DEATH OVERTAKES

DR. HARRY D. NILES
Eminent Surgeon Dies of Hemorrhage of the Brain at His Home.

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—Dr. Harry D. Niles, an authority on surgery, died at his home, 111 East South Temple street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from hemorrhage of the brain. Notwithstanding the efforts of a number of the most eminent physicians in the state, nothing could be done and the end came peacefully. Frank Niles, his son, who has been residing in Los Angeles, arrived in the city at 12 o'clock, in time to be present at the end. Dr. Niles is survived by his son, Frank, his daughter, Bessie, and his wife, Mrs. A. M. Niles. The funeral arrangements will be announced at a later date.

Dr. Niles was considered an authority on the subject of abdominal surgery, having performed successfully hundreds of operations which to the lay mind bordered on the miraculous. He read a great number of papers dealing with this subject before the meetings of the American Medical society. He was president of the Utah State Medical society and also president of the Utah Surgical society. At the Holy Cross hospital he was chief of the staff of physicians.

Dr. Niles came to Utah twenty-four years ago from Kansas, after having built up a splendid practice in his profession in that state. His success after coming to Utah was immediate, winning by his courteous and kindly treatment all who came under his influence. He received his early education in Pennsylvania, at which place he also entered the university and began the study of medicine. He specialized on surgery and became one of the most expert surgeons in the college long before he had received his degree. He was the author of many authoritative works on surgery, being not only an expert in the practice, but a leader in theoretical surgery.

Among the medical profession Dr. Niles was held in the highest esteem, having made hosts of friends since his arrival in Utah, who will be shocked to learn of his death. Dr. Niles was 54 years of age.

MISS EMMA GOLDMAN

NOT ALLOWED TO SPEAK
Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Emma Goldman did not speak at Odd Fellows hall last night. Between her and the rostrum, the law, represented by two hundred policemen, obstructed itself. Those who managed the meeting succeeded in getting Voltaire de Cleyre, "Philadelphia Emma Goldman," into the hall. She made the speech that Miss Goldman was expected to make.

Visitor From Logan.—R. W. Ashworth, a prominent politician and business man of Logan, is an Ogden visitor.

MRS. ROCKEFELLER

SERIOUSLY ILL.
Cleveland, Sept. 22.—It became known last night that the "slight cold" that is confining Mrs. John D. Rockefeller to her home in Forest Hill is a much more serious ailment. Mrs. Harold A. McCormick is at her mother's bedside, having been summoned from Chicago by long-distance telephone last Sunday.

SALT LAKE AND STATE NEWS

RATE HEARING IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake City, Sept. 22.—Another day of technical routine, during which testimony of traffic experts was brought in, and the hearing effort to supply added impetus to the vast array of statistical tables and exhibits which have served as the basis of contention for the defendant parties brought to a close tonight the hearing of the local traffic bureau's rate case, which has been presided over by Interstate Commerce Commissioners Clark and Proby.

In the last hours of the hearing, public interest had receded to the lowest ebb, and at the time of the adjournment less than a score of persons were in the court room.

Practically the entire session today was occupied with the defense presented on behalf of the Denver & Rio Grande, Rock Island and Missouri Pacific companies by their respective counsel. For the Rio Grande, the essential statements of the defense were those relating to the physical disadvantages of the mountain lines and the heavy expenses of operation. James C. Gwyn, chief engineer of the Rio Grande, and Major S. K. Hooper, general passenger agent, sustained the brunt of the severe cross examination of Stephen M. Babcock, who conducted the hearing for the complainants. Mr. Hooper was followed on the stand by General Freight Agent Frieveland, whose talk bore on local conditions.

Only one witness appeared for the Rock Island.—S. H. Johnson, assistant freight traffic manager for the system. He testified under the direction of Attorney A. B. Pierce.

With the testimony of E. C. McPherson, assistant general manager of the Missouri Pacific, who corroborated the statement of E. Boyd, assistant vice president, the record for the defendant companies in the case was followed by a brief talk as to details of submission of briefs and other trial matters, at the conclusion of which Commissioner Clark announced an adjournment of the hearing until October 23. On this date, Mr. Clark said, a two days' hearing will be given for the final summing up by counsel. It was the opinion of Commissioner Clark that three and perhaps four members of the commission would attend the final hearing.

PLAN CHANGES ON THE RIO GRANDE

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—After years of rumors which failed to materialize, a real shakeup on the Denver & Rio Grande is in the air. It will affect only the highest officials, excepting the operating department, where as clean a sweep as possible is to be made.

