

Social Activities Keep Members of Smart Set Busy in the Cities on Both Sides of the Bay

morning hours. On the committee in charge of the affair were L. A. Zins, chairman; John H. Reedy, F. A. Rogers and Leo F. Riordan.

Mrs. J. J. Lynch and her son, John Stanley Lynch, returned from the Orient on the U. S. S. Thomas after an absence of three months. During their sojourn in this city they are the guests of Mrs. Lynch's mother and sister, Mrs. F. J. Doyle and Mrs. Theodore Reinhardt, in their home at 529 Paris street.

The friends of Miss Flora Harris and Felix Scheyer, whose engagement was announced last week, will have an opportunity to extend their congratulations and felicitations on the good tidings this afternoon, when a reception in honor of the bride will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Harris, 1625 Washington street. The hours of the reception are from 2 to 5 o'clock. The bridegroom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Scheyer, prominent residents of this city.

A Thanksgiving wedding was that of Miss Anna M. Leonard and David A. Hughes, both popular in the city's social circles, which was celebrated in the Star of the Sea church Thursday evening. Rev. Father O'Ryan officiating. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion with palms and potted plants, with which was intermingled a profusion of blossoms shading from pink to white. The main altar was banked with roses and carnations against a background of green and the sanctuary was crowded with pink and white chrysanthemums.

Charles Leonard gave his sister in marriage. The bride was radiant in a robe of ivory messaline satin embellished with Irish point lace. Her tulle veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried an exquisite shower of white roses. Miss Zita Hannan, the maid of honor, wore a gown of pink satin elaborated with lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Frank McCord was the best man.

At the conclusion of the marriage service about 50 of the guests returned with the bride party to the Leonard home in Second avenue, where the wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are spending their honeymoon in the southern part of the state. Their future home will be in this city, where the bridegroom is engaged in business. Mrs. Hughes is the daughter of Mrs. Annie Leonard. She is prominent in the Young Ladies' institute, being a member of the Dolores institute No. 7. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hughes of San Francisco. He is the assistant advertising manager for the Alpine Evaporated Cream company.

The friends of Miss Gertrude Kemp gave a surprise party in her honor last Saturday evening. The affair was held in her home at Bush street, which was hung with red and white ribbons with which were entwined flowers and evergreens. Master Erving Kemp was the mascot of the evening. Those who took part in the fun were:

Miss Belle Friedman, Miss Bertha Newman, Miss Lorene Berry, Miss Francis Dibble, Miss Esther de la Cruz, Miss Margaret Dibble, Miss Violet Le Carra, Miss Zella Goldberg, Miss Ethel Grogan, Miss Henrietta Maglin.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Berman announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sadie Berman, to Robert Bornstein. Later a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents in this city, when the many friends of this popular couple will be given the opportunity of extending their good wishes on the happy tidings.

A pretty wedding was celebrated last Thursday evening, when Miss May E. Smith and Harry F. Sullivan plighted their troth in St. Agnes church of this city. Rev. Father Collins officiating. The decorations of both the church and house, where later the guests repaired for the wedding supper, followed a general color scheme of pink and yellow. Chrysanthemums in both shades were combined with evergreens to carry out the decorative plans.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Alfred Smith. She wore a gown of white brocade satin trimmed with rosepoint lace and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. A crown of orange blossoms held in place her tulle veil, which fell in graceful folds to the hem of her court train.

Attending her as maid of honor was Miss Genevieve Sullivan, a sister of the bridegroom. Miss Sullivan wore a gown of coral colored satin trimmed with Chantilly lace and a short veil of the same color. The two bridesmaids were Miss Marie Hayden and Miss Nellie Sullivan. Miss Hayden wore pink satin while her companion was attired in lavender. All of the attendants carried shower of fern tied with tulle to match their gowns.

Vincent P. Finnigan, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers were Joe Lewis, Walter Smith, Joe Finnigan and John Smith. On their return from an extended honeymoon the young couple will make their home in this city. Mrs. Sullivan is the daughter of the late J. Smith of the firm of McNab & Smith. Sullivan is the son of Mrs. W. P. Smith. He is connected with the Southern Pacific company.

