THE NEW YORK CONVENTION.

The New York Republican convention which met at Rochester yesterday attracted a great deal of public attention from the fact that it has been generally expected that its action would determine the future relations of Mr. CONKLING to the Administration. It must be admitted that the speech of the temporary chairman, Mr. PLATT, was not at all surprising. The style in which he delivered his address is that of those who are at heart opposed to any change in the old system of spoils. It is very easy to say that one is honest, capable and faithful officers should be appointed. Why did Mr. PLATT go on step further and say something about securing good officers' permanency in the tenure of their places? He did not do it because he knew that it would be admitting a principle which would be fatal to the system of spoils which he is so devotedly attached.

Mr. PLATT's treatment of the question of civil service reform was wholly wanting in fairness and logic. It was a low appeal, which could only be suitably addressed to men whose highest aspirations are for office, and who look upon politics as a trade. His observations on the Southern question were in keeping with the rest of his speech. He totally ignored the grand work of reconciliation which President HAYES has accomplished. He preached the doctrine of sectional hate. At a time when the sky was serene and clear than it has been for years, he has the shameless audacity to obscure the horizon, and to say that the friends of freedom now have cause for despondency. In view of the cordial reception which the Southern people have just given President HAYES and the loyal sentiments which have been universally avowed in that section of the Union, Mr. PLATT'S utterances were but little short of treasonable. Whatever Mr. PLATT and narrow-minded partisans like him may think about the matter, we are confident that the great mass of the people throughout the North are willing to trust the HAMPTONS, the HILLS and the LAMARS. They believe that those statesmen are now loyal citizens of a common country, and that they desire to promote its glory and prosperity as objects of the first importance. Mr. PLATT'S speech is a miserable attempt to keep alive that spirit of sectional issue which has already produced so many evil results in this Republic. He deserves to be rebuked by every patriotic citizen for his ill-omened words of hate.

We are very far from believing that Mr. PLATT spoke the sentiments of any considerable portion of the Republican North in New York. The fact that he received some applause in the convention is a matter of but little moment, for it is very doubtful whether that body was in any proper sense of the term a representative one. It is a scarcely little body who stole $1 in New Hampshire and next week will be in New York City and make a million dollars. The fact that gentlemen will receive a true picture in the printing, which is a true picture in the printing.

THE PATENT OFFICE. The Patent Office file exposes to foreign nations the flimsy character of our governmental architecture. It is a collection of models and drawings that offer an exhibition of the inventive genius of our citizens which have stamped a high opinion of our achievements in that direction. Foreigners will learn with astonishment that that wonderful and invaluable collection was stored in a tinler-box admirably adapted for consuming them with great rapidity by fire.

WE ARE GLAD to observe that the new constitution of Georgia contains a very salutary provision in relation to divorce. The legislation of many of the States upon this subject is a disgrace to the States which have adopted it. It is a disgrace to the States which have adopted it. It is a disgrace to the States which have adopted it.

EXCEPTIONS have been taken in some quarters to the rule adopted by Mr. SCHREIBER, clerks in his Department may go home to vote, but that during their absence they shall be considered as absent from their posts. In regard to this matter, looking at it from the standpoint of civil service reform, if the principles of that system are to prevail, then the clerks in the several Departments of the Government will be a general body of permanent citizens of this District. Although they may enjoy the constructive right of voting in the States from where they were appointed, they should not be considered as citizens of the District in which they are appointed. There can certainly be no propriety in allowing their pay to continue while they are absent from the city on such business. We do not see why a different rule should be applied to civil servants of the Government from that which has long prevailed as to army officers. The fact that the latter seldom if ever vote gives them a moral right to be treated in the same manner. The German Empire comprised within the consulate general of Frankfurt-on-the-Main. The very friendly feeling which prevails among the people toward the United States will greatly facilitate the commercial relations between the two nations.

SOUTH AMERICA.

MATTERS ON THE ISTHMIAN.—MR. HENRY MEIGGS IMPROVING IN HEALTH. A letter from Punta Arenas, Sept. 15, to the diplomatic difficulty which occurred in the Nicaraguan capital last June, recites the efforts of the German imperial chargé to obtain satisfaction for the assault on the British minister and says the Government of the United States, hearing of so disagreeable a question, interposed its good offices with a view of persuading the Government of Nicaragua to accede to the claim of the Imperial Government.

THE ORGANIZATION of Texas State troops for service on the Rio Grande looks like business. The New Jersey Republicans did well in nominating ex-Gov. NEWELL. He will give McTULLAN trouble to last him.

THE ENTHUSIASM which the mention of the name of Gen. FRANKLIN in the New York Republican convention has excited in the ranks of the party is very significant when taken in connection with the fact that in some quarters about nominating him for a third term.

SECTOR GALES, ex of Raleigh, N. C., nephew of the late Gen. Gales, has been nominated for the office of Door-keeper of the House of Representatives at the next session. He is supported by the members from that section.

