

EVENTS IN THE COUNTRY BORDERING ON THE BAY OF SAN FRANCISCO

ALAMEDA GIRL IS CLAIMED AS BRIDE

Miss Florence Plummer Becomes Wife of Joseph McLroy of This City

OAKLAND, May 17.—At a brilliant ceremony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Plummer in Alameda this evening Joseph McLroy of San Francisco claimed as his bride Miss Florence Plummer, one of the daughters of the home. The beautiful decorations in white and gold produced some fine effects. In the drawingroom an altar was built entirely of St. Joseph lilies and yellow Japanese iris, roses and ferns being used throughout the other rooms.

Miss Plummer, who is one of the youngest brides of the summer, wore a robe of white crepe de metier trimmed with duchess lace. The gown was made on the straight lines with a long court train. The front panel was hand embroidered, the large buttons being finished with seeded pearls. The veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms and the bride carried a shower of lilies of the valley and orchids.

Miss Ethel Plummer attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a gown of yellow crepe de metier, the distinguishing feature of which was the Grecian shoulder drape of yellow chiffon. She carried a staff of St. Joseph lilies.

The bridesmaids, Miss Hazel Holt, Miss Ruth Holt and Miss Theo Spaulding, wore gowns of white crepe de metier with pale green crepe de metier finished with a drape of green chiffon and gold embroidery. Each wore a necklace of pearls and carried lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern in the form of a shower.

McLroy was assisted by Herbert Gallagher as best man. The ushers were Philip Plummer, Harold Plummer, Ernest Porter and Russell Field. The marriage service was read by Rev. Bradford Leavitt, minister of the Unitarian church of San Francisco. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. McLroy will establish themselves for the summer in Mill Valley. Later in the year they plan to go abroad. McLroy is a well known railroadman of the coast. Formerly he resided in Canada. His bride is a favorite with the girls of the younger set, who have entertained extensively in her honor since the announcement of her betrothal. The Plummer family is prominent in business and social circles about the bay.

Miss Madeline Todd will entertain at cards Thursday afternoon at the Todd home in Fourteenth street.

The formal announcement of the betrothal of James O. Lewis and Miss Hazel Augusta McPike, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. McPike, is interesting a wide circle of friends of the young people in the bay cities. No definite plans have been made for the marriage, although it probably will be late in the year. Lewis is a graduate of Stanford university and is engaged in business in the southern part of the state, where he and his bride will establish their home. McPike is prominent on this side of the bay.

One of the interesting weddings of the early winter will be that at which Miss Mary Reed will claim as her bride Miss Frances Agnes Whiting, the daughter of Mrs. M. J. Whiting of Berkeley. Reed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell Reed. He is associated with the firm which bears his father's name as a partner.

Minnie Klos, One Of Wonderful Trio Of Sister Acrobats

BASEBALL SKETCH HEADS GOOD BILL

Breezy Chatter of Diamond Features Splendid Act at the Oakland Orpheum

OAKLAND, May 17.—The baseball world in New York, where every child is a "fan" before he or she is a scholar, is typified at the Orpheum this week in the sketch, "Swat Milligan." The play is as rollicking as "Fagan's Decision" and is a splendid bit of vaudeville. The act introduces two of the cleverest young actors who have ever been on the Oakland Orpheum stage.

Thrilling acrobatics are supplied by the three Klos sisters, one of whom, Miss Minnie Klos, has been featured in many cities for her beauty as much as her skill.

The five juggling Normans open the show with an exhibition of clever club work. The Avon Comedy Four are foolish but funny. John McCloskey, the young tenor, is heard to advantage in his selections from classical and popular compositions.

Other good acts are Anna Laughlin, the little prima donna, and Marshall Montgomery, the ventriloquist.

BOAT RIDE IN WAGON TIES UP 44,000 ACRES

Dead Millionaire Made "Sea Trip" Over Stretch of Desert

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—A boat trip, not rowed, in which the voyagers rode, is said to be at the bottom of a controversy over Palo Verde valley lands, valued at $2,500,000. The rights of settlers are considered in jeopardy because of a whimsical trick practiced 35 years ago by a San Francisco millionaire, now dead. It is charged that he had the boat carefully loaded on a wagon, and after it had been hauled over a prescribed area, claimed 44,000 acres of rich land under the "swamp and overflow" act, following his attesting to the fact that he had made the trip by boat.

