

THE CITIZEN

H. WILSON, Editor and Publisher. E. A. FERRELL, Business Manager. THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1908. REPUBLICAN TICKET.

NATIONAL. FOR PRESIDENT. WM. HOWARD TAFT, of Ohio. Vice President. JAMES S. SHERMAN, of New York.

FOR SENATOR. MORRIS L. CLOUTIER, of Philadelphia. BENJAMIN F. JONES, Jr., of Pittsburgh. FOR DISTRICT. J. J. ...

FOR JUDGE OF SUPERIOR COURT. WM. D. PORTER, of Allegheny. DISTRICT. CHARLES C. PRATT, of Susquehanna.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE. W. E. PHIBBS, of Freedom. FOR SENATOR. M. LEE BRAMAN, of Honesdale.

FOR PHOTOGRAPHER. WALLACE J. BARNER, of Berlin. FOR PHOTOGRAPHER. ALFRED O. BLAKE, of Bethany.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. J. K. ROHNBECK, of Equinox. THOMAS C. MADDOCK, of Freeport.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY. ARTHUR W. LARABEE, of Strucoma. W. BROCK LESHER, of Berling.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY. MYRON E. SIMONS, of Honesdale. Democratic National Convention.

The dispatches in our news columns give a summary of the situation at Denver, presiding the opening of the Democratic National convention in that city.

At noon on Tuesday the Convention opened. Theodore A. Bell, of California, was chosen Temporary Chairman. The members of the various committees were named, but contests in the Pennsylvania delegation interfered with the representation on these. A resolution was adopted expressing the deep sorrow of the Convention at the death of President Cleveland, and a further expression of respect to his memory.

The Convention adjourned until Wednesday noon. After the adjournment the several committees proceeded with their labors. The Committee on Credentials took up the question of the admission of Idaho, Kansas, but without reaching a decision. The Committee on Permanent Organization decided on Representative Clayton, of Alabama, for Permanent Chairman, in accordance with the preference expressed by Col. Bryan.

The Committee on Rules and Order of the Convention adopted, without change, the rules of the Convention of 1904, which embrace the "two-thirds rule." The Committee on Resolutions is seeking the phraseology best calculated to honor the people in the new function and tariff resolutions. These must be approved by the Convention, and it is understood that he will try to make it easy for the Committee.

Dr. H. B. Raymond and Dr. A. M. Heberling started this A. M. on a trip to the West, probably for Alaska. Both are young men and we wish them success.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Post have another son, a baby girl born early on July 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Boubon Brockner, of Gouldsboro are the proud "Pa and Ma" of a wee baby boy that the doctor left in their charge, just the other day.

H. A. Lancaster has been quite sick lately from complaint incident to old age. At this writing he is somewhat better.

Henry Selig is seriously ill of heart trouble and dropsy. The chances for his recovery are doubtful.

At the annual commencement at Parkersburg, West Virginia, the following named pupils from the township of Dreher, Wayne county, and Greentown, Pike county, passed very creditable examinations and without any conditions.

At the annual commencement at Parkersburg, West Virginia, the following named pupils from the township of Dreher, Wayne county, and Greentown, Pike county, passed very creditable examinations and without any conditions.

At the annual commencement at Parkersburg, West Virginia, the following named pupils from the township of Dreher, Wayne county, and Greentown, Pike county, passed very creditable examinations and without any conditions.

Additional Nearly Forgotten Facts.

Wednesday last week, July 1, 1908, was the fiftieth anniversary of the formal opening of the Allen House, and the writer believes himself the only person now living who took any part in the actual mechanical work required in the construction of the original building.

That service was of no greater extent or importance than the painting of the outside and other necessary interior work on the doors of the various rooms; but a vivid recollection remains of the satisfaction with which the job was surveyed when it was finished—blazing out as it did in all the glory of gold leaf and Chinese vermilion shading.

Honesdale had several hotels when the Allen House was built, but its erection was nevertheless regarded as a necessary step to supply the necessary "hotel" space. The old hoteliers were popular and well patronized, but they were all at that time types of the old-fashioned wayside tavern, and not in keeping with the general appearance of the place, or adequate for the accommodation of the traveling public.

The public hotels were the Wayne County House, built in 1858, by Charles Forbes, and the one conducted by E. R. Hays, the Messrs. Thomas Sherwood, proprietor, the Union Hotel, corner Main and Ninth streets, Isaac Clinton, landlord; the Coyne House, corner Main and 6th streets, originally built by Hiram Plum for Augustus Sackett, and the property of Patrick Burns; with perhaps some smaller places of entertainment. All of these concerns were subsequently burned down, and their sites now more or less date structures, fine stores now occupying some of the sites, and handsome three story brick hotels the others.

Henry Dakwo took over the operation of the hotel in 1858, and then one may meet upon the street a gray haired father or mother who, then in the first flush of young manhood or womanhood, can now recall their share in the festivities of the event. A few others are scattered throughout the world, considering that almost a half century has passed since that time, let us hope in happiness and contentment, and giving an occasional thought to that episode in their youthful lives; but the great majority can only be counted among the loved and lost. It is more pathetic to summon before the mind's eye nearly forgotten faces than to recall nearly forgotten facts.

Mr. Allen has been in his grave thirty-three years, and his excellent helpmeet, that most lovable woman, "Aunt Letty," was long since laid beside him in Glen Derry. Their names are still household words, however, as are those of some others, departed and remaining, whose lives were interwoven with the history of the Allen House, and of whom more particular mention must be reserved for another article.

