

SUBSCRIBERS' BOX.

For the better accommodation of our country subscribers at present we have arranged a box at our office, in which their papers will be regularly placed and whence they can receive them when called for.

To CANDIDATES.—Candidates for office need occasionally to be reminded that we insert no announcements, unless accompanied with the printer's fee of $10. We have on hand a goodly number of names which have been left at our office to be announced in the foregoing connection, but until our old-established rates are complied with, the parties concerned cannot receive the benefit of a standing announcement in our columns.

FINE PEACHES.—West Baton Rouge seems to take the lead in producing the finest fruit we have seen this season. Mr. JADOT, of our city has presented us with a couple of very large fine peaches, which to look at, make one's mouth water. They were obtained from the place of WILLIAM WHITE, Esq., at Bruly Landing.

OFFICE REMOVAL.—Dr. D. L. McKIRK, Surgeon Dentist, has removed his office to the parsonage building, immediately back of the Episcopal Church, a retired and at the same time, convenient locality, where we presume the Doctor will continue to receive as many calls from his patrons as he can well give attention to. Long may he flourish.

In the speech of the Duke of Somerset at the recent wedding in the Rothschild family, he observed that the Rothschild had succeeded where politicians had failed, and produced a "union of the nations."

THE CITY SURRENDERED TO THE MAJOR.—It will be seen by the order of Gen. Davidson that the municipal authority heretofore exercised by the military power has been surrendered to the Mayor.—Vicksburg Herald.

Somebody who has seen Carlyle lately says he is in good health, walks erect, but is somewhat thin, and his raven locks are intermingled with grey. Having evidently given his razor a long holiday, his physiognomy, like his style, is somewhat ragged.

The old elm tree on Boston Common on which Mary Dyer was hung, two hundred and thirty years ago, for preaching Quaker doctrines is still standing. Some of its heavy branches are supported by iron chains, and every possible care is taken for its preservation.

The Prince of Wales is to open the "Internal Dog Show" at Agricultural Hall, in London. Fourteen hundred specimens have been entered for exhibition, and over two hundred rejected, as the show was "all full inside." Its shady bow-wow-ers ought to open on dog days.

The Boston journal is evidently proud that this is "a nation of orators." We are not. In our opinion "the gift of the gab" has been and still is a curse to the nation. There is a great demand for labor. Let us have more work and less talk, and we shall be more prosperous.—True Del.

Persons who are downcast and apt to look on the dark side of things are advised to take a walk to St. Charles street and look at our grand hotel, the St. Charles, which is becoming as white as alabaster under the touch of the renovators. This is to be followed up within the vast pile, until it is made new again in all that the guest sees or enjoys.—N. O. Pic.

Marriage Regulations for Freedmen.

A recent circular from the Bureau of Free Labor at Montgomery, Ala., lays down the following salutary rules for the governance of Freedmen in their future marital covenants and responsibilities:

"That Freedmen may acquire proper views of the sacred nature and solemn obligations of the marriage rite, thereby promoting the virtue and future welfare of the race, blank marriage certificates will hereafter be issued from this office. Attaching to each certificate is an accompanying return, which, after being filled out by the officiating person, will be returned by him, without delay, for registration. Thus an accurate marriage record will be kept for future reference.

"Chaplains in the army, clergymen and magistrates, are earnestly invited to authorize the marriages of such as have been living together as husband and wife, and to encourage lawful marriage, in all cases, among candidates for matrimony. Each ceremony should be witnessed by a person who can sign his name in writing and not by mark.

"Care, also, should be taken to impress upon the minds of candidates the solemn nature of their marriage vows, and to add such instructions as shall lead them to order aright their households, making them as far as possible the abodes of industry, peace and certain faith.

C. W. BUCKLEY, Ass't Sup't Freedmen."

It would be a blessing everywhere, could similar steps be taken and effectually applied towards reforming the notorious abuses which exist in the conjugal relations of Freedmen, and the loose and promiscuous intercourse indulged in by the young and unmarried of both sexes. Nor is the demoralizing propensity confined to their own color. Debased white men are to be found who violate the laws of public and private decency by the most licentious practices among the colored females. Freedmen are well aware that such men are not their true friends, but they are unable to remedy the growing evil without the aid of some official interposition co-operating with a wholesome and united public sentiment condemnatory of the abuses referred to.

