

THOUSANDS CHEER FOR GENERAL PERSHING AS LEADER VISITS OGDEN

Famous American Speaks to School Children; Flowers and Signet Ring Presented by Students; Boy Scouts Proud as Net Soldier Reviews Them; Goes to Inspect Fort Douglas, near Salt Lake

General John J. Pershing arrived in Ogden at 10:10 o'clock today in the midst of rain and snow and January thaw. He spoke to 5000 school children and hundreds of citizens at Lester park and departed at 11:10 o'clock for Salt Lake.

Despite adverse weather conditions, thousands of Ogdenses were at the depot and along the streets to welcome General Pershing.

The train on which General Pershing arrived was five minutes late, arriving at 10:15 o'clock. The reception committee of the American Legion, city officials and representatives of other organizations were at the depot gate, and as the general left the car steps he was greeted by Mayor Frank Francis and railroad officials. Mayor Francis introduced General Pershing to the reception committee. Dr. Reinhold Kandler, chairman of the American Legion reception committee, introduced officers of the general's staff to those present.

Greets Ogdens Girl.

One of the first to be greeted by the general was Miss Gladys Rich. While the latter was in France as an entertainer, representing the Women's Federated clubs of this state she appeared before General Pershing on several occasions. He remembered having met her and chatted with her for a moment before proceeding down the line.

After having extended his greetings to the reception committee, General Pershing and a portion of his staff entered an automobile. The remainder of the staff and those serving on the reception committee followed, the parade being led by the Southern Pacific band.

Color Guard Leads.

Immediately in front of the general's car, a color guard, made up of recruiting officers of the army, navy and marine corps, carried the large American Legion flag which was presented to the city of Ogden on Armistice day.

The procession proceeded on Twenty-fifth street to Jefferson avenue, where the parade turned north. Upon arriving in front of the Weber Normal college, the general made his way through the crowd of cheering school children to a stand which had been erected in the park.

General Introduced.

After checking the shouts and cheers of the crowd, the general, General Pershing, introduced General Francis to the school children and others who were present as one of the greatest Americans of the day. When the cheering that greeted his remarks had subsided, the general made a short talk directly to the school children.

"You cannot imagine how you, the boys and girls of Utah and the United States, served as an inspiration to those who were with the American expeditionary forces abroad. It was you who gave them the fortitude and courage and gallantry which was displayed by them overseas.

"The reason for the Yanks being hailed as the best soldiers the world has ever known was because of the training received by them in the public schools of this nation. While attending school they gained above all other things, devotion to their country, an appreciation of necessity of fulfilling a duty and a sense of self-reliance.

Training by Mothers.

"Another factor that made them the soldiers that they were was the training given them at home by their mothers. It was here that the American soldiers learned the lessons which enabled them to go across the Atlantic and perform the feats of daring and bravery which were common to our forces.

"The soldiers from Utah were in many different divisions, but Utah and Ogden should be proud of their sons who represented them on the battle field, for they were among the best soldiers of the American army."

Tribute to Legion.

Regarding the American Legion, General Pershing said: "Your boys have returned and have affiliated themselves with the American Legion, an organization which typifies all

MONA BLODGETT

WASHINGTON—Miss Mona Blodgett, youngest daughter of Mrs. Delos A. Blodgett, and one of the popular younger set of the capital, was presented to society on Christmas afternoon, at the home of her mother.

KING BOOZE TO REIGN UNTIL 12:01 TONIGHT

Liquors Will be Seized After Midnight Hour by Boston Officers

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—The "wakeup" of King Booze here will be as wet as his devotees can make it on the "bring your own liquor" basis but it will not be allowed to spill over the midnight limit set by law.

All drinking must stop at midnight, declared Superintendent of Police Crowley and any liquor found on the tables or in any place in hotels or public places after 12:01 will be seized.

WINE GRAPE SITUATION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—To find use for California wine grapes now that prohibition has been enacted, William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry, and members of the California congressional delegation today asked the appropriations committee for $200,000 to conduct experiments at Ocala and Fresno, Cal. The plans include efforts to transform the product by grafting into suitable table fruit, as well as to seek new industrial uses for grapes. Thousands of acres of vineyards are said to be on land good only for raising the peculiar wine grape, the state's production having ranged from 300,000 to 500,000 tons annually.

TENNESSEE CELEBRATING.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 16.—Mass meetings and parades were held today in many cities of Tennessee to celebrate the advent of national constitutional prohibition.

SPECTACULAR ROBBERIES IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Spectacular robberies marked the early hours of prohibition here. In one six masked men bound the yardmaster and watchman of a railroad, drove six trainmen into a shanty and took between $75,000 and $100,000 worth of whiskey from two box cars.

In the other, several men held a watchman for the Coca Cola company at bay with revolvers and rolled four barrels of alcohol from a warehouse to a waiting automobile truck. Their booty was valued at $5,000.

BURYING JOHN BARLEYCORN.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 16.—Peoria for half a century the greatest distilling center in the world, today along with every one else is helping bury old John Barleycorn, but mourners are chuckling as they help do the job. Predictions of business stagnation because of old John's death are being wrong. Peoria's great distilling plants are being converted into food production mills, more than a million dollars being expended in making the exchange. More men will be employed than ever before. Distillery money is being loaned into other business lines and today Peoria is enjoying a building growth and commercial increase such as it never before has experienced.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Singer's Midgets occupy the principal place on the new bill at the Orpheum this week and the little folks have a dandy act, but there are other fine numbers on the program, also.