The principal cause of the intended changes is the great addition to expenses caused by accidents. It is not denied by the officials, however, that within the last few years the Rio Grande has paid more claims for deaths, injuries and loss of baggage than any other railroad in the world. Added to this the expense of feeding passengers during the almost continuous winter months has convinced the officials behind the road that a radical change is necessary.

It is also said there will be some changes in the Missouri Pacific and possibly in the Wabash, but those changes have not been mapped out as definitely as the Denver & Rio Grande changes.

Information of the shakeup comes directly from persons closely identified with the Denver offices and in this connection Major S. K. Hooper, the general passenger agent's statement to a Salt Lake friend, "I'm almost ready to retire," has an added significance.

It is said now, and generally accepted as true, that Standard Oil interests will furnish a large part of an improvement fund and that the Denver & Rio Grande will be made a block system as soon as possible. Money will be spared to make the road safe and popular. According to the best knowledge obtainable about the contemplated changes, they will affect general officers. All above the rank of city passenger agent are expected to resign, and in the operating department the change will even affect the foremen in the shops. Major S. K. Hooper, general passenger agent at Denver, before he left for home yesterday refused to discuss the proposed changes.

SHARP REBUKE GIVEN TO COLONEL STERRETT

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—The local executive committee of the forty-third national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic met yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club and drafted an address to the public, in which earnest thanks are extended to all citizens for their loyal aid, and in which the actions of Colonel Frank M. Sterrett, executive director, are characterized as disloyal and discourteous.

Following is the address:
"We, the undersigned, take this method of extending to the people of the state of Utah, our most earnest thanks for their loyal aid and support during the many months that have elapsed since the inauguration of our work.

"We congratulate our citizens upon the success of the encampment as witnessed by the widespread and lavish commendations coming from all portions of the United States, and from all classes of people, and particularly by the resolutions adopted unanimously by the encampment at the closing session of the official meeting. "It is gratifying to us, as it doubtless is to all our people, to learn by actual and satisfactory demonstrations that Salt Lake City is abundantly able to properly handle the largest public gatherings that are held in the United States, and that our citizens always prove equal to the demands, however great they may be, that are made upon their hospitality.

"We regret that it is impracticable for us to give due honor to each individual who gave personal aid of money or time to the success of the encampment. This aid was rendered cheerfully by men, women and children, old and young, rich and poor alike, its extent being limited only by the boundaries of the state.

CROPS WE GROW IN MEXICO

CORN. Two crops per year, first crop 60 bushels, second crop 40 bushels, very little cultivation. Sells for $1.00 per bushel.

RICE. Without irrigation clearing $100.00 per acre per year.

TOBACCO. As fine as can be grown in Cuba, yielding great profit.

PINEAPPLES. Weighing from eight to ten pounds each.

SUGAR CANE. Forty and fifty tons per acre, worth $4.50 silver, per ton.

BANANAS. As fine as grown in the world, $100.00 to $150.00 per acre.

FATTENING GRASS. One acre will fatten two head of stock.

VEGETABLES. All kinds grow every month in the year.

ORANGES. This is the home of the oranges, lemons, limes, tangerines, grape fruit, papay and mangoes.

A soft, balmy breeze blowing over the Isthmus constantly; no excessive heat; no sudden changes; no tuberculosis; no bronchitis; no hay fever; no pulmonary diseases. Many are now locating there for their health, and receiving great benefit.

CACAO. Or chocolate, the most valuable crop grown in the world.

COFFEE. No finer coffee plantation can be found in the world than here, commences to bear at four years.

RUBBER. This is the natural home of rubber. A rubber grove is better than a gold mine, our lands are especially adapted to growing this most valuable product.

Space forbids the naming of the great varieties of products grown here.

An abundance of rainfall—no irrigation needed. A land of constant spring time, no frosts, no droughts, no hail storms, no blizzards, no cyclones, no wind storms. A land where flowers are in bloom every day in the year.

A fine well equipped railroad runs directly through our lands; you step off a Pullman car on our lands. Transportation facilities are unsurpassed.

incurred. The fact that the great encampment was held here, and that it was happily conducted, placed the state and the city in the limelight of the most desirable publicity which ever the English language is read, the lessons in patriotism and devotion to the flag, taught by the presence among us of the aged and war-worn survivors of the Civil war, can but prove of incalculable and far-reaching benefit.

The only discord discoverable in the history of the event is found in the disappointment experienced by us because of the disloyalty, dishonesty, bad taste, discourtesy, nepotism and loose business methods of F. M. Sterrett, the executive director, whose selection for the important post was made necessary by reason of the insistence of many of the most prominent members, nationally, of the Grand Army of the Republic. In view, however, of the splendid success of the encampment from all standpoints of interest, we are of the opinion that the unpleasant incident of his residence among us for more than eight months may very well and wisely be forgotten.

