UMAHA'S STORY OF HORROR IS TOLD BY

W. H. Early, Petaluma Attorney, Who Saw Cyclone Wreck City, Gives Description

luma, arrived here yesterday direct from Omaha. He was an eyewitness to the cyclone that struck that city and caused great loss of life and damage to property. Mr. Early at the office of Harold Ide Cruzan in the Merchants bank building gave a graphic description of his experience.

"I don't want to have anything more to do with cyclones. I was within a fraction of a mile of the Omaha cyclone and was looking right at it when it struck the town. Had it hit the business section of the city it would have created untold loss of life.

'I arrived at Omaha Sunday afternoon and went to a downtown hotel.
The day was as balmy as a California winter afternoon and there was scarce a breath of air stirring. After an automobile ride, a train acquaintance and myself returned to the hotel and a few minutes later a fire alarm sounded. This was shortly before 6 o'clock. We walked down the main street in the direction of the fire and we could see that it was gaining headway. We hurried forward and then came the strange and fatal happenings of the calm atmosphere suddenly The calm atmosphere suddenly seemed to become surcharged with electricity. A few black clouds gafnered. There was a queer feeling of depression and the air seemed to suck one toward the scene of the conflagration—I can not describe the feeling. I become felt envisional like it before and never felt anything like it before and hope never to again.

"Both of us were very much frightened, but our curiosity made us forget the terrible danger that we were in. I stood with my eyes fastened on the frightful spectacle and all the while the witchlike wind seemed to keep drawing us by unseen power toward the storm center where lives by scores were being blotted out. "Windows in the neighborhood where we stood were sucked from their sashes as cleanly as if they had been cut out with a glass cutter. It was an uncanny experience. We realized that we were in great danger, but that great, angry twisting, turning, bounding cloud held us to it with a strange power. I realized that we were helpless and that we might just as well stand still as to attempt to run. No one could tell where that vicious thing was going to

"The cyclone had played strange ranks. The stone residences that withstood it were cleaned of every particle of their contents. Chairs, carpets, bookcases, everything was stripped out of houses and sent through doors and windows as if they had been thrown out by human hands. Some houses were cut off as clean as a whisthe from the second floor to roof. An orphan asylum had one side of it paired "AWAY WITH SENTIMENT" away as if done with a monster knife

From all accounts the arsenals, stores and much of the town are in the formula of the fairest city in Thrace, but which is now a shell scarred mass of ruins—Adrianople, Selim's city fallen at last.

'I counted 68 dead podies in my wan-derings and the wounded were numerous. The police and emergency service worked with coolness and precision, then the leaders of the men have to act with strength and precision. I have instances. The stricken district was quickly patrolled and assistance given the homeless.

Marshal Towe and Former Commissioner Faymonville Back Demands for Able Staff

Fire Chief Murphy finds many experienced fire veterans to back his demand for an assistant who is physically as well as mentally capable of facing any crisis that might arise in the history of fire disasters of this city was reaching toward the city. It was bouncing up and down like a boy's diving kite and when it struck the ground there was a tremendous volume of sound work in a tremendous volume of sound work in a spiral cloud. Fire Marshal Towe, who has spent his life in the study of fire conditions, unqualifiedly backs up Chief Murphy's on sound work in a spiral country of sound work in a spiral country or sound work in a spiral country or spiral countr opinions as expressed in The Call yesterday morning.

Many of the prominent insurance men applaud Chief Murphy's views, and Su-perintendent John F. O. Comstock of the Underwriters' fire patrol said that the chief was absolutely right in his deductions. Bernard Faymonville, former fire commissioner, vice president of the Fireman's Fund Insurance company, said: "Murphy is correct. I am absolutely on his side of the argument.

TOWE FAVORS FIT FOREMEN "A man who would be an assistant to a fire chief should have one arm for himself and the other for his city," said Fire Marshal Towe. "He should be physically able to go first and let the others follow. "Fire fighting has got to be a science and firemen of today fight fires on sci-entific lines. Nothing hurts a fireman so much as to see a building burn; his pleasure is in seeing how well he can save a structure. A large fire loss is distressing to a fireman and he nat-urally wants his fighting force to be up to the greatest height of physical effi-

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder-cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

681/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67% Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.
