READY TO OPEN STREET FOR RAILROAD COMPANY
San Leandro Trustees to Proceed Slowly in Matter

SAN LEANDRO, March 22.—Though the board of trustees practically agreed last night to open Santa Clara street in compliance with the wishes of the Southern Pacific company for the extension of its electric line from Melrose to San Leandro, the trustees have deferred until another conference could be held the industrial agent Hoover of the company.

The board was not positive as to what the railroad wanted the city to do in exchange for building the foot bridge across San Leandro at a cost of about $25,000. The property owners, with one exception in that district, all desire that the street should be opened. It was suggested that the city should buy the property of Paul Johnson, who is opposing the improvement. Then the street could be cut through without long condemnation proceedings and the men would receive their money back in the sale of the remainder of the property, which would then front on the new street.

SEVERAL TOWNS TO HOLD FOURTH OF JULY FETE

Proposed Apricot Carnival Gives Way to Earlier Affair

HAYWARD, March 22.—At a mass meeting of citizens in the town hall last night, presided over by Mayor Charles W. Hever, it was unanimously decided to abandon the proposed apricot carnival and hold in its place a fourth of July celebration, as was originally planned. San Leandro, San Lorenzo, Niles, Centerville, Newark, Irvington, Pleasanton and Livermore will join with Hayward to make the celebration one of the largest and most successful ever held in this part of Alameda county.

The apricot festival was given up owing to the uncertainty of the crop and the lateness of the date, as it would be the last of July before the fruit would be ripe. At this time having would be in progress and it would be impossible for the farmers to attend. Many of the townspeople would also be away on vacation trips, it was argued, while a fourth of July festival could be attended by all.

Decisions plans for the celebration will be made at a meeting in the town hall next Monday night, when all the committees will be named. Every possible attraction will be secured for the day's program, including, it is hoped, an aviation meet.

S. J. Simons, A. L. Graham, S. C. Smith, Jacob Harder Jr., R. Reid, W. J. Ramage and James S. French were appointed last night by Mayor Hever as a finance committee.

PURSUES BURGLAR IN HIS NIGHT DRESS

Housebreaker Eludes Alameda Man and Companions

ALAMEDA, March 22.—Clad only in his night dress, L. D. Richards of 1629 Bay street, with Robert Bermingham and Frank Clark chased a burglar for several blocks last night. The thief escaped by jumping several fences in the vicinity of Pacific avenue and Sherman street.

Richards was asleep in his home when he was awakened by the noise made by the burglar in ransacking rooms. Stealing quietly out of bed and out of doors, Richards went to Nelson's poolroom at Bay station to obtain reinforcements for the purpose of surrounding his dwelling and capturing the housebreaker.

Bermingham and Clark volunteered and the trio went back to the Richards dwelling. The burglar took alarm at their approach and jumped through a window. Bermingham, Clark and Richards gave chase, but the housebreaker eluded them. An investigation showed that the burglar had entered the dwelling by forcing a window.

MOTHER IN LAW PUT HIS TRUNK OUT IN HALL

Then She Told Oakland Husband to Go and He Went

OAKLAND, March 22.—"Gee, but this is so sudden," declared George W. Klopp, a life insurance company manager, when his mother in law packed his trunk, dragged it into the hall and ordered him to get out of the house. Nevertheless he obeyed, according to the testimony given today in Judge Ellsworth's court.

Mrs. Griswold, the mother in law, took the witness stand in the trial of the divorce suit that her daughter, Mrs. Jennie E. Klopp, brought against Klopp, and told of her success in getting Klopp out of her daughter's home.

Klopp got $7,500 from his wife, the mother of law testified, and enjoyed a comfortable home without having to work until Mrs. Griswold heeded her daughter's cries of distress and ejected him.

The following suits for divorce were begun today: J. H. Mait against Nellie Mait, desertion; S. M. Palmer against S. M. Palmer, desertion; Albert Martinez against Olivette Martinez, desertion.

Josephine Copes was granted a final decree of divorce against J. A. Copes on the ground of desertion.

BERKELEY FIGHT FOR 110 VOLT CURRENT WON

Britton Promises to Make Desired Change

BERKELEY, March 22.—In a letter to the city council this morning John A. Britton, vice president and general manager of the Berkeley electric light company, guaranteed a 110 volt service in the business and congested parts of the city instead of the 230 volt power current which the company is now furnishing. The council ordered the communication placed on file without comment.

The fight for the 110 volt system has been made by various civic clubs of this city for the last four years. The claim is made that the higher current does not give more light, but tends to destroy globe, and runs the meter register a great amount.