THE FATE OF THE NEGRO.—The Journal of Commerce, commenting upon the condition of the negroes South, says:

Unless strong preventive measures are employed, there is reason to fear that the lot of the unfortunate Indian race will in course of time fall to the descendants of the African in this country, and that instead of having occasion, as now, to marvel at this fecundity of the Southern negro, we shall see him wasting away from the inroads of disease and vicious propensities. This is the fate of the Sandwich Islander and of all the inferior races when brought into competition with the pure-blooded white man. Let our philanthropic societies take notice and seek to devise a remedy. Good sumptuary laws may accomplish something. Negroes heretofore have increased rapidly at the South. It would be a sad story if liberty should debase and decrease them.

A UNITED STATES OFFICER ON NEGRO SUFFRAGE.—"An officer of Sherman's army" writes to the Cincinnati Inquirer:

I voted for Mr. Lincoln in 1860; I voted for him in 1864, to put down slavery and the rebellion. But it is attempted to enlarge the sphere of the republican party—to make it advocate not only the abolition of slavery, but also that of negro suffrage. I sustain President Johnson. I believe, with the Commercial, that the popular side is against negro suffrage. While I want universal liberty, that don't mean that the negro, who never did anything for himself or civilization, except under the supervision of the white man, is to be put on an equality with the white man. I did not sustain the war for that purpose.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE AND STATE RIGHTS. The Ohio State Journal, the central Ohio organ of Republicanism, in speaking of President Johnson's ideas of negro suffrage and State rights, says:

President Johnson's views of "secession" and his plan of reconstruction, takes the question of negro suffrage out of the National politics and consigns it to its true relations as a question of legitimate State rights. The sober judgment of the people will very generally approve this reference.

GET OFF THAT STUMP.—Among the paroled rebel soldiers who came up on the steamer Lady Gay on Tuesday, was a man over seven and a half feet in height. He started out with the Missouri troops at the commencement of the war, and stuck to them until the "dog was dead" and never received a scratch. Soon after he was mustered into the rebel service, the regiment to which he belonged appeared before the Colonel on dress parade, and the Colonel, who prided himself on the fine appearance and good size of his men, cast his eyes along the line, with a smile of self-satisfaction until they rested on the towering form of the tall Missourian, when he knit his brows, and called out fiercely in thunder tones, "Get off that stump, you impudent scoundrel, or I'll order you under arrest." The soldiers looked at each other, wondering what the Colonel meant, but no one moved. Finding his authority treated with disrespect he fairly boiled with rage, and, advancing to the big soldier, he exclaimed, "what in the d—l are you standing on?" The soldier respectfully replied, "On my feet, Colonel." The Colonel was completely taken back, as he surveyed this tall specimen of humanity from head to foot in blank amazement; he mumbled an apology for his rude remarks and hastened away, leaving his men convulsed with laughter. "Get off that stump" became a by-word with the Missouri rebels, and it will no doubt live as long as the Missourian.—Cairo Democrat.

CELEBRATION OF FIFTY YEARS' PEACE.—For fifty years uninterupted peace has prevailed between England and France. For fifty years the grass has grown over the battlefield of Waterloo, and not once since have the two nations been brought into armed collision. The rivalry of war has ceased, and ancient prejudices seem now buried forever. The fiftieth anniversary of peace could not be allowed to pass without some appropriate celebrations, and to the representative workmen of both countries is due the credit of having taken the first step in a practical and well considered movement. It has been decided that an Anglo-French Working Class Exhibition shall be held at the Crystal Palace during the present summer. According to existing arrangements, the exhibition will be opened on Saturday, the 29th of July, and will remain open during the three following months.

THE KEANS TO BE ENGAGED AT THE ST. CHARLES.—It is stated that Mr. De Bar has secured an engagement with Mr. Charles Keane and Mrs. Ellen Tree Keane for the St. Charles Theatre in this city, to commence next January the 8th. It was about twenty years ago when those artists last trod the boards of this theatre. They have been round the world since then, turning a long stage somerset. In the antipodean land of Australia, their position was quite reversed, and had the earth opened during their performances in Sidney and Victoria, their old admirers at the St. Charles might have seen them, heels-over-head, acting with their consummate art and intensity in Hamlet, Macbeth or Othello. But such scenes, though scientifically true, can be revealed only to the imagination.—New Orleans Bee.

