REGINALD DE KOVEN. There have been authors who have written many books but whose claim to fame rests upon just one work and there are musicians who are famous for just one composition. Reginald de Koven was one of these. De Koven's fame rests upon his opera "Robin Hood," which contains among other loved songs the popular "O, Promise Me." Nearly everybody over the age of 30 remembers the famous musical organization "The Bostonians." This opera company made itself and de Koven famous through the rendition of the delightful opera, "Robin Hood." It was sung for years in the cities of the United States. The Bostonians sang it in Ogden two or three times. Perhaps the most famous songs of "Robin Hood" are "Brown October Ale" and "O, Promise Me." This latter song, which is heard nearly every place where there is a phonograph, was one of de Koven's first compositions. It was not written for "Robin Hood" but because of the popularity of the song de Koven's friends induced him to give it a place in the opera. De Koven composed other light operas but they were not of the same quality as "Robin Hood." Recently he composed a new opera "Rip Van Winkle" and critics declare that this contains much of the excellence which made "Robin Hood" famous.

A NOVEL SUGGESTION. The recent agitation about the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks recalls a suggestion made two years ago to the writer in Salt Lake by a resident of Farmington. The suggestion was made at the time both Ogden and Salt Lake were struggling with the problem of removing snow and ice in connection with the many storms of the winter of 1917-18. This Farmington man pointed out that the water of Great Salt Lake was not frozen and that the amount of salt held in solution kept it from freezing at usual winter temperatures. He pointed out, further, that salt and salt water will melt snow and ice. He proposed that the city construct a pipe line from the lake to the city and install a pumping plant. Then an auxiliary water system should be constructed to handle the salt water from the lake. In the winter he would use this salt water to flush the streets. He said snow and ice would disappear as if by magic under the effects of the brine. At all times, he pointed out, the salt water system would prove invaluable in a case of fire since salt water is better extinguisher than plain water. The Farmington man pointed out that there was not a great fall between either Salt Lake or Ogden and the lake and that the pumping of the heavy brine was feasible without unusually great expense.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN. Today is Benjamin Franklin's birthday anniversary. Just 114 years ago there was born to a soap maker in Boston a son who was to become one of the most famous of Americans. Franklin is being honored today in a way that would please him. He was a sturdy advocate of thrift and the anniversary of his birth is being made the occasion for launching a national campaign to encourage thrift in this country. Benjamin Franklin, were he alive, would object to any plans which would call for a holiday in celebration of his achievements, but it would be a fine thing if his birthday were made the occasion for encouraging the reading of Franklin's "Autobiography." If every American knew what an interesting book this is, he would read it. Thousands have read and enjoyed the work and have obtained much of value from the plain, straightforward story of Franklin's life as told by himself. Those who are behind the movement for the observance of Thrift Week could do nothing that would be more effective in getting the results desired than to induce every American to read the "Autobiography."

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and it made me good and strong again so that I am able to do all my work. TRAFFIC TROUBLE DEVELOPS WHEN FLIVVER BALKS. C. Chaplin and Family Have Trials in "A Day of Pleasure" at Orpheum Tomorrow. "Thirty Minutes in Laughland" could well be the title of Charlie Chaplin's latest million-dollar picture, distributed by First National Exhibitors' Circuit and entitled "A Day of Pleasure," and which will be seen at the Orpheum theatre, four days, beginning tomorrow. All of the humor of Chaplin's previous successes has been combined in this production, the theme of which is a strong avowal of the fact that often what is intended to be a day's pleasure turns out to be a day of intense labor. Needed—A Self Starter. Charlie's troubles begin when he attempts to crank the family touring car, a remnant of the Dark Ages, and which conveyance might be barred from the more exclusive streets. However, the world's greatest comedian shakes his machine about with all the dignity of the village bank president. The day takes a turn for the comical the minute Chaplin's machine appears at a busy street corner. The car immediately becomes temperamental and even the wiles of the world's famous comedian fail to make it obey the instructions of the traffic cop—much to the amusement of the audience.