IT IS PROPOSED that Mrs. VAN COTT should have a preaching hall with BRACKEN, she is said to have a wonderfully kind mouth.—(Special N. Y. Herald.)

THERE ARE GREAT many men out of employment here. "Will you permit me to descend, my friends," said Mrs. Adams on Friday's Saturday night. Just then she stepped indignantly on the marble platform at the head of the steps and down came the whole company, Mrs. Adams and her friends.

THE AMING part of the affair was that Julia Adams, who had been dead several hours and was lying in state, was found to be still alive. She was taken up and carried to a hospital where she died three hours after she was found to be still alive. GEN. CROOK and the entire Indian delegation, including the French and half-breed interpreters paid a visit to Brady's national portrait gallery, when they were shown the picture of the party. The chiefs were much pleased with the operation and will carry home with them some good photographs.

PERSONAL.

PETER COOK is eighty-six. VICTOR HUGO has a new novel under way! MROPHY inaugurates his autumn meetings in Boston in quite a common place affair. It says: No architect ever submitted to equal divisions in height without becoming mechanical and the four blocks at the base of the shaft under the dome of the cathedral, from the normal level of the column in this order, but the variation attempted by the architect was to be a monument and a tomb. The four figures placed on the angle buttresses of the pinnacled were unhappily placed. From every corner of the dome the monument sprang at its base. It is neither compact nor pyramidal in effect. It is, perhaps, in the placing of the statues that the architect was most successful. The figures are not so good in modeling to be so unartistically disposed. They are not so good in modeling to be so unartistically disposed. They are not so good in modeling to be so unartistically disposed.

"LITTLE MAC" accepts, and already his friends raise the cry of "On to Washington!" SIR HENRY HALFORD, of the British fifth rifle team, intends making an extensive tour in the United States. JAMES FOX, father of Col. Flak, is peddling lightning rods in the northern part of New Hampshire. THOM PEDDIE went out five private scribbles, and left them behind when he sailed for home. THE Emperor of Brazil was due at Rio de Janeiro yesterday, after an absence of nearly eight months. EX-VICE PRESIDENT SCHUYLER COLFAX is announced to lecture in Chillicothe, Ohio, on the evening of October 1st. CALEN CUSHING and some of his neighbors in Newburyport went fishing, and caught two hundred and two hundred and eight in two hours. THE rumor that Col. Thomas A. Scott intends to retire from the presidency of the Texas Pacific Railroad, authorized by the Philadelphia Press. GRACE GREENWOOD remarks that the story of her seeking and obtaining a divorce from her husband is a lie, and that she never had any such intention. URBAIN JEAN JOSEPH LEVERBIER, whose death is reported to have occurred in the West Indies, was one of the great astronomers of the nineteenth century. SIR ISAAC THOMPSON played in Oyster Bay, N. Y., yesterday, and he was one of the best players in the world. ZAKAROFF, in "The Danicheffs," is the Bow Tied Russian. THE new Yale nine are not the faculty. The latter are all bald-headed, however. AND THE times are hard and there is only seven hundred and fifty millions of dollars in the New England savings banks!

"HELEN'S BARRIS" have given rise to a great deal of bad literature and bad conduct, and those who were never prolific in any other direction. THE SYRACUSE, N. Y., Journal has reliable information that Medlines have tapped the spirit of BIRCHAM YOUNG. But whether it is that which he left behind or took with him is not stated. H. H. WHITNEY, of SYRACUSE, N. Y., committed suicide in consequence of having suffered from a severe attack of insanity. He was a man of great faith, his exit was but from one fire trouble to another. Still, he took the fire risk in the latter.

THE benevolent temperament of the editor of the Helena (Montana) Herald causes him to say that notwithstanding the universal complaint of hard times the fact remains that the world is a better place than it was a few years ago. SIXTY-SIX MONTHS is the sentence of a naughty little boy who stole $1 in New Hampshire and next week will be in New York City and make a million dollars. The fact that gentlemen will receive a true picture in the printing, which is a true picture in the printing.

HOW IT WAS.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S SPEECH REVIEWED BY A LONDON JOURNAL. Secretary Sherman's speech at Mansfield is thus editorially mentioned by the Telegraph, a London daily having a circulation of a quarter of a million copies: Mr. Sherman, the Secretary of the United States Treasury, made a highly interesting speech at Mansfield, Ohio, a week or two back, which has scarcely attracted the attention it deserves. It dealt with a wide range of subjects, the Treasury, the Southern policy, the great labor problem, the exchange of currencies, the progress of the country, the economy, the Government loans, with special reference to the issue of a 4 per cent. loan, and the prospects of the industry, progress of the country, as well as the favorable features in the prospect. The speech is eminently able and well reasoned, showing not only a deep knowledge of the subject, but an independence and firmness of tone which are not often met with in the speeches of American statesmen. It is a model of the kind of speech which should be made in the approaching return to peace, and it is a model of the kind of speech which should be made in the approaching return to peace.