MILITARY DISABILITIES EAST AND WEST.—A Western paper says:

From a report of the provost marshal general we find some facts having bearing upon the physical condition of residents of eastern and western states. In Maine the number of men rejected for the army was in the ratio of a little over 451 to the thousand; the ratio in Massachusetts is 425; and generally in the eastern states the ratio ranges between 300 and 451. But two western states are given—Wisconsin, in which the ratio was 218, and Michigan, in which it was 278.—The inference is that in case of a draft there are fewer exemptions in the west than in the east; a difference which may be founded on physical disability, or a disinclination to go to the front, or both. In any case, it shows that the west is either healthier or has more patriotism than the east; and is therefore more desirable as a residence.

A GOOD STORY.—A good story is told of a Northern Merchant, who was eating his dinner at the Battle House, at the time of the recent explosion in Mobile. Although badly cut by the flying fragment of a window, he managed to rush to the telegraph office, and send a message to his partner to "ship nothing but putty and glass." This duty done, he fainted, and has been in brain fever ever since.

The following "sensational" paragraph is running the round of the German press: "A cattle dealer of Prussian Silesia, was murdered and robbed some twelve years since, and no trace of the murderer could be found. A year later the murdered man's daughter married a master butcher, with whom she has lived ever since. A few days back, while preparing to remove to another house, the woman found among her husband's effects a small purse embroidered with silver, which she herself had made for her father, and which had disappeared after the murder. A horrible suspicion took possession of her mind, and having taxed her husband with the crime, he made a full confession and has consequently been arrested and committed for trial."

HIGHEST MOUNTAINS.—Professor Whitney's party of geological explorers in California have made wonderful discoveries the past season—mountains fifteen thousand feet high, higher than Mont Blanc, and the highest in the United States—perpendicular walls of rock seven thousand feet, and a grove of big trees, larger than those of Calaveras or Yosemite, into whose hollow trunk three horsemen ride abreast, and on whose stumps Californians hold mass meetings. The valley of the Kern is the field of these marvelous creations.

FOOD, NOT SUFFRAGE.—The Washington Chronicle, an exponent of government policy, editorially appeals for regular employment for the freedmen of the South, so as to secure them food, raiment and shelter, arguing that it is not the right of suffrage that they are clamorous for, which yields no support, but that the cry which comes from them is for means to procure subsistence. Doubtless, except where stimulated to it by those designing politicians who would use them, the freedmen are troubling themselves very little about suffrage—at present, at least.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE'S END.—The soundings made by the British Admiralty while the new Atlantic cable was preparing, show that the ocean bed along which it is to be laid is much more favorable than before supposed. The engineers find that it is comparatively smooth and free from all abrupt ascents or descents, and that the grades in fact will not be much greater than those of British railroads. The bed, moreover, is of such geological formation that the cable will lie firmly in it without danger of wearing from attrition.

RESUMPTION OF THE SHIPMENT OF COTTON TO EUROPE.—The legitimate shipments of cotton from this country to Europe have, after four years of interruption, been resumed. Shipping has been engaged in the port of New York alone, within a few days for the transportation of 8000 bales to Liverpool, and vessels are also being laden at the Northern ports.

WEATHER CONTRASTS.—On the morning of the 5th of July, at 8:30, the telegraph tells us, the mercury stood in a Fahrenheit, Mount Washington, at 32 degrees below zero. Here it was about 80 degrees above that figure, at that moment. Would it not be pleasant if one could "hold a fire in his hand, By thinking of the frosty Caucasus?" [N. O. Picayune.

MAYOR'S APPOINTMENTS.—Mayor Kennedy has made the following appointments of Directors of the New Orleans, Opelousas and Great Western Railroad: Wm. Hepp, F. P. Duong and Newton Richards, vice James F. Tucker, G. A. Fostick and G. W. R. Bayley. The remaining directors will be elected on the 25th, in accordance with President Johnson's order.—New Orleans True Delta.
