

SITUATION IS TENSE IN U. N. I. A. HERE

'Traitor in midst' says new President. Books of Secretary C. L. Williams Seized.

The situation within the ranks of the local branch of the U. N. I. A. and A. C. L. has reached the acute stage. The climax being reached Monday evening at its meeting at Pilgrim Rest Church when it was deemed necessary to take over the books of the Secretary C. L. Williams, and to vote that His Excellency Marcus Garvey be invited and be petitioned to appear in person in Chicago at his very earliest convenience.

This move was that indiscrepancies which appear might be investigated and decided upon.

The immediate difficulty began some weeks ago when dissatisfaction became evident within the body. It was directed against the well known W. A. Wallace, baker, and local head and the majority of his officers. Also the check number and suspicious methods employed by the former head of the Black Cross Nurses, when Mr. Wallace went to New York to attend the Convention in session, an acting president was appointed—Rev. J. A. Green, the well known and respected minister and business man of the city. An envoy was sent to New York upon the same train with Mr. Wallace. He made a direct appeal to the CHIEF. He returned to Chicago and presented an order from Honorable Marcus Garvey directing an immediate election and the result forwarded to Headquarters. At a vote of four hundred and forty-one to five, Reverend Green was elected.

The meeting Sunday was crowded. Great rejoicing was evident and persons were seen to have collected over one hundred dollars and thirty new members needed to the organization. Every one was satisfied to follow his beloved and respected man.

A few of the five disgruntled ones, mostly in the group formerly under suspicion, seemed to look for further dissatisfaction. A business meeting was called for Monday evening at Pilgrim Rest.

After a perfectly orderly session, and addressed by Rev. M. Kirby, B. Th. Hopkinsville, Ky., on Harry G. Burton, and a local Editor a collection for the Convention was raised and then the Secretary arose and requested to make an announcement. He complimented the speakers then sprung a surprise, a read what was purported to be a telegram from Marcus Garvey stating: 'I have not given any order for an election to have been held and will recognize no other president than W. A. Wallace.' This he read without previously informing the chair that he possessed same and smugly seated himself saying: 'Don't let anyone turn you around.'

The house became silent for a few seconds and a storm of dissatisfaction broke loose. 'We are not going to have Wallace—it does not matter who says so.' 'Theodore Roosevelt is our secretary.' 'Our letter has not arrived in New York yet.' 'Who wrote Marcus Garvey our election before our letter was sent?' 'That secretary and his going are double crossing the honest folks' were among the angry exclamations. The secretary was a few feet from the table grinning guiltily.

'The President Reverend J. A. Green remained perfectly quiet; 'Do not be alarmed' he said. 'Honorable Marcus Garvey and his advisers are all just men. I am sure they will recognize the will of the people.'

'We propose to invite him here and let him explain whether he sent the message authorizing the election and whether he sent this last one denying same. But first suppose we vote to take charge of the books of Mr. Williams (Secretary)—this is his second offense of the nature—there is a traitor somewhere in the ranks.'

'This motion was put and carried one hundred and eighteen to two. There were only a few calm persons present. The chair was a lady of the name of Mrs. Williams. She was told by a lady: 'Shut up! We are not going to have any crooks in here any longer—it doesn't matter what Marcus Garvey or anyone else says, we are not going to have Wallace nor Williams either!'

Quiet was secured. 'Tuesday evening was appointed as for a meeting to raise funds to pay expenses of His Excellency Marcus Garvey to Chicago. He is expected to defer the visit until after the close of the present Convention which closes in August 30th.'

At the close of this meeting the membership, visitors and the lady vice president, Mrs. Lambriek, who made the motion, checking the Secretary, shook heartily the hand of President Green.

Reverend Hubbard of Morning Star Baptist Church and to certain local newspaper man are mentioned in connection with this latest move by the enemies to the will of the people. Further note next week.

At the meeting Tuesday evening a testimonial was held to allow him to present their views. In the meeting of several hundred persons present not one word or hint was spoken against Rev. Green although a firm stand was taken against any and all of the sympathizers of the opposition. Reverend Hubbard, a local newspaper and others are mentioned in connection with this latest move by the enemies to the will of the people. Further note next week.

spected citizens. Every good citizen will insist that those who have committed such barbarous outrages shall be brought to justice.

'The whole power of the commonwealth will be extended to apprehend and punish those who are guilty of such an atrocious crime. It cannot be, however, that any man or group of men shall be permitted to take the law into their own hands. The eyes of the nation have recently turned to Plymouth, your neighboring town, as the President of the United States paid his tribute to the sturdy men and women who established civil liberty among ordered government. The nation has rejoiced with us of Massachusetts in our great heritage. Let us of today be worthy inheritors of a glorious past. Let us, in spite of outraged feelings, remember our duty to uphold the law.

'Let the older counsel the younger. Let reason rule. Let not the fair name of Barnstable be stained by the act of an angry mob. However deep our sympathy for the innocent victims of despicable savagery, let it still be to the honor and glory of the good people of Massachusetts that they have confidence in the courts, that they believe in orderly procedure.'