The midgets have been to Ogden before and have pleased local patrons and it is because they offer such a varied and entertaining program that the Orpheum is doing such a record business this week.

With new settings, new features but the same well trained animals including elephants, the midgets pleased the kiddies and the grown-ups as well.

Ross Wynn and company, featuring Tony, "Australia's famous midget," presented an act which gave great pleasure. The older members of this number are good singers and dancers, but they are pleased when the little fellow takes the home by storm.

"Number Please" is an entertaining sketch and Al Prince and Retta Bell in "The Holdup" do some singing and tell jokes.

There is a thrill or two in the trick bicycle riding of the Cyrelling Brunettes.

There will be two matinees tomorrow for the benefit of the many boys and girls of Ogden who are eager to see the midgets.

A CHASSIS YOU CAN'T BREAK

And an Engine That Will Put It Anywhere

There you have summed up the Essex. Quite a number of people have wanted to know just how much "rough stuff" the Essex could stand and they have put it through positively unheard-of tests. And in every ordeal it "comes up smiling." It has done things in rough hill climbing, showing a power and speed that has amazed its warmest admirers, and then it has been put on the straight road again and created equal amazement by the undiminished smoothness and delightful riding ease with which it operates. That's the Essex—as we shall be glad to demonstrate to you at any time.

UTAH CANNERS REPLY TO BARNETT ARTICLE IN STANDARD

Editor Ogden Standard. Dear Sir: Referring to article in Thursday evening's Standard headed "Ogden Restaurant Comments on the Canners," signed, R. Barnett:

We have read the article in tonight's Standard very carefully and do not care to make any comment whatever, with exception that if Mr. Barnett or any other gentleman has any proposition for building a hotel that will properly handle a convention such as the Utah Canners' association holds each year in January, as well as other guests of Ogden during the year, we believe that he will find the Weber club block as well as the Weber club block at 1100 per cent.

In regard to our former letter: It is plainly to be understood by any one that the humiliation referred to in our letter was not due to the fact that our guests ate at restaurants or other eating places in this city but to the fact that we invited them to our banquet but were unable to seat them all the banquet where the speeches and entertainments were given.

Yours sincerely for Ogden,
H. D. OLSON, Secretary.

People Killed and Wounded in Strike

ESSEN, Jan. 16.—Several persons have been killed and wounded in disturbances at Duisburg, Steckrade and other towns in the industrial district where twenty thousand miners are striking. The Dusseldorf region has been declared under a strict state of siege.

Troops have intervened at Frankfurt to enforce orders prohibiting an independent Socialist demonstration.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Attempts of radical labor leaders to provoke a general strike today as a protest against the shooting of members of the mob which stormed the reichstag building on Tuesday failed completely. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the inactivity presented its usual aspect. A few of the largest shops where radicals predominate were shut down, but there were no street crowds in the downtown centers.

CHIEF SEA SCOUT AND DIRECTOR TALKS IN ZION

Chief Sea Scout James A. Wilder and Loren W. Boyles, director of the Ogden organization this evening, were honored at Salt Lake last night by members of the Boy Scout organization. Three Ogden representatives, Scout Executive G. A. Goates, Deputy Scout Commissioner Hugh Holdaway and Scout Commissioner Carl E. Peterson, greeted the men.

The two nationally known men in scoutcraft will be the guests of the Ogden organization this evening. They will depart for Berkeley, Cal., tomorrow afternoon where they will attend the national convention January 21 to 24, inclusive.

The telephone girl who listened in while we were giving our wife a calling over the phone will probably be afraid to marry any man. But she should see us talk to our wife to her face. Oh, yes.

At that they could do a lot of good by going over to Germany and showing them, who thought us mercenary before the war, how we are now.

AGED OGDEN PIONEER ANSWERS CALL OF GRIM REAPER

John M. L. Bluth, for over forty years a resident of Ogden, died at his home, 2536 Liberty avenue, this morning at 6:49 of general debility.

He was born in Stockholm, Sweden, September 23, 1855, being over 84 years old at the time of his death. In January, 1878, he became a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and at his death was a member of the high priests quorum of Weber stake. He emigrated from Sweden in the summer of 1877 and settled in Grantsville, Tooele county, removing to Logan and later to Smithfield in April, 1879, but in the fall of that year he came to Ogden where he has since resided. His wife preceded him in death seven years ago this month. He leaves behind him four children, John V. Bluth, Mrs. Mary W. Shreve, Mrs. Anna C. Elnap and G. J. Bluth, all residing in Ogden, and is survived also by seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Until within the last few years he constantly followed his vocation of tailoring.

Funeral services will be held in the Fifth ward meeting house Sunday, January 18, at 12:30 p. m. The body may be viewed at the home Saturday afternoon and Sunday forenoon.

Ultratunams are getting so they are no more than 275.

BRITISH PROMOTER HERE

Charles B. Cochrane, the British fight promoter, who hopes to stage the world's title bout between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, is now in America. In the picture above he is shown presenting Georges Carpentier with the Gant cup, after he had won from Joe Beckett in the London ring.