The Christmas dance of the Deutscher will occur next Friday evening, when a delightful reunion of the members will be held in Native Sons hall. The hall will be made gay with Christmas greens and garlands, and at one end of the room will be a mammoth Christmas tree, from which presents and favors will be distributed by an over generous Santa Claus. A committee of arrangements has been placed in charge of the affair, which gives promise of being one of the most successful of the club's holidays.

Mrs. Ephraim H. Tryon, a picture of whom appears today, is one of the most indefatigable hostesses in local society. Her attractive home in Sacramento street is the scene of innumerable gatherings of the smart set, and during the coming months she is planning to hold a series of similar entertainments of an informal nature. She is also interested in the work of the women's clubs of San Francisco and is an active member of the California club.

In the Church of St. Agnes in this city the marriage of Miss May C. Worthington and George M. Carroll was celebrated Wednesday evening. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with roses and ferns which were shown effectively against a background of redwood and huckleberry. Only the members of the two families were present at the wedding, at which Rev. Father O'Malley officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a robe of pale blue crepe de meteor embellished with rich lace. She wore a black velvet picture hat laden with plumes and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Catherine Carroll, a sister of the bridegroom, who was the maid of honor, wore a gray messaline gown trimmed with touches of white lace and chiffon. She carried a bouquet of white roses. William Worthington, a brother of the bride, was the best man. Immediately after the wedding the entire party repaired to the home of the bride's parents in Fillmore street, where an informal reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will take an extended honeymoon in traveling through the southern part of the state. On their return they will reside in this city. Mrs. Carroll is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Worthington and is well known in the younger social circles of the city. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Carroll of 3858 Twenty-fifth street and is engaged in the electrical business in this city.

The first annual grand ball of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity was held in Century club hall last Thursday evening. The rooms were decked in holiday attire with masses of Christmas greens and garlands, and at one end of the room were Christmas trees, which were embellished with evergreens. Several delightful hours were passed in dancing before supper was served. On the committee who had the honor in charge and who received the guests of the fraternity were Lionel Milner, Samuel Kuhn, Clifford Solomon, Gilbert Frankenberg, William Roth, Harvey Hansen, Abe Harris, Hartford Bradford and Ira Hodess.

The Jewish-American Progressive club has issued invitations to the third grand ball to be given by this organization, which they will hold Sunday evening, December 15. A capable committee, of which Abe Rosenberg is chairman, is making elaborate preparations to insure the success of the party. The officers of the Jewish-American Progressive club are: President, Louis Zwerin; vice president, Abe Rosenberg; secretary, Wilfred Friedman; treasurer, Miss Ida Cohn. On the committee in charge of the affair are Rosenberg, assisted by Miss Annie Schwartz, Miss Tillie Arbin, Joseph Phillips and Frank Hangaard. Jack Reiss will have charge of the dancing and will be assisted by Miss Sophie Marcuse and Sam Philshell.

The annual ball of the San Francisco chapter of the American Institute of Banking will be held Thursday evening, December 5, at the Fairmont hotel, under the leadership of the following officers:

Thomas Spillane, president; M. R. Clark, vice president; William Marcus, secretary and treasurer. The American Institute of Banking is affiliated with the American Bankers' association, chapters being located in all the large cities of the United States. The object of the institute is the education of all bank clerks—many of its graduates now being officers of leading banks throughout the country.

Following is the floor committee: John S. Curran, floor manager; assistants, E. J. De Vries, Elmer Garrett, M. Sears, E. M. Brown, M. R. Clark.

Several hundred guests attended the annual Thanksgiving ball at which council 880 of the Knights of Columbus entertained Thanksgiving eve. The affair was held in their headquarters in Golden Gate avenue, which were elaborately decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting and masses of flowers and evergreens. The guests were received by a committee which included John J. Quinn, Edward McDevitt, James M. Hanley, Dr. Joseph G. Brady, A. F. Cosgrove, T. J. Savage, John E. Mullen, Thomas F. Boyle, Dr. F. J. S. Conlan, Frank J. Glunk, H. H. McManus, W. J. Ahern, Dr. T. M. McGuire and Joseph L. Taaffe.
