Business Takes Turn for Better
Despite the industrial depression caused by the rail and coal strikes, business conditions during August were 10 per cent better than in August, 1921. Also the past week brought a turn for the better in all lines of business despite impediments and various interruptions.

Normal conditions are confidently expected in the near future.

Industrial activity was considerably curtailed throughout the summer, but the fact is not obscured that the outlook is one of good promise and a solid foundation exists for subsequent expansion.

Chicago manufacturers report a shortage of skilled and common labor, but all express the opinion that the shortage is only temporary.

Common sense rules and business throughout the summer, manifested confidence that coal and rail service would soon be forthcoming.

Factories to Employ Colored Women.
Mr. Benjamin Levinson, representing the Hamilton-Ross Shade Company located at 1253 South Michigan Avenue, states that the company has open 200 or more positions for colored girls and women.

They can use experienced or inexperienced as the case may be, and all applying will be given steady work, and standard wages.

Working conditions are said to be the best in the city, which should be of intense interest to women in need or anxious for employment.

The company furnishes the facilities with which services are rendered.

United States Warning

The eye sight Conservation Council of America reports, together with the writers observation, that a normal human eye must use 40 per cent of nerve energy to see, leaving only 60 per cent for all other functions of human body.

That 80 per cent of our population are using excess nerve force to see correctly, and are actually compensated instinctively, by the 60 per cent of nerve force that nature gave for the use of the body only.

This robs the body of its natural power of resistance of diseases, weakens the mental and moral power, dethrones the will and reason, brings on physical illness, nervous diseases, stomach trouble, head ache, and moral degeneration.

Nature is a strict master—she never gives up more than she intends in one direction, with out over balanced account, by extracting more in from some other, than it is willing to pay out.

Science has been trying for 100 years to overcome this appalling error, but has found no means save one—LENSES—lenses belong to the same law of physics as the science of eye sight.

The American Conservation Council of eye sight, issues orders for every man, woman and child to have their eye sight examined one each year, and correct lenses adapted thereto, to save the nation from physical, mental and moral degeneration.

Blood Cell Therapy

All human development is dependent upon the health of the people. All future remedies will be to build up and increase the blood cell. Health is wealth. Pure blood is the first requisite to perfect health. We all know that the blood is the life; it contains the essential nutritive elements, organic and mineral, required for the maintenance of function and structure. Both organic and mineral constituents are derived from the food eaten from day to day and most all chronic ailments as well as susceptibility to acute infections can be traced directly to a deficiency in the dietary. This is well illustrated in rickets, scurvy and multiple nutritis and probably the same is true of cancer and tuberculosis. It is also a well-known fact that unsuitable food leads to debility, hence many persons suffer from debility, due to bad digestion, and yet have food in abundance. They are victims of impaired digestive capacity and bacterial infection, persistent and self-perpetuating.

Fortunately nature has provided antagonists against disease due to infection. Various organs, as well as the blood itself, taking an active part in destroying or eliminating poisons; thus the living principle in the blood was demonstrated by John Hunter, the celebrated surgeon, over one hundred (100) years ago. Indeed, this was the forerunner of modern antiseptics first proclaimed by Lord Lister, and it took ten (40) years to convince the physicians his theory was correct. The whole practice of medicine is theory; the fact being established that the blood stream must be healthy, pure and of proper alkalinity to carry the elements of life itself, the blood cells, corpuscles, phagocytes, etc., as they float like fish in a stream, is it not reasonable to suppose that our every energy, the power that sustains us in life, that energizes our will, our strength, our endurance, our business activities, must themselves be in perfect health and possess the full powers of their bodies in order to carry nutriment, bring away poisons and envelop toxins and disease germs?

The blood stream is merely the medium through which these energies float and carry on their duties. If the stream is thick and slovenly, if engorged, swollen, contracted or tortuous, is not the function hampered or arrested as the case may be? A clot in the brain—apoplexy. If a stoppage in the lungs or limbs—dropsy. If in the eye—blindness. If in the heart—sudden death. If in the eye—blindness. If too much blood—vertigo, insomnia. Repeated colds, low vitality due to faulty blood. The germs themselves are harmless, but the toxins formed by them produce the poisoning. If an infection takes place, what suffers? The blood. In fever, where is temperature the highest? In the blood. In malaria, where is the germ? In the blood. In diphtheria, smallpox, rheumatism, gout—nearly all infections find their seat in the blood stream. Don't you believe it is time to give some special thought to these basic facts and eliminate this stomach drugging, which you know is wrong? Neglecting the one only sure and effective avenue of medication—the blood stream.

