BDUL GREETED WITH CARESSES

By PERCIVAL LANDON

[Special Cable to The Call] CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 3 .- Former Sultan Abdul Hamid and his Circassian favorite arrived here late yesterday on the German gunboat Lorelei.

Escorted by a strong guard, the deposed sultan crossed the Galata bridge over the Bosphorus today and was lodged in the palace of Beyler Bey, on the Asiatic side. There the old despot was welcomed by several of the women of his former harem, who smothered him with caresses.

It was decided this afternoon that the sultan will leave Yildiz kiosk and re-main in seclusion in Angora, in Ana-talia, until peace is concluded. Abdul Hamid and his suite will accompany the

Clog Dancer's Harsh Comment on Wife's Pulchritude Gives Her Divorce

When Mrs. Emma A. Harris of 635 Ash avenue overheard her husband, George E. Harris, a clog dancer, refer to her as possessing "a bull dog face" while he was conversing over a telephone, she filed suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty.

When Harris heard his wife testify to having heard his remark, he directed his attorney to abandon the defense and told Judge W. M. Conley yesterday in court that he thought Mrs. Harris entitled to an interlocutory decree. The court thought the same thing and permitted Mrs. Harris to resume her maiden name of Ehrhardt.

Harris testified that he was intro-duced to his wife by William Levy, a theatrical agent, who expresed the de-sire that "such a good cook" should marry "such an unexcelled dancer." FRIEND ATE DINNERS

The husband declared that his wife could cook all right, but that he got little of the cooking except what was left after Levy and Mrs. Harris had finished dining. The Harrises married May 15, 1911.

Registrar Answers Charges

Registrar J. H. Zemansky made reply yesterday to the charges of fraudulent registration in San Francisco, made by Oakland newspapers. He said:
"The attempt to discredit San Francisco's registration is based solely on the assertion that 20,000 sample ballots sent from the registrar's office have been returned undelivered. The premise is as false as the conclusion. "San Francisco has the cleanest registration it has had since my con-expressed myself, that whatever helps every other city in the state also helps the vote of the people on a question of annexation, but, as Mayor Mott well says in his address to the people, "Its (the amendment) adoption will be followed by recurrent elections, producing a chaotic condition which can in the very nature of things, result in nothing but stagnation of public and private development."

And the truth of the matter is that, though annexation be repeatedly voted down, we would be left worse off than we are at present, because the amendment, if adopted, will prevent our forming a city and county government as permitted under the constitution as it stands. We are therefore justified in opposing this amendment, no matter how many other steps may precede actual annexation.

The San Francisco bodies make much of the fact that the proposed amend-ment is merely to permit San Francisco to extend her boundaries, but they do not say a word about the rights it takes away from other municipalities. Because she is in a situation that needs a remedy, one must be found; but it should not be by making the constitution the possible means of sacrificing such a city as ours. Yours truly,

And His Stomach Is All Right

Thousands With Poor Teeth Have Good Digestion by Using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets After Meals

Whether or not we eat too much, is a matter for individual judgment. Benjamin Franklin tried the experiment of living on a handful of raisins. But he discovered that the question wasn't what he are nor the quantity thereof, but one of digestion and as-similation. The normal person eats heartily, and with keen enjoyment. That is because his mind doesn't anticipate stomach trouble. And if he does have an attack of sour stomach or indigestion he knows that the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give quick relief.

entleman of the "Old School" Who Keeps Up With the Times Many people have poor teeth, weak gums, sore teeth and other bothersome troubles that prevent a vigorous mastication of food. And instead of eating soft, mushy food that palls on the appetite they go in for those savory dishes, the very odor of which starts the saliva and makes the stomach fairly revel with anticipation. This is but a natural condition. Anything else borders upon the indifference which fosters indigestion and chronic dyspepsia.

It may be safely said that it should not be a question of diet or kind of food, or teeth or even any of the relexes which are supposed to have their influence in deranging the stomach. It is simply a matter of supplying the stomach and digestive organs with those known assistants such as pepsin, and hydrochloric acid, both of which have a direct and powerful action upon the contents of the stomach.

One grain of a single ingredient in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. This saves your stomach and gives it the rest it needs. All muscles require occasional rest if they are ever overtaxed. The stomach is no exception to this rule. Try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tab-lets and you will wonder how you ever got along without them. They are sold at 50 cents by all druggists every-
