

AS WOMAN TO WOMAN

By RUTH CAMERON

Did you ever realize to what an astonishing extent pleasure and pain, desire and dislike are subjective rather than objective, that is, produced by our own minds and our own condition rather than by external objects?

Suppose I make that more concrete. For two or three years I have been telling every one about the indescribably delicious orangeade which I once bought at a little corner grocery store in a small country town.

Again, at the end of a vacation at a primitive summer resort where the mattresses were of the kind that seem to be making an effort to push through your anatomy I spent a long day journeying in the open air and stopped at night at a rather nice little inn.

Surely you have had similar experiences, when you attributed great charm or lack of it to some object and found after all that most of this feeling was subjective.

And don't you imagine that very often the same thing is the case when we don't find it out or admit it to ourselves? For instance, our admiration and desire for some expensive article we think is caused by the beauty and desirability of the article.

And again I wonder how often love itself is subjective, and is inspired more by the lover's desire to love than by any wonderful charm in the beloved.

"E. A. Wilson" Exhibits Crowd Views Paintings

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, whose 25 paintings in oil signed "E. A. Wilson" are on exhibition in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—Twenty-five paintings in oil, each signed "E. A. Wilson," and all painted within the last two years, were put on public exhibition today in the little gallery of the arts and crafts guild. When the exhibition opened this morning there was a big crowd on hand to see the paintings.

"E. A. Wilson," it may be said at once, is Ellen A. Wilson of Princeton, N. J., perhaps better known to the public as Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president elect of the United States. Mrs. Wilson has been painting for years. At first she devoted herself to portrait work, but recently turned to landscape painting.

The paintings are for sale. They range in price from $100 for the larger ones down. Mrs. Wilson, it may be said, does not hope to profit by the sale.

WHY DOES HIS WOMAN? NO ONE

Small Wonder There Are So Many Bachelors in the World

Hanford Ideal Is Being Superior to Any Angel Wearing Wings

(Special Dispatch to The Call)
HANFORD, Feb. 19.—What constitutes the ideal woman for a wife? The question is not, what are the few good qualities a wife should have.

Rev. W. C. Loomis, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Hanford, sent out letters to young men of Hanford, asking them to write their ideal for a wife. Numerous answers were received, but the one Rev. Loomis and all Hanford have decided is the best is this one:

"The ideal woman for a wife should have these qualifications: The voice of Melba; the talent of Paderewski; the figure of Venus; the grace of Eryll; the vivacity of a coryphe; eyes like the soft glow of a moonlight eve; an alabaster-like complexion; the virtues of a nun; the charm of Cleopatra; the meekness of Moses; the patience of Job; the forbearance of Lazarus; the zeal of a Trojan; the constancy of Caesar's wife; the capabilities of a charwoman; the purse of Betty Green, and hair of her own."

Cardinal Farley Heads Party at Anniversary of First Diocese Establishment in New World

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 19.—Cardinal Farley of New York and Archbishop J. H. Blank of New Orleans, accompanied by a number of prelates, arrived here today.

They will take part in the celebration in connection with the four hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Catholic church in the island of Porto Rico—the first Catholic diocese in the new world.

The Right Rev. W. A. Jones, bishop of Porto Rico, met the party and a great crowd which gathered greeted the visitors enthusiastically.

Now, however, she does not believe it dignified for her to sell her work for personal gain. She has decided to devote the proceeds of sales made at the present exhibition to the school for the education of mountain children at Rome, Ga.

Mrs. Wilson's paintings are meritorious. In many instances the colors are unusually praiseworthy. They show real appreciation of nature and have actual sense of composition.

WOMEN THANK WHITE FOR GUARD OF POLICE

Political League Praises Protection Afforded at Street Meetings

Informal discussions along several lines occupied the afternoon yesterday at the Women's Political League meeting, the aftermath of the street meeting held recently under direction of the league furnishing an important topic.

It was voted to write Chief of Police White a letter of thanks for his protection through the medium of a large plain clothes man detailed to care for the speakers at this meeting.

"Side issue" remarks at the meetings were firmly condemned by several speakers. Miss Mary Fairbrother, president of the league, said street speaking dit-

Untruthfulness was strongly condemned by Miss Fairbrother even in the cause of truth and for the benefit of the subject.

Mrs. Lenore Kothe advised that diplomacy be used in all cases when some point is to be raised, and particularly in street speaking. H. C. Moore then spoke on pure food under the title of "Read the Label," most of his discourse being in reply to questions propounded by his audience.