The land is desert land. The dispute, which upon its face appears to be a controversy between the government and the state, will come up for hearing before the United States Survey General Archer in Los Angeles, June 15.

The settlers, however, assert that the controversy is really between themselves and a syndicate of speculators. In order to protect their rights, the settlers have organized and engaged an attorney. After citizens had been invited to take up the land, the settlers say, the Los Angeles land office ordered it withdrawn because of the classification resulting from the "boat ride."

WASHINGTON LOGGERS TO MAINTAIN PRICES

Attempts Made to Reduce the Market Quotations

PORTLAND, Ore., May 17.—The fight that has been waged for years between the California lumber buyers and the Oregon and Washington lumber manufacturers for power to establish the market value of lumber is said to be about to reach a climax, with the loggers of the northwest backing the manufacturers.

Strenuous effort has been made for several months by large buyers in California to break the lumber market in Oregon and Washington, with the manufacturers standing between the buyer and the logger.

Loggers on the Columbia river, after carefully investigating the situation, have decided to stand pat on values. It is held firm it is believed that the manufacturers will be forced to oppose the market smashing tactics of the buyers.

REFUGEE BUNKOMEN REST IN PORTLAND JAIL

Four Suspects Who Flew San Francisco Are in Trouble

PORTLAND, May 17.—Four alleged bunkomen were arrested this morning by Sergeant Keller at the Princess hotel after they had robbed G. Veerhaegen of $20. The quartet arrived here Sunday from San Francisco. They registered under the names of R. C. Simpson, C. W. Harris, E. P. Jones and B. G. Walkheimer. It is believed that the men are a part of the former Harvey Dale gang of bunkomen, who operated here until driven out by Chief of Police Cox.

After leaving here the gang went to San Francisco, but they evidently found the southern metropolis too warm for them. Chief Cox declares they will not be allowed to remain in Portland. They were not admitted to bail.

SLAYER OF YOUTH IS EXONERATED

Leo Owen, Who Voluntarily Surrendered, Is Cleared by Coroner's Jury

OAKLAND, May 17.—Leo Owen, a newspaperman, 26 years old, who lives at 1458 Liese avenue, Melrose, voluntarily surrendered himself to Captain of Detectives Petersen today, confessing that he was the man who fatally shot Leslie Herbert at Tevis and East Fourteenth streets early yesterday morning and declaring that he acted in self-defense while being attacked by Herbert and his companions.

A coroner's jury at the inquest held tonight at 7:30 o'clock exonerated Owen from the charge of murder. He was released, and at tomorrow morning's court the report of the inquest will be made, following which the case of Owen will be stricken from the calendar.

Although it was not publicly known, Owen appeared before Captain Petersen last night and told him his story of the shooting, his statement being placed on record at the time. Convinced of the truth of Owen's statement, Judge Edgar released the young man upon his own recognizance, with the understanding that in case Herbert's death proved fatal he was to give himself up at once. Owen was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

HERBERT PASSES AWAY—Herbert died at the receiving hospital early this morning as the result of his wound, and Owen, upon learning of the death, immediately appeared before the police examiner, surrendering himself. He was then charged with murder.

Owen's statement, which is partially corroborated by R. A. Werner, who, in company with his wife, was returning to his home at 1428 Liese avenue at the time of the shooting, is as follows:

When nearing a cross street which runs between the fourteenth and fifteenth streets I saw a man look around the corner of a building and then jerk his head back. He repeated this action several times. I was 15 feet from the building on the East Fourteenth street sidewalk a man suddenly came out from around the corner of the building and advanced toward me. I moved out to the edge of the sidewalk and tried to keep away from him.

DRAWS REVOLVER—The man followed me clear over to the edge of the sidewalk and then to the edge of the cement curb, which is on the west side of the building. He drew a revolver and the name of which I do not know. At that point I turned on him and asked him what he wanted and "if he was a slickup man."

He answered: "That's what I am, you know. I am a slickup man, and you are going to get yours."

