ULRICH'S RENO RUNS HIS LAST RACE AT HARLEM

Drops Dead After Finishing Fourth in the Steeplechase.

Talent Is Perplexed by a Superabundance of Good Things in the First Race, Which Is Won by Kingraine.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—William Ulrich's good steeplechase horse Reno, after finishing fourth in the steeplechase at Harem to-day, dropped dead. There were so many good things in the first race that the talent was all at sea. Tola, second choice, looked for all the world like a winner at the turn for home, leading by three lengths. Tally soon began to work on Kingraine, however, and the colt answered gamely and caused Tola to tire under the strong drive. Weather clear; track fast. Results:

Six furlongs-Kingraine won, Tola second, El Oriente third. Time, 1:14 2-5. One mile and a sixteenth-Crosby won, Thrive second, Bill Garrett third. Time, 1:46 2-5. 136 2-5.

PREPARING THE WISCONSIN FOR HER RUN AGAINST TIME

THE NEW BATTLESHIP WISCONSIN COALING UP IN MISSION BAY.

HE battleship Wisconsin is coaling and if the work is completed to-day she will take a spin around the bay Monday and if everything works well will leave for Port Orford. Captain Pillsbury of the Pacific Mail Company will command the big warship until she is turned over to the Government. At Port Orford she will be drydocked and will then have a trial trip on the Sound.

The Wisconsin and Iowa are moored close to each other off the Union Iron Works. The Wisconsin is the larger vessel by 1000 tons displacement and seems to be a far more formidable fighting machine than the Iowa. The latter is battle-scarred, however, and the Wisconsin has yet to be tried.

ZALOCH WINS A PACING RACE

One of McKinney's Sons Surprises the Talent, Who Overlook Him.

By F. E. Mulholland.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14 .- A card with a weather-beaten look did not detract from the attendance at the park this of the race. She ran in and distance and won the next two rom three to four lengths. Sumptime purse 1800—Bay star won the second heat in any length of the was distance and won the second heat in any length of the work with the second heat in any length of the second heat in th a walkover.

On the opening day of the meeting Zaloch was distanced in the first heat of the green pace. To-day he sold for a postage stamp in the speculations on the 2:21 class pace and won like a good one. There were only four starters. Fredericks-

Dewey led Screenwell Lake out for the place.

Hafley may be a good exercise boy, but he is no racerider. He made a bungling job of it astride Lodestar, the favorite for a six furlong selling run and plainly the best racer in the bunch. Amasa broke first, winning by four open lengths. Phiegon finished second, but was overlooked, Lodestar being placed second and Almoneer third.

The only real contest was that furnished by Merry Boy and Bathos in the seven furlong selling number. The former horse, a it to 5 chance, overhauled Bathos in the stretch, getting the decision hard-ridden by a neck in 1:28. Loconomo held the others safe, getting show honors.

Charley Fink finally scratched out a purse with Swiftwater. The ring laid 6 to 1 about her in the betting on the nual scramble for maidens and she was sparingly backed. Shaking the bunch off at the stretch turn Mounce landed her a handy winner over Frank Woods and the favorite, Trevathan.

The last of the series of polo games will be played at the park to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Water Front Notes. Water Front Notes.

The steamer Newport was released from quarantine yesterday and went to the Mail dock. A case of smallpox broke out on the voyage from Panama and the vessel was held for four days at Angel Island. Then one of the stewards was taken down with a fever, and that detained the vessel three days more. The doctor decided to raise the quarantine yesterday, so the passengers were landed, the crew got ashore and everybody was happy.

the crew got ashore and everybody was happy.

The funeral of Hugh Gallagher, a well-known inspector in the customs service, took place yesterday. The pallbearers were D. J. O'Leary. John Greenan, Henry Payne, W. Mitchell, R. T. McGinnis and W. J. Holland. The interment was at Holy Cross. A statement has been made to the effect that Gallagher was drinking prior to his death. The contrary was the truth. He had "sworn off" and had not touched liquor for months. His heart was troubling him and it was that which caused his death.

