Production of Greatest Work of Teutonic Shakespeare at the Theater on May 9

The German-Americans of this city will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Schiller, the host beloved of all the great poets of Germany, on Sunday, May 7. This is to be made one of the greatest fetes rendered to any literary man in the history of San Francisco, and the Germans have selected Sunday because, as the anniversary falls on Tuesday, the occasion could not be properly observed.

An outdoor demonstration will be held in Golden Gate Park Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, where the lead-ing German societies of the city will ing German societies of the city will be congregated. Sung to Sleep by Coffee.

The fearful work coffee has done for me is difficult to describe.
"I had no idea how weakened one can become from the breaking down ef-feet of coffee on the nerves.

When that has gone, on long enough most anything may set in. I had three attacks of pneumonia and became a chronic invalid. I had no idea that coffee had put me in my deplorable condition. Well, I finally went to Colorado on advice, and found a nice place to board with a family. The man of the house had just returned from a sojourn in California, whither he had gone for heart trouble, but the dector set these in California, whither he had gone for heart trouble, but the doctor out there discovered that his weak heart was caused by coffee, took it away and gave him Postum. His trouble was quickly dismissed and he came home a well man. He suggested that probably it was coffee affected me. I laughed him to scorn; nevertheless I began gingerly on Postum, and found it so rich and with a nice coffee snap that I liked it immensely.

"From the beginning the Postum Coffee had a beneficial effect on me. I improved in every way, my sleep came back, healthy and refreshing, and in a few weeks I went home a well woman, as I am to this day. I still use Postum, of course, and will never return to the old kind.

"Noting the good effects of Postum in my case, I wrote home urging that it be given to my 12-year-old daughter, who was very delicate and frequently ill from a complication of diseases connected with the liver. Well, my people tried it, but were disgusted with it—they didn't make it right. They said it was impossible for them to drink it, and my daughter rebelled and cried for the old kind of coffee. When I came home I changed all that by making it right—allowing it to boil for twenty minutes after it first came to a boil, and served it with cream. The child relished it at once and benefited from the first. Strength came to her day by day and she began to develop, and was enabled to go to school much more regularly.

"It was a year after I began to use Postum before my husband would use it. He preferred to carry a small bottle of pepsin, and every time he drank coffee would take a dose of pepsin to overcome the sour stomach produced by the coffee. He held out for a year, but, of course, got worse and finally got to feeling so badly that he grew desperate and tried Postum. After the third day he became a convert to Postum and the pepsin bottle went into the ash barrel. That was two years ago, and he still uses Postum and is entirely free from the old troubles."

BAKER DISPELS HER LONELINESS

Mary Anne Morrison Is Dis-Judge Hebbard Refuses to Devoto's Bond, It Is Said, placed in Aunt's Home by

Hebbard for Decision

Judge Hebbard has taken under adof Mary Anne Morrison for judgment for $25,000 damages against her aunt, Mrs. Ann Shannon-Schroeter, for breach of contract.

breach of contract.

During the argument on the demurrer it developed that Ferdinand Schroeter, formerly a baker on a transport, aged 30 years, had displaced Miss Morrison in the household at 2621 Sutter street, Schroeter now being the husband of the young woman's aunt, whose years number 61. It is because Schroeter has displaced her that Miss Morrison demands damages, for, she says, her aunt brought her here from Ballymore, County Sligo, Ireland, to dispel the aged woman's loneliness and promised to make her sole heir to an estate valued at $50,000.

On January 26 last Schroeter wedded Mrs. Shannon and then there was no room in the household for Miss Morrison. One day, without notice, she was told to go and she was compelled to obey. Being thousands of miles from home and without means, she was compelled to go to work as a domestic to maintain herself. Then she sought a lawyer, with the result a domestic to maintain nerself. Then she sought a lawyer, with the result that Mrs. Shannon is now fighting in the courts to save her fortune for her enjoyment during the few years that remain to her and after that for the enjoyment of her youthful husband.

The Hidalgo Club, composed of local Mexicans, appropriately celebrated the forty-third anniversary of May 5, 1862, at Washington-square Hall last night. Yesterday two former officers of the club were in Judge Hebbard's court to obtain an injunction against the club's using the name Hidalgo, but the Judge refused to issue the injunction. Some trouble was expected last night, but everything passed off smoothly. There were many speeches by club officers and members commemorating the famous members commemorating the famous mempers commemorating the lamous battle in which the French were defeated by the Mexicans bringing about the end of Maximilian's career. After the speechmaking came dancing and refreshments.

Hear Cases Involving En-Newly Acquired Husband try to Notorious Resorts

Argued and Submitted to! Jurists Be Called In and His Action Is Resented

> Angered at the temerity of District Attorney Byington in moving that the Presiding Judge appoint two Judges to sit with Judge Hebbard in the trial of actions brought by the keepers of no-torious resorts to deprive the police of the right of entry, the jurist, who feels a reflection has been cast on him, has thrown all of the cases out of his court with the demand that they be assigned elsewhere for trial. Hebbard, while agreeing that the motion on its face was not improper, holds that the District Attorney should have requested him to select associates to sit with him in bank instead of moving that Presiding Judge Lawlor be called upon to appoint them, as no veiled imputation would have been included in the former request.

When court convened vesterday

When court convened yesterday morning Byington presented a written motion for the appointment of a court of three to sit at the hearing of the cases of Ravini, Moran and Malenoire against the police.

The proposed order read as follows:

The proposed order read as follows:

The defendants move that the presiding Judge be requested to appoint two other Judges of the court to sit with your Honor to determine the issues involved in this case. The same points will arise during the hearing of these cases as were involved in the order to show cause in the case of Ravini. In other cases involving the same points as have arisen on this order to show cause Judges Sawell. Sloss and Kerrigan have reached conclusions differing from those of this court. In the case of the order to show cause in the case involving the Hotel Nyrphia your Honor also reached conclusions differing from those reached by you in the case of Ravini, though it is our contention that the premises involved are the same.

It is our contention that the premises involved are the same.

It is our belief that the ends of justice will be best subserved by harmonizing the decisions of this court and it will be of great advantage to the community to obtain a final decision upon the points involved in these cases. Anarmonizing of decisions is also of vital importance to the police, as conflicting decisions tend to hinder the operation of the law and paralyze the arm of the peace officers of the municipality.

When this motion was read the municipality.

When this motion was read the wrath of Hebbard broke and he forthwith announced that he would have nothing further to do with the cases. The form of the motion, he said, did not meet with his approval and hence he would pass the entire matter back to the presiding Judge for reassignment.

In going over the documents found in the private desk in Smith's drug store Douglas Young, the Grand Jury expert, found evidence that $5200 more than has yet been accounted for was stolen by the embezzling Tax Collector. Young expects to uncover more steals, but the work is difficult, as Smith's methods were intricate.

The Grand Jury listened to the complaint of Nellie Burgess, an inmate of the notorious den at 620 Jackson street, yesterday. Some friends of hers informed Foreman Andrews that she had important revelations to make concerning the ownership of the resort. Her evidence turned out to be all hearsay. The woman averred that there was in existence a trust in houses of ill fame and that she had been persecuted by those behind the combination. She said her testimony would be corroborated by Bessie Howe, an inmate of the same resort, but the latter refused to testify. This investigation turned the Judge's attention from the Smith investigation.