WILL INVESTIGATE PERJURY CHARGES

Prosecuting Attorney Discredits Witnesses Who Gave Testimony Against Chinese

OAKLAND, March 22.—The grand jury probably will take up the tangle caused by the charges of robbery against Leo Toon, Leung Bow and Low Yon, in which accusations of perjury and framing up of criminal cases against Chinese defendants in the interest of a rival tong have been made. Judge Brown, who has had the matter up before him for several sessions of his court, today declared that it was a fit subject for grand jury investigation.

Deputy Constable George C. Starr, who arrested the trio and whom Attorney Clarence Reed accused of "rank perjury" in the testimony he gave against them, was in court today. His attorney, Abe F. Leach, declared that he courted a grand jury investigation. Attorney Philip M. Walsh, representing the Yee family, at whose instance the defendants are said to have been arrested, said that he was willing that the matter up and he opposed the motion of Deputy District Attorney W. D. Smith to the effect that the charges against the accused men should be dismissed because of the fact that there was no good evidence against them.

SCORES CONSTABLE'S TESTIMONY
Prior to this Smith filed a formal written motion, in which he set out the events that have occurred in connection with the case. He declared that they would never have been arrested if any member of District Attorney Donahue's official family had been asked to pass upon the warrants.

Smith said that he did not care to characterize the testimony of Starr as perjury, but that he was charitable when he said that he was mistaken. Starr testified that he was in the employ of the Yee family. He identified and arrested four Chinese six weeks after the alleged robbery, although he had seen them only once before, on the evening of the alleged robbery, and he could not remember who else was on the car with them, nor tell what kind of clothes the defendants wore. Deputy Constable E. T. Carroll's testimony had no more value, Smith said. Carroll's identification of the men was equally weak.

Chinese witnesses, Smith declared that Yee Bing, one of the principal ones, was a "barefaced liar," and that Yee Ming, the complaining witness and alleged victim, was "gravely giving testimony that was the result of careful coaching."

DEEP Laid Plot
"I am satisfied that the defendants did not go out to Melrose on the evening of the robbery," Smith declared, "but that they were waiting for the opportunity to commit the crime. It is simply a case of one Chinese tong using the coats to fight another tong, and that Yee Bing and Yee Ming testified to just what they were told to say by the interpreter of the Yee family."

Attorney Clarence Reed was placed on the stand to testify as to his accusation that Constable Starr had committed perjury at the preliminary examination of the Chinese, whereby they were held to answer to trial by Justice of the Peace Geary. Reed has also declared that Starr could not have sworn to $250 in cash cash to fix the evidence so that no convictions could be secured. But Reed's examination did not get far today. Judge Brown continued the case until next Monday.

RICHMOND IS REMOVED

Councilman Said to Have Resented Enforcement of Law

RICHMOND, March 22.—Dr. H. N. Varney, health commissioner of Richmond, was deposed by the city council last night, and Dr. Charles R. Blake, an aspirant for the office at the last election, was appointed to succeed him. The health officer's removal is said to have been the result of his crusade against dairies which did not take proper precautions to safeguard the public health.

Dr. Varney called the attention of the state board of health to the fact that at the Dooling dairy, owned by J. J. Dooling, a councilman, employees washed the cans in a well which was only 50 feet from a cesspool. The health commissioner asserted that he had tried several cases of typhoid fever to this alleged negligence, and it is said that Dooling since then has been antagonistic to Doctor Varney.

The charges against Varney were "incompetency and neglect of duty," as recorded in the minutes of the council.

EAGLES TO MARCH OVER 1,200 STRONG

Members of Fruitvale Aerie Are Making Elaborate Preparations for Fiesta

OAKLAND, March 22.—J. O. Albright, chairman of the committee in charge of the coming Fruitvale fiesta, announced today that plans for the decorating of East Fourteenth street from Fruitvale library to Melrose and the erection of a bazaar at the intersection of that street with Fruitvale avenue are being completed, and that a spectacle will be presented not soon to be forgotten by those who view the carnival. The decorations will consist largely of flowers, flags and bunting and a great many unique adornments that will be arranged.

Members of the Fruitvale aerie of Eagles, under the direction of Supervisor W. L. Bridge, J. O. Albright, A. E. Goodman and J. C. Holland, have covered the territory between Fruitvale and Alvarado with colored posters announcing the coming street fair and carnival. In spite of the rain, it is impossible to find a spot in the territory where there is no bill. Envelopes and stationery in red, white and blue colors have been printed and are on sale everywhere in the district and businessmen and merchants are using them exclusively in boosting for the affair.

It is expected that over 1,200 Eagles will be in line for the parade, and after the fair is over many of the members, with a great part of the shows and concessions, will go to Ukiah to attend the convention that is to be held there from May 16 to 19, inclusive.

After Thursday of this week J. C. Holland of the committee in charge will be ready to receive applications for a queen of the fair. The carnival committee meets Wednesday evening in the Fruitvale board of trade rooms for further arrangements.