I did not think he was a holdup man then for an instant, but just a drunk who was looking for trouble. I told him he had better "beat it." He then struck at me with something.

I did not draw my gun, but struck at his jaw. I hit him, but did not hurt him. GRABBED FROM BEHIND—As I struck at the man in front of me something struck me in the back of the head and the man in front of me yelled: "Get the hell out of here. Then somebody grabbed me around the neck.

I twisted myself free and as I did so the man who had first attacked me struck at me. I jumped backward about four feet and pulling my gun I shot at him from the hip, not taking aim.

I saw the man fall, and he said: "I'm shot—get him."

I then ran up the street which led toward the railroad tracks. About 50 or 75 feet up the street there were two men in a buggy as near as I could make them out. One of them yelled, "I've got him."

I ran past them and on up the street. They started to chase me and I fired one shot over their heads and I guess they stopped because I did not hear them come on the first cross street. I then struck at my home at 1458 Liese avenue in a roundabout way, doubling back eastward on the E. P. tracks. When I got home I was so sick from running that I vomited. After I had become better I cleaned my gun and went to bed.

SINGERS REHEARSE PASSION MUSIC

Drama of Crucifixion Will Be Sung at Bach Festival in Greek Theater

BERKELEY, May 18.—With the great harmonies of the Bach festival of last year yet lingering in memory there is widespread anticipation of the second and much more elaborate feast of Bach music which will be offered in the Greek theater Saturday afternoon, May 22, in the form of the St. Matthew passion music. Dr. J. Fred Wolfe, the Bach leader, has trained his singers for nearly a year in preparation for the forthcoming event, which will offer in song the great "Holy Drama of the Crucifixion."

The Bach choir, which this year numbers 120 singers, will be augmented by a chorus of 500 school children, who, with the consent of the public school department, have been trained in the Bach music under the personal supervision of Doctor Wolfe. The childish voices will be heard in the 19 old German folk songs which will be a pleasing feature of the program and will swell the great "chorale fantasia," which will open the program.

Well known singers have been in rehearsal for months for the solo parts of the festival. Carl Anderson at the organ will sing the theme of the drama, and H. D. Mustard, basso, will have the solo part of the Christus.

Four sopranos will have the solo parts for women, the singers being Miss Alice Andrews, Mrs. Orrin Klipp McMurray, Mrs. Frances Thoroughman and Mrs. A. E. Wood. Three minor solo parts will be sung by H. J. Sattin, Arthur George and George Blacker.

OAKLAND, May 17.—"I never had a home and I don't want any now," was the way Walter Childers is said to have told his wife he regretted he had married and explained his habit of not coming home as often as she desired. Mrs. Kate Childers, the wife, brought suit for divorce today on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Mary A. Carter was granted a final decree of divorce today against William J. Carter on the ground of desertion. She testified that about seven years ago he left home, saying he would be gone on business two or three days. He came back six and a half years later and expressed surprise that she had not secured a divorce. He even urged her to get a divorce, and when she refused he left again. Shortly after, Mrs. Carter says, she discovered that the reason he was so anxious for her to get a divorce was that he had annexed another wife in Los Angeles.

Suit for divorce on the ground of habitual intemperance was begun today by Sylvia against Edward T. Kelly.

PROPERTY OWNERS ARE AGAINST BITUMINIZING

Suit Brought to Enjoin Superintendent of Streets

OAKLAND, May 17.—Protests against the paving of Brush street between Fourteenth and Twenty-eighth streets, which were vigorously made before the city council at several meetings, were supplemented today by a suit to enjoin Superintendent of Streets Howe and the Ransome-Crummey company from going ahead with the work of construction. The council overrode the protests of the property owners.

The injunction suit was brought in the name of L. W. Williams, who owns property at Brush and Fifteenth streets. About 100 property owners are interested in opposing the paving of the street, and are supporting Williams. Paving of Brush street is objected to on the ground that it is a residence street, and already in good enough condition without going to the expense of bituminizing it, as proposed.

He told the lawyer that he had a consignment of magazines on which $300 was due, and that if he did not have the money right away he would lose not only the magazines, but the agency for the publication.
