There was the usually large number of pretty girls in attendance at the bazaar, and no one was allowed to escape the 10 and 25 cent chances at everything in sight. Many of the beautiful and useful articles for sale at the various booths were disposed of, greatly to the satisfaction of the lady managers of the bazaar. Everybody was in a generous mood, and the auctioneers obtained good prices for all the wares they sold. The various voting contests progressed briskly, and the promoters of the bazaar are confident that it will be a great financial success. The lunch room had a most profitable day, and, in fact, as the ladies expressed it, they wished that every day was a Dewey Day.

Everybody in the district was there and the hall was filled to its utmost capacity. Many persons were iurned away, being unable to find even standing room. The entertainment was a complete success and reflects great credit upon the committee of the club that had it in charge. A well selected and varied programme was arranged for the evening's entertainment, which consisted of songs, reading, specialites and other features. The programme was prefaced by a few remarks from D. L. Flizgerald, who spoke of the significance of the day and what it meant to American history.

Those who contributed to the programme were: James Vincent and Miss Ella Fletcher, G. T. Balch, Miss Lottie J. Graeber, Miss Alice Vincent, Master Fay Dougherty, John H. Desmond, Fred L. Shaw, Miss Syndia Barnard, Miss Lottie Whitman, Miss F. Denny, Mrs. J. H. Sievers, Miss Elsie Smith, Miss Bertie Smith, J. L. Marshall, I. C. Coggins and Miss Virginia Nippert. Dancing followed the musical programme and was kept up until a late hour.

High Jinks on the Marion.

The First and Second Divisions and the Engineer Division of the naval militia Engineer Division of the havai minutal celebrated Dewey day by a high jinks last night on the Marion. There was a large attendance, an entertaining programme and a collation which was served to the large number of friends of the jackles.

Battle of Manila Bay. Several thousand admirers of America's great naval hero visited the panorama of the battle of Manila Bay at Central Park yesterday to view the lifelike presentation of the destruction of the Spanish fleet by the vessels under the command of the immortal Dewey just a year ago, the news of which electrified the world and marked the beginning of a new epoch in the history of the United States. The remarkable fidelity with which the memorable engagement off Cavite is depicted is a subject of enthusiastic comment by all who have paid a visit to the panorama. To the spectator it seems as though the battle which destroyed Spain's power in the Far East was being fought before his eyes, and the longer the scene is studied the more fascinating it becomes until one can almost hear the booming of the storm of shot from the rapid-fire cannon that tore the Spanish warships to shreds and sent hundreds of Montojo's sailors to their eternal rest. The panorama is deservedly popular and its popularity is increasing daily. the battle of Manila Bay at Central Park

At Pacific Grove.

PACIFIC GROVE, May 1.—The patriotism and pride in the nation's hero of the people of this place and Monterey were strongly exhibited to-day in the enthusias-tic and elaborate manner in which Dewey day was celebrated. Almost at daylight flags went up on every pole and all shop windows and many residences of both towns showed prominently the Stars and

This evening, however, there was celebration enough, Bells were rung, whistles blown and explosives discharged. The event of the night was a literary and musical entertainment at Masonic Music Hall. O. B. Parkinson delivered the oration. One of the features was the flashing of the names of Stockton volunteers on a screen by means of a stereopticon while patriotic music was played. The names of all the Stocktonians at Manila, or who have returned from there, were flashed separately. They are as follows: Arthur Clark, J. W. Galbraith, Bert Condy, A. Nelson Adams, Richard King, Thomas O'Mara, Ed Charette and Joseph Piequet Jr. After this the names of Colonel Fred Funston, Brigadier General Smith, Admiral George Dewey and President William McKinley were thrown on the screen amid loud applause.

At Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ, May 1.—Santa Cruz fit-tingly observed Dewey day, every place of business being closed. At 9 o'clock this morning the flag at the lower plaza was raised by the Naval Reserves, who fired raised by the Naval Reserves, who fired an admiral's salute of seventeen guns. More than 1000 people arrived on the excursion under the auspices of the Garden City Wheelmen from San Jose, coming over the narrow gauge in three sections. This afternon a dance was given at the Dolphin bath house.

The baseball game between San Jose and the Sand Crabs attracted an immense crowd at Dolphin Park.

This evening the Garden City minstrels gave a great performance at the operahouse and the cyclers gave a grand ball at the armory, the music being furnished by the Marine band of San Jose. The last train left at 11:30.

At Redding.

REDDING, May 1.—the celebration of Dewey day brought to this city one of the argest crowds of record. Nearly every own in the county had its representatives and the nearby countryside turned out en masse. The parade to Wildwood Park was followed by the coronation of Queen Edna; an address by Edward Sweeney, president of the dav, an oration by Captain Thomas B. Dozier, and an address on Forestry by M. E. Dittmar.

The celebration was given under the auspices of the local lodge of Foresters. The exercises were interspersed by glee club singing and band music. The winding of the Maypole by sixteen boys and girls was a very pretty feature. Open air dancing and racing took up the afternoon. Dancing was continued to-night.

At Salinas.

SALINAS, May 1.—Dewey day was most fittingly celebrated in Salinas. No especial festivities were programmed to take place in the city, but at several suburban resorts amusement was offered to the vast crowds that attended. The town was ap-propriately decorated for the occasion. And everywhere the truly patriotic spirit was manifest. All Sunday-school chil-

It concluded by asking that the Tamalpais Military Academy should not receive the stigma of being the only school in the State not to show a decent regard for the day set apart as a legal holiday by the Governor. This petition was signed by every boy to whom it was presented and carried to the head master on Friday last. At chapel yesterday Rev. Dr. Crosby announced that, in view of the patriotic ardor displayed by the school, the boys would be required to attend exercises and drill only in the morning. Fear of expulsion caused the boys to make no public exhibition of wrath until they were permitted to visit town this afternoon, and then they turned loose their opinions.

At Fresno.

At Fresno.

FRESNO, May 1.—Dewey day was generally observed to-day. All business houses were closed. The two local companies of militia were out on parade this morning and this afternoon gave an exhibition drill at the fair grounds. About 500 people left here on a Southern Pacific special this morning for Cameron Creek, near Visalia, where the Woodmen of the World are holding a picnic.

At Grass Valley.

GRASS VALLEY, May 1.—Dewey day was celebrated to-night in a grand and patriotic manner. Two bands of music and a drum corps made harmonies for the thousands of people on the streets. Fireworks and salutes kept up the din for several hours.

At Milton.

MILTON, May 1.—Dewey day was appropriately observed at this place by the display of the national colors and the firing of salutes.

A torch was applied to the monster piles of inflammable material as monster piles of inflammable material as soon as darkness settled down over the peninsula, and the flames burst forth. They burned like beacon lights for several hours, attracting widespread attention. Thousands of spectators climbed the sides of the mountain, which lies over sides of the mountain, which lies over against the western portion of the city, to join in the celebration in honor of Dewey day. The affair was arranged by the Federation of Mission Improvement Clubs to demonstrate that the members were alive to the spirit of patriotism, as well as to that of progress. This latter quality they have shown in their unremitting labors to have the Mission district improved and brought up to date.

Addresses eulogizing Admiral Dewey and his gallant men were made by Christ Stader, Gustave Schnee, William Watson and others.