All indications point to the blood stream as the vital element in health maintenance; while it carries poisons to every tissue, nerve, bone and muscle, it also carries antidotes, and along with these nutriment essentials, materials to maintain function. What you want for the patient is a normal, pure, clean blood stream. It matters not what chronic disease he is suffering from, your indulgence and we will tell you how to get it for the patient.

Chemical analysis and physiological investigation establishes the living principle in the protoplasmic cell—the physical unit in both animal and plant life. When the body cells undergo degenerative changes in Bright's, arteriosclerosis and in all chronic diseases, we find distinct and demonstrable evidence of impairment in nutrition. The protoplasmic cell is suffering from starvation and in almost every instance, the starvation may be traced to deficiency in protein constituents, the lack of which arrests or hinders the molecular activities of the cell; that is, the functions and properties which we have come to regard as life—nutrition, excretion, motility, reproduction and response to stimuli.

Now, doctor, if all cures are made by Nature and she must get her help from the blood cells, all growth is accomplished and life itself is sustained by the blood stream—why dodge the issue? It floats numerous harges laden with building material to every part of the body and repairs the waste. It brings away funeral trains of debris; it spreads the banquet table with all the rich viands of life before the various tissues and welcomes them to freely partake. After the feast it cleans the table and disposes of the garbage—it is even watchful of the ravages wrought by disease, cheerfully and promptly repairing the damage that has been done. There is in the blood stream enzymes, antibodies or ferments propelling life's force when we take a specimen of blood from the patient and produce a protein serum, don't you believe we can aid nature by increasing her bank account? Allow the laboratory to prove this clinically in the treatment of your patients. We ask you to help investigate. You only have to make and give a few serums to make correct deduction and they are perfectly safe and easy to administer as a hypodermic. You don't have to accept anyone's statements; the patient will disprove all fear and suspicions.

We are called upon to witness one of the most revolutionizing epochs in medicine, unlike all discoveries, with no parallel to focus thought or act. We find in our own blood the curative agent to fight our own ills. This is called Enzymes, from which a serum is made, which tunes the atom that influences every blood cell in the body, causing a rapid increase in the vitality of Hemoglobin, as well as the white corpuscles, which are the great defenders of the body in any and all kinds of sickness. Mankind is only sheltered from infection by and through his blood cell, hence we all know like begets like. To see long-standing cases yield to the treatment of Protein-Serum brings the evidence close to home. What is true of your physical condition must be reflected in the well-being of your children for future generations. A nation that dies may be born again in a physical sense, and may yet hand down a heritage that is worth more than all the wealth it may have produced.

Each day brings before us multiplied examples sufficiently to be able to say without any preliminary change in the blood stream man is sheltered from all forms of infections. Physicians are becoming absorbed in their search for microbes. They should occupy themselves with the infection agents and study the circumstances which determine the organism that a lifetime be not spent in idle experiments with new discoveries containing nothing subversive.

I am sure the lessons taught by ancient medical observations are in no wise compromised. Before every illness there is a disturbance in the blood stream (for the blood cell is the life). The first step before becoming ill may bring about certain changes in the production or distribution of the forces which liberate certain substances elaborated by the living organism. It may modify itself, augment or diminish it, or it may bring about disproportion of the constituent elements.

I Have Explored the Field of Faulty Metabolism—

Some of the most obstinate cases of Anemia, Gleet, Insomnia, Nervousness, Constipation, Eczema, Gout, Hay Fever, Rheumatism, High Blood Pressure, Paralysis, Neuritis, Neurasthenia, Mental and Physical Debility, Lack of "Peep", Uterus, Insanity, Exophthalmic Gout, Morning Sickness and other conditions too numerous to mention have been permanently benefited by this new serum in an incredibly short time after other methods have failed.

Digestive Capacity Is Increased in All Cases

Physiology teaches that there is a period cycle in the life of every cell in the body and that at stated periods a complete new mass of cells composing the body is born. Cells developed under stimulus of disordered life force must be imperfect for the use of which they were ordained. Any disturbance or disorder in these cells renders that individual susceptible to disease. This life force controlling the formation of new cells flows in disorder to disease. For the correction of this disorder or unequal distribution of life force a serum has been discovered. This serum is made from a few drops of blood of the patient to be treated. The pathological elements causing the disorder in the cells are known to be present in the blood stream.

"CONSTANCY"

Concentrating upon one big idea and pursuing it to a finish has been the success of the great majority of men who have made good. Relentlessly pounding away with faith and determination to win out along a particular line will wear away the most stubborn obstacles to final achievement.

As regards The Chicago Whip, Want Ads, there are few people who, when their desires are not completely fulfilled after the insertion of one Ad, immediately become resigned and do not attempt to follow up their appeal with a second or third Ad, which in nine cases out of ten, would bring the desired results at a trifling amount of effort and additional expense. Be constant to The Want Ads and they will win out for you.
