Big Battle-Ship Oregon About to Be Sent to Hawaii.

ONLY A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE.

Japan Will Again Protest.

PHILADEIPHIA AND MARION TO BE RELIEVED.

Gravity of the Annexation Ques tion Suggests Preparations for Emergencies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12 .- Recognizing the gravity of Japan's attitude on the Hawaiian annexation question the administration has decided to send the big battle-ship Oregon to Honolulu to relieve the cruiser Philadelphia and the old corvette Marion, both of which need renovation. Orders were issued at the Navy go to Honolulu by steamer, leaving San Francisco on July 17. The Philadelphia is in a very unserviceable condition in consequence of long anchoring in semi-tropical waters, and therefore it is necessary to get her back to the United States. The Philadelphia will remain at Honolulu, however, until the Oregon arrives a piece of muslin with a narrow hem at a pair of men's cheap flannel underdrawers, a piece of muslin with a narrow hem at lulu, however, until the Oregon arrives and perhaps longer.

It had been intended for some time to send the cruiser Baltimore to Hawaii, but the repairs required will take longer than die a secret until they had a chance to the repairs required will take longer than first estimated, and the probabilities are that she will not be ready for sea service until October. But this unexpected post-ponement of her assignment to the islands has served a good purpose in allowing the Navy Department to send the Oregon, one of the most formidable ships in the service without giving Janan an opport. service, without giving Japan an opportunity for construing the act into a dis-play of unfriendliness on our part. It is not customary to send battle-ships to Acapulco, Mexico, 1800 miles, and the voyage demonstrated the excellence of her sea-going qualities. While Japan cannot consistently object to the disposition of our naval vessels, it has been not an uncommon occurrence in diplomacy for one nation to construe the presence of a warship or an unusual display of naval strength by another nation at a port in which both have vital interests as an act to be viewed with concern, and information to that effect has been frequently conveyed to the Government of the offending country. If Japan should send a like intimation to this Government it would be met by the explanation that the Oregon is the only vessel available. The Oregon is so far superior to the Japanese cruiser Naniwa at Honolulu that comparison is out of the question.

The administration is taking Japan seriously in her stand concerning Ha- report is being made. waiian annexation. Minister Hoshi's of Hawaii by the United States because 'the maintenance of the status quo of Hawaii is essential to the good understanding of powers which have interests in the Pacific" has been viewed with more concern by the President and his Cabinet than other points of objection, as indicating the rumored purpose of Japan to secure some sort of control of the islands.

Japan insists that she does not seek to embarrass the United States, but the administration is taking no chances. The intention to send the largest available vessel shows that this Government proposes to be prepared for emergencies pending the settlement of the Japanese claims against Hawaii and the ratification of the annexation treaty. How Japan willl view the assignment of the Oregon to Hawaiian waters remains to be seen, but it is certain that if other vessels are sent to augment the Naniwa the United States will respond in a vigorous manner that will leave no doubt as to the deter-mined policy of the United States that other powers must keep their hands off

Thorn and Mrs. Nack Arraigned in New York Court for the Crime.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 12 .- Mrs. Augusta Nack and Martin Thorn, the alleged murderers of Guldensuppe, were arraigned in General Sessions to-day to plead to the indictment found against them. The prisoners seemed to be fully alive to the gravity of their situation, and for the first time since their arrest the lines of care were visible on their features. Their attorney entered a demurrer to the indictment, contesting the jurisdiction of the court, stating that the crime, if there was one, was done beyond the lines of New York County. During the statement of But There is a Possibility That counsel the prisoners exchanged no look of recognition, nor did they speak to each other. The demurrer will be argued on

A bundle of blood-stained clothing found floating in the East River near the terra cotta works at Ravenswood several days ago may have something to do with the case of William Guldensuppe. The bundle was discovered by a workingman employed by the terra cotta company, who turned it over to the Long Island City police. Promotion of a Colored Officer.

Hint That Something Might Happen Mysterlously to an Obnoxious Black Man

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12 .- The officers of the Seventh Regiment of cavalry are considerably excited over the recent promotion of Second Lieutenant first lieutenant and his assignment to their regiment.

Lieutenant Young is the only negro since leaving the military academy has been serving with the Ninth Cavalry, which is one of the four colored regiments in the army, all of which are, however,

Some time ago Lieutenant Young was detailed to Wilberforce University, Ohio, an institution for the education of colored youth. Since his assignment to duty as military instructor at that place he has been promoted to a first lieutenantcy and assigned to the Seventh Cavalry, whose headquarters are at Fort Grant, Ariz. This regiment has never had a colored officer on its roster and is earnestly anxious that the Secretary of War shall find some means of transferring Lieutenant Young to either the Ninth or Tenth regiments of cavalry before his present term of college duty expires.

No white troops have ever been asked to serve under a colored officer, and army officers are not anxious to see the experiment tried. They assert that the men would certainly desert in large numbers or that something serious would, in some mysterious manner, happen to the obheadquarters are at Fort Grant, Ariz.

mysterious manner, happen to the ob-noxious officer. With the colored troops this objection has not been found to apply in the case of the three colored officers in the case of the three colored officers who have been assigned since the war. These were Lieutenant Flipper, who was discharged from the army for dishonesty; Lieutenant Alexander, who died only recently while connected with the Ninth Cavalry, and who commanded the respect and regard of his fellow-officers; and Lieutenant Young, who for reasons not stated has made himself extremely obnoxious in the regiment with tremely obnoxious in the regiment with which he has been connected.

The chances are that Lieutenant Young will be retained for some time to come at Wilberforce University and will then be transferred to either the Ninth or Tenth Cavalry, all the privates of which are colored men.

BOSTON, Mass., July 12.—The town of Milford, N. H., is greatly excited over the last Friday evening. The story was not Charles Young of the Ninth Cavalry to be made public until to-day. For some time the good people of the town have been highly indignant over the actions of Mrs. J. G. Burtt, the wife of a leading photogragraduate of West Point in the army and pher, and Azel P. Brigham, a clerk in the employ of Mr. Stevens, a merchant. All sorts of stories have been circulated. It was the general belief that there was deal of truth in the allegations, freely made, that Mr. Brigham and Mrs. Burtt were more intimate than they should be. Early last week Mr. Burtt arrived at this same conclusion, and without ceremony closed the doors of his home on his alleged faithless wife. The latter sought protection at the hands of her friend Brigham and is said to have lived openly with him at his home on Amhurst street. This was more than the people could bear. Last Friday evening a crowd of twentyfive men, whose faces were concealed by long white masks, assembled on the lawn in front of Brigham's house. From 10 to 11 o'clock they hissed, hooted and jeered the inmates. Finally they grew braver and, gaining entrance through an unfastened window, dragged Brigham bodily through the window. With a fife and drum playing the regulation "Rogue's March" they escorted him to the town limits, beyond East Milford, where they left him, very much frightened, but not injured beyond a few slight scratches and bruises received in his hurried departure from his home.

Brigham returned to town after midnight and, seeking Chief of Police Dodge, demanded protection. This was accorded him. He spent the remainder of the night in the officer's home. He left for parts unknown on Saturday morning. The unknown on Saturday morning. The leading men of the town are said to have been among the whitecaps.
