Probably you have heard why a minister delivering his peroration is like a ragged boy? Because he's tor'ed his close, you know. It is hardly apparel case, however.

"Marie! what's that strange noise at the front gate?" "Cats, sir." "Cats! Well, when I was young cats didn't wear stove-pipe hats and smoke cigars." "Times are changed, sir."

Men, says Adam Smith, are naturally unsentimental. A man will scoop the bottom out of an egg without thinking that the mother of that egg is, perhaps, a hundred miles away, in the rain. John Henry, reading to his wife from a newspaper: "There is not a single woman in the House of Correction." There, you see, don't you, what wicked treatures wives are? Every woman in that jail is married." "It is curious," said she; "but don't you think, John,

He Didn't Like to Tell Before Folks A horney-handed phrenologist in a West End grocery of Madison, Wis., the other evening placed his hand on a friend's head and said:

But the phrenologist said he would have to tell him privately, and took him out and up the street till near a saloon door, when he paused and whispered in Bill's ear:

"You've got a powerful brain, a powerful intellect, and orto be in Congress instead of using a hammer." Bill dragged his friend into the sa loon and called for "the best in the house." They drank, and Bill asked: "Why didn't you tell me in the presence of those men in the grocery?' "Because," said the phrenologist, " knew they'd have called me a darned

Story of a Book Agent. A book agent recently met with a serious accident in the suburbs of La Crosse. He was walking along the railroad when a freight train came along. The unfortunate man was struck by the engine and knocked directly across the track, some fifty-three cars passing over him. He was then tumbled down a bank eight hundred feet high, over stones and stumps, and just as he got to the edge of the river he struck a pile driver that was at work and, his head lying on the top of the pile for a minute or two, the ponderous hammer descended, striking him on the cheek, bruising him somewhat. The shock rolled him into the river just as whirled round and round for an hour and a half before he was discovered and released. He was picked up nearly senseless and removed to the cabin where his wants were supplied. After he had eaten a hearty meal. he was approached by the captain, who asked:
"Is there anything you would like to

"No, no," replied the canvasser "there is nothing but this..."

"What! what!" ejaculated the captain; "what is it?"

The book agent smiled sweetly as he produced a subscription list, and said:
"Subscribe for that beautiful book entitled, "The Poisoned Gum Drop; or, The Candy Woman's Revenge," by the author of "Jone's, the Button-Hole Maker."—La Crosse Leader.

The Mobile Register is the suthority for the following lofty sentiment which it says was uttered by Mr. Packard:
We don't want any white troops in Leuisians. They affiliate with the people too soon, and we can't use them. We want the colored regiments to intimidate the niggers and prevent them from joining Democratic organizations.