The buildings for patients are two stories high, and all are equipped with red brick walls, trimmed with light colored woodwork. The floors are of open slate. All floors and roofs are supported with steel members, and are equipped with a complete set of fire escapes. A good supply of spring water will be furnished by the town of Honesdale. The buildings at all times, under proper supervision.

The buildings for patients are two stories high, and all are equipped with red brick walls, trimmed with light colored woodwork. The floors are of open slate. All floors and roofs are supported with steel members, and are equipped with a complete set of fire escapes.

The Farview Hospital.

At last THE CITIZEN is enabled to give some definite information regarding the proposed plans for the new hospital in Honesdale. We take the following from the Philadelphia Inquirer of July 3d:

When the proposed State Hospital for the mentally ill at Farview, Wayne county, for which bids were opened by the Commonwealth yesterday, is completed, it will be the largest and most modern of its kind in Pennsylvania. It will have the most perfect institution of its kind in the State.

The plans for the proposed hospital, which have been approved by the commission on the part of the State Hospital for the mentally ill, are of a high order. The object of the institution is to provide for the treatment of the insane, and for any who may be adjudged insane at the time of committing a criminal act, and to the extent of the law, to prevent the ordinary insane from being confined in jails and prisons.

The various buildings are arranged so as to afford the most complete and comfortable quarters for the patients. The buildings at all times, under proper supervision.

The buildings for patients are two stories high, and all are equipped with red brick walls, trimmed with light colored woodwork. The floors are of open slate. All floors and roofs are supported with steel members, and are equipped with a complete set of fire escapes.

The buildings for patients are two stories high, and all are equipped with red brick walls, trimmed with light colored woodwork. The floors are of open slate. All floors and roofs are supported with steel members, and are equipped with a complete set of fire escapes.

The buildings for patients are two stories high, and all are equipped with red brick walls, trimmed with light colored woodwork. The floors are of open slate. All floors and roofs are supported with steel members, and are equipped with a complete set of fire escapes.

COMMUTING BY AIRSHIP.

Practicable Now to Go to Business on Airplanes, Says A. M. Herring. A. M. Herring and Captain Thomas S. Baldwin, both of whom are holding licenses for the United States government for the operation of airships, and the latter a dirigible balloon, have expressed keen interest in the recent successful flight of twelve hours over the Atlantic by Count Zeppelin in his dirigible airship, carrying fourteen passengers.

The dirigible balloon is here to stay," said Captain Baldwin. "The success has only begun to appear, and it is only a question of time before it will be a practical mode of travel." A. M. Herring, whose interest lies more in the aeroplane type of machine, said:

"The dirigible balloon and the aeroplane will certainly be developed side by side for practical purposes. Both will be the airships of the future. The dirigible, which is more rapidly being developed, is the one which will represent the bulk of the traffic, carrying a number of men with plenty of stores and supplies, while the aeroplane represents the torpedo and seaplane boats."

At the coming time in August at Fort Myer the government will test the dirigible balloon, and the one that Mr. Herring is building. While he was naturally guarded in giving any indication of the new ideas he has brought out in his machine, Mr. Herring did say that he could fly with one man with a machine only fourteen feet in length, while it would be possible to carry three men in a twenty-foot machine.

"I am perfectly convinced by my experiments," added Mr. Herring, "that the aeroplane of the immediate future will be not only safe, but entirely practical, and will be used for all purposes of commerce and pleasure. It will be a fact in the history of the world."

Mr. Herring was asked if these dirigible balloons would be used for passenger service. He said that he would be glad to see them used for all purposes of commerce and pleasure. It will be a fact in the history of the world.

Mr. Herring was asked if these dirigible balloons would be used for passenger service. He said that he would be glad to see them used for all purposes of commerce and pleasure. It will be a fact in the history of the world.

Transfers of Real Estate.

Anthony Robert and wife to Aleck Beckler, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000. J. J. ...

Earl Beckler and wife to Kate Vaux, $1000. J. J. ...

Edward Weidner and wife to Alexander Freil, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

Indian Orchard.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

John E. H. Brown and wife to A. M. Stieling, $1000. Wm. H. Smith and wife to George Beckler, $1000.

HONESDALE DIME BANK

Accepts Deposits, Loans Money in Small and Large Amounts. It Gives Free to All. A Handy Household Bank. Check and Pass Book. One to the Savings Depositor, the other to Anyone opening a Business Account.

Doing Business by Check is the up-to-the minute way. It Saves Wrangles. It Saves Paying Twice. It Saves Losses. Because a Check is always a Receipt.

Cheapest and Safest Way to Send Money to Foreign Countries is by a Money Order issued by this Bank. Safety Deposit Boxes for Your Valuable Papers $3 and upward per annum. Open a Business or Savings Account Now.

The Spring Styles in High Art Clothing. An Authoritative Display for Men. NEVER before in the history of this store have we shown such a large stock of High Art Clothing.

The fabrics are assuredly striking and attractive, with every trait of refinement. The prices, as always, are decidedly lower than equal style, quality, fit and workmanship can be sold for elsewhere.

Full Line of Gents' Furnishings. Special Prices on Children's Clothing. BREGSTEIN BROTHERS Main St., Honesdale.

The Era of New Mixed Paints! This year opens with a deluge of new mixed paints. A condition brought about by our enterprising dealers to get some kind of a mixed paint that we happily advertised, may find a sale with the unwary.