Condition of the Freedmen.

The following is another letter from Mr. Alford to General Howard in relation to the condition of the freedmen of the South:

My dear General: I find in this city the "black institutions" which were established and are now being conducted by the Freedmen's Bureau...

This is a continuation of the schools we started when your army from the Atlantic coast was in the South. Changes have taken place...

I called together the "old colored education committee" (these are the same whose names are on the certificate of the Freedmen's Bureau...

The same has been done in the case of the colored people of the South. They have a school, a church, a home, and a family...

An Assistant Surgeon in the navy lately made inquiries to ascertain if he could effect a transfer to the army, and was informed that a transfer is impossible...

President Grant, the Emperor Eugenio, Wm. B. Astor, A. T. Stewart, Erasmus Corning, Daniel Drew, and Wm. H. Kearsney...

General Townsend and Hardee, of the Adjutant General's Office, were each bequeathed the sum of $5,000 by the will of General Sherman...

Robert Lincoln, eldest son of the late President, was at the White House on Thursday, Feb. 10, 1892...

Lectures of Professor Davis.—This distinguished lecturer will deliver the first of a course of scientific lectures, at Lincoln Hall, to-night...

Two Conventions.—In his last letter to the "National Republican," Dr. J. W. Alford writes as follows in relation to two conventions recently held at Lincoln Hall...

First Class Dry Goods at Cost For Cash. Notwithstanding the fact that the price of goods is so high...

MARK TWAIN'S "INNOCENT ABROAD." Just finished a large supply of this paper...

The Inebriate Asylum.

A report has just been made by the committee on the part of the State Inebriate Asylum, at Spring Grove, near Annapolis...

The committee express their deep sympathy for the inebriate, and their conviction that the State should do all in its power to relieve him...

The condition referred to, as shown by the resolutions adopted by a recent meeting, was that the money derived from the sale of the land...