W. Downs, one of the popular clerks of the Merchants' Exchange, is back from his vacation. He and Count Moosbrugger spent a most delightful two weeks at Mayfield and La Honda.

Remains of Private Claude N. Leslie, Company I, Fourteenth Infantry, from United States hospital ship Relief, at Taku, China. Private Trasi left here on the Hancock as a member of the Hospital Corps. During the voyage he was taken sick and gradually developed symptoms of insanity. He was brought back here for medical treatment. The teamsters are all men who went from here to Nagasaki with horses on the Flintshire. Lieutenant Sarratt also went away on that vessel and came home with his men.

Among the Hancock's passengers who fled before the Boxers and found a refuge in Nagasaki there are five men, five women and five children. Rev. D. Jones was in the province of Hupeh when the uprising took place. He was the agent for the American Bible Society, and had a narrow escape from death in the Hoangho River. Fifty miles south of Fencheng the boat in which they were escaping capsized and all their worldly possessions were lost, they barely escaping with their lives. All that the Rev. J. D. Hawse possessed in the world was hat in the uprising. He, his wife and two children, aged one and four years, escaped from Chungking. They were attached to one of the missions as medical adviser. He was more fortunate than his fellow countrymen, as he saved most of his effects. Rev. E. O. Boen and Rev. W. E. Manly had a hard time of it. In fact, all the members of the party consider they were lucky to escape with their lives. None of them, however, have anything to add to the stories that have already been published.

TRAGEDY ON AN ISLAND IN THE MID-PACIFIC

Japanese Laborers on Laysan Shot Down by Spencer's Men.

White Men Claim That They Fired in Self-Defense, but the Japanese Tell a Different Tale.

HONOLULU, Sept. 8.-A thrilling story f insurrection and battle on Laysan Islof insurrection and battle on Laysan Island, a small speck in the Pacific which was once a Hawaiian dependency, reached here to-day by the bark Ceylon, which brought to Honolulu all the participants in the affair. It was a fight between Captain Spencer the "living of the Jaland". tain Spencer, the "king of the island," and forty Japanese laborers who were taken there to help load vessels from Honolulu with guano. The captain fired eight bullets into the crowd of forty men. killing two of them and wounding three others.

There were only five white men on the island when the trouble took place. According to the story of Captain Spencer, the Japanese had a plan to seize the island and kill all the whites. On the evening of August 11 they assembled in front of his residence and there was a lengthy discussion. It ended when the Japanese made a rush to take the place. Captain Spencer stood his ground, with a six-shooter in each hand, and fired at the eaders leaders.

The ring-leader and one other man fell dead and three other Japanese dropped to the ground seriously wounded. The other thirty-five fled.

Captain Spencer and the other whites remained on guard all night and the next day they began to round up the Japanese and put them on board the Ceylon, to be taken back to Honolulu. They were all put below in the hold, with the hatches fastened down, and the bark started away from the island, leaving behind only two white men, Captain Spencer's son and the carpenter employed by the guano company.

Spencer Arrested.

Spencer Arrested.

On arriving in Honolulu last night Captain Spencer was charged with murder and he will be held for trial. The story of the Japanese is very different from that told by Spencer. They allege that they made no attack upon the captain, but simply assembled at his house to discuss the matter of food supply. For several weeks they had been on short rations, owing to the wreck of the bark McNear, which went ashore on Dowsett reef while on her way to Laysan with provisions. The Japanese say that the shots were fired into the crowd without provocation.

Captain Spencer's wife was with him on port Hancock.

A number of missionaries, accompanied by their wives and families, came home from the Orient yesterday. They escaped from China early in the campaign and reaching Nagasaki, Japan, there awaited transportation to the United States. When the United States transport Hancock returned from Taku, where she had landed a detachment of troops, the missionaries were taken aboard, and they were landed in San Francisco yesterday. Among those who came home on the transport were Major E. E. Dravo, commissariat superintendent of the army in China; First Lieutenant E. O. Sarratt of the Fourth Artillery and Lieutenant W. C. Davidson, U. S. N.

The Japanese say that the shots were fired into the crowd without provocation.