"Very respectfully, the executive committee, forty-third national encampment Grand Army of the Republic, by

"JOHN S. BRANSFORD, Chairman
"FISHER HARRIS, Secretary."

DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE TO WELCOME HARMON

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—In James H. Moyle's office last evening a Democratic club was organized to take part in the campaign work and to welcome Judson Harmon, governor of Ohio, when he comes to Salt Lake. Officers elected to serve the club one year are: J. H. Moyle, president; John Derr, first vice president; W. R. Wallace, second vice president; R. P. Morris, treasurer; G. D. Adler, secretary. The officers are also directors.

The following were elected to the board of directors: H. J. Hayward, M.

F. Cunningham, W. H. Dale, Byron Groo, B. T. Lloyd, T. H. Fitzgerald, R. S. Wells, Joseph Kimball, S. A. King and J. R. Letcher.

A committee to select quarters was appointed as follows: J. H. Moyle, M. F. Cunningham, J. R. Letcher and J. S. Hyde. They are to report at the next meeting Friday in Judge Moyle's office.

MILITARY RESERVATION TO BE OPEN TO SETTLERS

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—Notice has been given at the United States land office that two fractional township plats have been received from the United States surveyor general for Utah, the plats being township 4 south, range 5 west, Salt Lake meridian, and township 5 south, range 5 west, Salt Lake meridian.

The plats will be filed October 25. The land is the Rush Lake valley abandoned military reservation which will be open to applications under the act of congress 23, 1894.

THREE UNHAPPY WIVES ASK FOR SEPARATION

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Annie B. Bird says she is getting tired of William H. Bird's habit of chasing her with knives, axes and shovels and threatening her life and in the Third District court Tuesday she began suit for divorce.

Mrs. Bird says that on Aug. 10, last Bird drew a knife and threatened to kill both her and the children. On Aug. 11, the next day, he seized an axe and a shovel and when she fled he gave chase, repeating his threats of death against her and the children.

Mrs. Bird says.

With the divorce Mrs. Bird asks for the custody of the six children, ranging in age from 3 to 15 years, the title to two pieces of property in section 25, township 2 south, range 1 east and range 1 west, and costs. They were married here May 6, 1889.

Alleging non-support for the last year Mrs. Jessie M. Freeland made application for divorce from L. E. Freeland. They were married at Ames, Iowa, the last day of the year 1895. There are no children and no alimony is asked.

Desertion two years ago is Mrs. Agnes L. Cawley's charge against Francis L. Cawley and with the divorce she demands the restoration of her maiden name of Appell. They were married here March 12, 1903. There are no children.

NATIONAL COPPER BANK IS LATEST

Charter Is Issued for Another Big Financial Institution in Salt Lake.

Salt Lake, Sept. 22.—With the approval of Comptroller of the Currency Murray, Tuesday, of the application of a number of prominent business men of this city, for a charter for a national bank, first steps were completed for the organization of a new financial institution with a capital of $500,000 to be known as the National Copper Bank of Salt Lake.

The application mentions only the five names required by law, and includes W. W. Armstrong, P. J. Moran, Lafayette Hanchett, John Derr and Duncan MacVieche. The bank will have a surplus of $50,000.

Matters connected with the organization of the institution have been under consideration for some time, and it is known that a number of the most prominent business men of the city are associated in the movement.

When asked about the matter Tuesday night, Mr. Armstrong explained that the approval of the application for a charter was only the preliminary step in the organization and that a meeting of the stockholders would be necessary to arrange final details. It is presumed that the new institution will occupy the handsome new banking room in the Newhouse building, but this could not be confirmed as the gentlemen mentioned in the application all insisted that no arrangements had been made, and that nothing could be done until after the meeting of the stockholders.

The names mentioned in the application, however, assure a strong backing for the institution. The capital of $500,000 is the largest of any bank in the city with the exception of the Deseret National bank.

The name of the institution also suggests that the institution will handle financial matters connected with the mining interests. In fact, the association of Messrs. Armstrong, Hanchett, Derr and MacVieche also suggests this.

The organization of the new institution will mean the establishment of another strong national bank here, the others being, the Continental National, the Deseret National, the National Bank of the Republic and the Utah National bank.

Other banks of the city number nine, as follows: McCormick & Co., and Walker Bros., private banks; The State Bank of Utah, The Merchants' bank, The Utah Commercial & Savings, The Utah Savings & Trust company, The Salt Lake Security & Trust company, and the two strictly savings banks of the city, the Deseret Savings, and the Zion's Savings Bank & Trust company. With the establishment of the new Copper National bank, the financial institutions here will number fourteen.