HEALTH INSURANCE. Governor Smith of New York urges a health insurance law to protect the workers of New York and their families. He made this recommendation in his address at the opening of the 1920 legislative session. At the same time he said: "There is pressing need for a sound program of social, industrial and governmental betterment which will remove those causes of discontent which true Americanism requires should be eradicated." The passage of a good health insurance law would do much toward removing discontent for there will be discontent among workers so long as the worker does not have peace of mind as to how he shall provide adequate medical care in case of his illness or the illness of members of his family. And the worker does not want to be worried by the fear that his pay stops when he ceases work owing to illness. In some industries wages go on for a reasonable time when the wage earner is incapacitated, but in a great many lines of endeavor the pay stops when the breadwinner is too ill to work. In many cases the debts accumulated during the illness of the breadwinner result in years of financial worry and bring about a state of mind where even the most radical theories and suggestions find a fertile field for development.

Compromise Treaty Voters Head List. NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Advocates of ratification of the peace treaty by compromise headed the poll in the complete returns of the intercollegiate referendum which were made public here. They led by small margin of voters who favored ratification without reservation or amendment. According to the revised figures the referendum was voted upon in 410 colleges and universities and 139,788 votes were cast with the following results: Compromise between the Lodge and Democratic reservations 49,653 votes. Ratification with reservation 48,232 votes. Ratification with the Lodge reservations 27,970 votes. Opposition to the treaty in any form 13,933 votes.

Only One of 474 On Steamer is Rescued. PARIS, Jan. 17.—Georges Metayer of Bordeaux, was the only passenger rescued of the 474 aboard the steamer Afrique when the vessel wrecked last Sunday in the Bay of Biscay. M. Metayer said that many others might have been saved but that they refused to enter the boats as the ship with a hole in her side steamed in a tempest toward land. He described the scenes aboard the vessel when terror-stricken Senegalese prayed while many persons took the matter calmly, believing that sight of the steamer Ceylan which was summoned by wireless, meant safety. Captain Ledu stayed on the bridge to the end, as did the wireless operator, Metzler, who for 24 hours had the receivers to his ears.

Sugar Dealers Refuse to Pay $15.90 a Sack. ROSEBURG, Ore., Jan. 17.—Two of the largest dealers in this city and one restaurant proprietor, refusing to pay the government fixed price of $15.90 a sack for Portland, for sugar, have cancelled orders with wholesalers for nearly twelve tons. The price was declared virtually prohibitive. The dealers alleged they would be compelled to retail the sugar at 18 cents, which they said the people are unable to pay. Retailers declare there is enough of the present supply to last two weeks.

Special Meeting. There will be a special meeting of the Children's Aid Society on Friday, the 16th at 3 p. m., at the dispensary. All members are requested to be present. ELIZABETH SHAW HESS, Secretary.

Steamer Sails With Big Whisky Cargo. BALTIMORE, Jan. 17.—With whisky valued at $5,500,000 by its owners, the shipping board steamer Lake Ellerslie, the third and last of Baltimore's liquor ship sailed for Nassau, Bahama Islands. On board the vessel were 34,667 cases of whisky and wine and 1,860 barrels of liquor just removed from bond. The total value of liquor exported in the last two days is estimated at $12,000,000.

Religious Cult Halts Census Enumerators. DENVER, Jan. 17.—Children of the House of David in Denver today compromised with Roody Kenenah, district supervisor of the census, the agreement marking the close of two busy days on the part of the supervisor and other government officials in trying to affect means of securing street cleaning department and organized the first in the United States. He furthered the cause of education. He invented the Franklin stove. In fact his life was a series of accomplishments in the service of mankind. And not the least of his services was the publishing of "Poor Richard's Almanac," in which he spread broadcast much information of value, including several slogans on thrift.

MUSIC TEACHER IS ENTHUSIASTIC. Miss Cantril Declares Tanlac Is Best Medicine She Ever Heard Of. "I am simply delighted over my wonderful improvement since I began taking Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made by Miss Louise Cantril, popular music teacher of 8405 Elm street, Los Angeles, Cal. "For as long as I can remember my kidneys troubled me and I rarely ever get a good night's rest," she continued. "I lost my appetite completely and what I managed to swallow by sheer force of will would ferment and cause so much gas that my heart would palpitate terribly and at times I came near fainting. I fell off from 120 pounds to 98 and was so nervous and weak I had to give up my work. Medicines and treatments did not do me a bit of good and I lost faith in them. A friend of mine kept insisting that I try Tanlac and to please her I did. Now I can't thank her enough, for the way Tanlac helped me is nothing short of remarkable. My appetite came right back and I eat anything I want without the slightest trouble. My kidneys seem to be in perfect shape and I sleep all night long like a child. I have gained so much in weight and strength and am so happy I don't hesitate to say Tanlac is the best medicine I ever heard of."