Captain Spencer's wife was with him on the little island when the sensational trouble occurred, and accompanied him to this city on the Ceylon. The murder charge was placed against him on the strength of the statements of the thirty-laysan island is about 600 miles north-west of Honolulu. Some years ago it was "annexed" to Hawaii by King Kalakaua and since then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it has been leased by a Honolulu firm which sends vessels regulated then it

Company Loses Heavily.

The Japanese who was the ringleader in the trouble on the island was a new arrival from Honolulu. Captain Spencer declares that he went to Laysan with the idea of working up a rebellion and placing the Japs in control of the island.

The schooner Aloha was on the way to Laysan, Island from Honolulu when the Ceylon left and is supposed to be there now. She was going in ballast to bring back a cargo of guano. Her master, Captain Fry, expecting to find quite a colony of workmen there, will find the little island inhabited by only two men.

The Aloha will probably not be able to get her cargo with the force she has, as there is no docking at Laysan and yes-The Aloha will probably not be able to get her cargo with the force she has as there is no docking at Laysan and vessels have to stay two miles from shore and have the cargo brought to them on lighters. This will make the financial cost of the fight very heavy. It has cost a two months' trip for the bark Ceylon and will probably also be the cause of a similar useless trip for the Aloha.

There will be a bitter legal fight over the tragedies of the fertilizer island. The Japs are all ready to testify that they were shot at without provocation and the only white witness that has come to Honolulu, to a large extent corroborates the story they tell. In addition to the fourder case there is prospect of a claim by the Japanese on account of the treatment they received on the way back from Laysan.

New Sewer System.

New Sewer System.

Honolulu's first sewer system, which it was decided to build after the cholera epidemic of 1895 had directed attention to the fact that such a system was lacking, is nearing completion and will be in use within a month. It was begun in 1892 and will cost over $250,000. The plans for the system provide for a complete covering of the city and carrying the refuse out into deep water beyond the harbor. Great difficulty has been encountered in laying the pipes, owing to the fact that on every street the workmen encountered hard coral and streams of water. At fourteen feet below the surface the water ran so quickly into the trenches that gasoline engines had to be kept running day and night to keep the water down to a level that made work possible.

Hackman Murdered.

Another murder was added to the long list of such crimes recently committed in the islands last Saturday, when a Chinese hackdriver was killed in his vehicle on a lonely road near Hilo, Island of Hawaii. The murder was one of the most brutal in the history of the Islands. Some passengers in the hack cut the driver's throat as he sat in front of them, afterward throwing the body over a fence and covering it up with brush.

The victim of the crime was Ah Joe, a well-known Hilo hackman. He left Hilo at about 10 o'clock in the evening with two white men in his hack. At 2 o'clock next morning his hack returned empty, with the front seat drenched with blood, the horse having found its way back.

A search was instituted by Ah Joe's relatives, and when daylight came they found his body where it had been thrown. The throat was cut by several gashes.

found his body where it had been thrown. The throat was cut by several gashes. It appeared that the deed had been done from behind and that the object had been robbery, as the victim's watch and money had been taken.

Two sailors from the schooner Okanogan, which had just arrived from California, are in jail on suspicion of having committed the brutal crime. They were on shore all night and are said to have been the two men in Ah Joe's hack when he started from Hilo on Saturday evening. Both are Swedes.

Citizenship Problem.

The question of whether citizens of Guam are Americans was raised in the United States District Court here to-day, Judge Estee expressed the opinion that the native born people of Guam are Americans by virtue of the annexation of their country by the United States. The question arose in connection with the application for naturalization papers of Reynold Reyes, a native of Guam and a former subject of Spain. He took out papers, though the ccurt said it was probably unnecessary. There are several other Guam men here and some Filipinos whose standing is involved in the same doubt as that of Reyes.

Welcome News.

By the steamship Nippon Maru Hono-luiu received news that the Chinesa who had the plague on board the Coptic at Kobe, Japan. was not one of the men who took passage here, as had been reported. The news was very welcome as relieving the fears that another outbreak of the disease was likely to occur here.
