SPECTACLE

Williams Bay, Wis., May 19.—Shat-tering all scientific calculations and completely puzzling astronomers, the glowing tail of Halley's comet appeared in the eastern sky today at a time when the world's comet author ities had agreed it would be in the west. Such eminent astronomers as Prof. S. A. Mitchell of Columbia university, New York, Prof. Edwin B. Frost, head of the Yerkes observatory staff, and Prof. Edward Barnard of the University of Chicago, all agree that the light they saw in the east was the comet's taff. No adequate explanation however, is forth. quate explanation, however, is forthcoming. Prof. Mitchell, Prof. Frost and Prof. Barnard say that any of the following three explanations may be

First-The curvature of the comet's tail first discovered and noted by Prof. Barnard on Tuesday night, may have developed to a wholly unexpect-ed degree, while the head of the comet had passed the earth on schedule time.

Second—Like Borelli's comet of 1903, Halley's comet may have ceased its tail-making activity, cutting off the glowing fan that is now puzzling

Third-It is possible that all calculations are wrong and that the comet has not yet passed the earth.

As nearly as could be computed, the period of the appearance of the comet's tall in the east extended from 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night to 3:30 o'clock this morning. It was still plainly visible at a time when the astronomers were confident the earth would have completely passed through the tall. After leaving his telescope at daybreak, Prof. Frost issued the following:

"Greater than all theories and computations are the facts, and the fact is that the tall of Halley's comet has been appearing in the east in practically the same position as it appeared yesterday morning. There is no question about that, The tail which glowed from the horizon close to the milky way from before midnight until before dawn, has not yet passed across the earth. This is a certainty. In addition, it is also cerpassed across the earth. This is a certainty. In addition, it is also certain that there is no material dimuni-tion in the size of the tail as com-pared with the tail of the day before. pared with the tail of the day before.

"We are confident that the calculations for the passage of the head of the comet between the sun and the earth are correct. Unquestioned astronomical authorities, working independently of each other in all parts of the world, arrived at these calculations, which have been corrected in detail over since the comet passed detail ever since the comet passed Venus on May 2nd.

"We are also confident that the head of the comet made the transit as per schedule, but the importance of the tall in the east this morning is a real purely. morning is a great puzzle. It cannot be explained satisfactorily at this time."

Washington, May 19.—Professor Asaph Hall of the Naval observatory, said, at 4 o'clock this morning, that the earth would not pass through the tail of Halley's comet until some time

From 2 o'clock this morning until dawn, said Professor Hill, there was visible in the east, extending from the northeast in a southerly direction, the dim beam light of the comet's tall. As the moon descended west ward, the shaft athwart the heavens plainer and was easily visible to the naked eye.

Astronomers Agree.
Mount Wilson Observatory, Pasade

na, Cal., May 19.—"Dr. Henry N. Russell is an authority whose views are entitled to consideration," said Dr. E. A. Fath of the observatory corps here, when informed early this morning of he Princeton astronomer's assertion that the earth has not yet passed through the comet's tall.

"I quite agree with him in regard to the curvature of the tail of the comet. Of more than that we are not absolutely certain at this time. Be-cause of the strong moonlight which has prevailed all night, we have been unable to detect anything." At 2 o'clock this morning, Pacific coast time, Prof. E. A. Fath, who has been conducting the observations during the night, made the following statement The tail of Halley's comet is this morning apparently in the same po-sition in regard to the earth as it was at the same time yesterday morning This would indicate that the earth of the tail. If we are in the tail at all, it is probably on the far our observations have shown no special aurora lights, nor have any meteors been observed."

May Miss the Tail.
San Jose, Cal., May 19.—According to Dr. Campbell of the Lick Observatory, there is a possibility that the earth may not pass through the com et's tail after all. In a statement is sued shortly after midnight, he said:

"The tall was visible as soon as he moon set. It is probable that we shall miss passing through the tail to-night because it is lagging by several million miles. The comet's orbit is inclined to an angle with the earth's orbit and it is probable we shall not pass through the tail at all."

Joe Choynski, with Halley's comet as a text, is reported to have dis-coursed learnedly on the elevating subject of astronomy in pursuance of the aesthetic uplift movement that he threatened some time ago to inject into Jeffries' training operations. If Jeffries was edified by Joe's soaring disquisition, he did not let on. His rumored comment was, "Shut Motoring home, the party kept a sharp lookout aloft for the comet. Bob Armstrong, the big negro who acts as one of Jeffries' sparring partners, has no particular use for comets, and he kept his rabbit's foot behind his loft car.

It was noticed that Farmer Burns was unusually silent and that his commonly serene brow was puckered and corrugated as if by intense cogitation

'What's the matter with Farmer?" some one inquired.
"Me? Oh!" stuttered Burns, coming out of his abstraction; and then, "Say, fellows, what makes a comet's tail?"

Choynski was framing a scholarly answer, but a general "What?" chorus cut him off.

"Because the comet," said Burns,
"is 400,000,000 years old. That's why it's stale."

RADICAL CHANGE IN FIRE LAWS

New York, May 19 .- A letter sent by a grocer's boy to Mayor Gaynor, may result in radical changes in the laws for protection against fires in tenements. The letter calls attention to the fact that 75 per cent of the fires in New York City begin in cellars.

The grocer's boy says that most cel-lars are so dark that the deliverymen must light matches and pieces of pa-per to find their way about. He suggests that janitors be required to keep the cellars adequately lighted and that frequent inspections be made to see that no rubbish be allowed to col-lect where a little carelessnjess on the part of the delivery boy might cause fire.

Both the mayor and the fire commissioner regarded the suggestions in the letter as excellent and said that new rules for cellars might be recommended as a result.

OGDEN VACATION SCHOOL

NINE WEEKS, BEGINNING JUNE 1ST. CLOSING AUGUST 3RD. Conducted by: R. H. PALMER, A. M.; G. F. ROACH, M. Acets., Certificated Teacher of Gregg Shorthand.

COURSES OFFERED.

FOR GRADE STUDENTS.—This course is designed for the younger grade students who need individual attention to start them in their studies. It is very often the case when starting a new subject that a young student fails to understand or grasp the idea or the nature of the subject at hand and owing to the large classes the t eacher is unable to give the required individual attention, hence, a failure results. This course in which the size of the classes will be limited is designed to meet just these conditions.

FOR SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADE STUDENTS.—This course includes the regular seventh and eighth grade work and is plan ned to meet the needs of those who are behind in one or more studies. It is of special interest to those who desire to enter the High School in September but lack a few credit.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS .- First, for those who wish a special coaching in subjects in which they have failed. Second, for those who anticipate heavy work during their remaining High School course and wish to secure necessary credits now. Third, for High School Graduates who wish coaching for entrance to college.

FOR COMMERCIAL STUDENTS.—This course includes Typewriting, Penmanship, Stenography and Bookkeeping. It is designed to meet the requirements of those commercial students who did not complete their year's work, and of others who desire to do extra work along commercial lines, also students who desire some practical office work before ac-TUITION .- The tuition fee is $15.00 for the term of nine weeks. Registration May 30th and 31st at office of Ogden High School. Recitations begin June 1st.
