to a sizable town of 6069 inhabitants.

With the completion of the Union Pacific railroad in 1869, there was added impetus to the growth of the city. The population increased 120 per cent swelling the population to 14,889.

The next ten years, however, apparently were not conducive to the growth of Ogden, the population increasing less than two thousand until 1913. With a total population of 16,313 in 1900, the town again began to develop the earmarks of a real city, and when the 1910 count was taken, it was discovered that Ogden had a population of 25,580, showing the percentage of increase to be about 56 per cent.

Industrial development in varied lines during the past ten years has given rise to great growth to Ogden. It is reported that the development of the canning industry, sugar industry, dairying, and other industries and enterprises of various sorts, have greatly assisted in swelling the population. That practically every habitable dwelling in the city is occupied is evidenced by the number of complaints arising against lack of housing facilities. It is reported that a safe estimate for the population of Ogden at the present time would be about 40,000.

Utah Rapid Transit Company In Delaware

The Utah Rapid Transit company, which operates the Ogden street car system, filed with the county clerk a copy of the articles of incorporation filed in the state of Delaware. Accompanying the articles is a certificate from A. P. Bigelow, president, and Charles H. Barton, secretary, certifying that William A. Whitney is the attorney or agent for the state of Utah for the company.

The articles of the company authorize 10,000 shares, but to commence business with ten shares are issued. They are held by T. L. Crooteau, H. E. Knox and S. E. Dill, all of Wilmington, Delaware. The Corporation Trust Company of America is the resident agent of the company in Wilmington.

Saving Money

Every person who desires to succeed must lay plans for the future. One of the most important stepping stones to success is the accumulation of a reserve fund for the use in time of need. This bank conducts a department under the supervision of the State of Utah, in which interest is paid on Savings in any amount from $1.00 up.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble

Gas and wind in the stomach, accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of so-called "acid indigestion." Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloot right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or bulk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive, and is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

CITIZENS FEAR THAT CENSUS TAKERS ARE ASSESSORS

George Romney, Jr., census supervisor for this district, has called attention to the fact that in many localities enumerators for the census are mistaken for assessors, who are reported to be canvassing territory at present. Mr. Romney has stated that the census enumerators have credentials from the federal government and the data collected by them is kept in closest confidence, no one but government officials having access to the records. Mr. Romney stated that reports of census enumerators having been mistaken for assessors have been received at the census offices. As the census is a government matter, and the census takers are to be paid for their services, it is to be expected that they will be mistaken for assessors. Mr. Romney wishes to impress upon the minds of the people that census enumerators can be distinguished by the fact that they have credentials from the government, and any information regarding personal property which is given them goes directly to Washington, assessors having no access to such reports.

Theatres

"OH, BOY," AT ORPHEUM.
With a plot sufficient to sustain the interest in the theme, bright snappy songs and a wealth of humorous situations, "Oh, Boy," played to a fairly large audience at the Orpheum theater last evening.

The principals are excellently chosen. They are good singers, which is the necessary thing in the success of a good musical comedy. Also, the chorus is excellent. It is composed of unusually pretty girls who have good voices.

"Oh, Boy" will be presented again this afternoon and evening. The role of Jackie Sampson, a musical comedy soubrette, was played by Mrs. Charline Mayfield. She has a very attractive stage personality and her voice is excellent. Ably supported by Harry E. Hoyt, as Jim Marvin, and Roy Guisti as George Budd, this trio furnished the better portion of the show, presenting most of the song hits which have won for "Oh, Boy" its very creditable reputation.

Comedy parts were handled by Jerry McAuliffe as the valet, George J. Williams as the constable, John Westerman as Judge Daniel Carter, Mattie Edwards as Mrs. Carter, Helen DuBois as the Quaker aunt of George Budd, and Billie Cummings as the club waiter.

Miss Marie Dillworth, a dainty and winsome little miss represented the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Daniel Carter and the bride of George Budd. She has a pleasing voice and the song "I Want to Be An Old-Fashioned Wife" was one of the pleasing hits of the show.

There are two scenes—one of a bachelor apartment and one of the main room of a country club. Both are attractive. The costuming throughout is excellent.

There are several humorous situations that arise out of the efforts of a pair of newlyweds to keep their marriage a secret. They endeavor to hide their "crime" in numerous ways and the interfering of the friend of the bridegroom keeps the couple in hot water until the very last.

Ogden Livestock Show Opens Here Tomorrow

Ogden's first livestock show will open to the public tomorrow morning promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Stock from Nebraska, Idaho, Utah, Colorado and Nevada has been received. Some of the most valuable cattle in the entire country will be on exhibition.

Judging will start at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow and will continue throughout the day.

The show will be of three days duration. Friday and Saturday several unique features will be staged, Friday evening the visiting stockmen, their friends, officials of the show and all Ogden will celebrate at an informal Cowboy dance. Saturday evening the show will close with a banquet.

Bus service will be scheduled every 15 minutes during the show.

Binford Selected to Referee Big Match

Following a squabble that almost led to blows, R. C. Evans, assistant secretary of the Ogden Livestock show this afternoon announced that W. C. Binford was selected to referee the wrestling match between Jack Harbertson and Ad Santel at the Alhambra theatre Thursday evening. Evans declared that the selection of Binford was approved by the two wrestlers, the promoter and the Livestock show directors.

Daily Market Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The irregular changes recorded at the opening of today's stock market expressed the decision of speculative interests arising from yesterday's warning of the federal reserve board. Gains and losses were almost evenly balanced, leaders in the advance including the same shares that featured yesterday's rally, mainly steel, copper, textiles and sugars. Oils were the only important issue to display pronounced heaviness, Mexican Petroleum falling four points.

Selling pressure eased in the first hour and leaders, particularly motors, oils and equipments rallied briskly after which dealings dwindled to minor proportions. There was an evident disposition on the part of traders to await the course of developments in the money market, although indications pointed to a continuance of easy money conditions. This was confirmed by the fact that quotations for call money, large amounts being offered at seven per cent for renewals and new loans.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Statements by Herbert Hoover that the great bulk of Ogden's financial needs could be met by ordinary commercial credits were given a bullish construction today by some traders in corn. The market was also depressed by a setback in the value of hogs. In addition, gossip was current that export demand for rye had been satisfied for at least the time being. Opening prices, which ranged from 3/4c decline to a like advance, with May $1.36 1/4 to 1.36 3/4 and July $1.34 3/4 to 1.35 1/4, were followed by slight gains in some cases and then by a downturn all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Oats were governed by the action of corn. After opening 1/4 to 1/2c down, including May at 84 1/2 to 84 3/4, the market rallied a little, and then declined lower than before.

Provisions sympathized with the weakness of the hog market. Ribs, however, were relatively firm. Subsequently, the scantiness of receipts together with complaints of car scarcity led to a slight general advance which, however, failed to last. The close was unsettled 1/4 to 1/2c net lower with May $1.35 1/2 to 1.35 3/4 and July $1.33 3/4 to 1.33 1/2.

Later a rally resulted from grain houses buying.
