

JURY SYSTEM IS GIVEN SCORING

British Barrister Does Not Like the American Idea.

MUCH TIME IS WASTED.

THE BRITISH NEVER THINK OF EXAMINING THE JURORS AS THEIR GOOD FAITH IS TAKEN FOR GRANTED.

Chicago, Ill., May 9.—The American system of selecting jurors was severely scored by Sidney S. J. Steadman, a London barrister, who visited a Chicago court room and listened with amazement to the long examination of talesmen. He declared that in England even in the most important civil and criminal cases, the jury, as a rule is secured within three minutes. "The principal officer of the court, whose duty is to assist the judge is supplied with a list usually containing forty or fifty names taken from a list of persons qualified to serve," he said. "From this list he calls twelve names, taking them from the list in any order he pleases. As each man is called, he goes into the jury box until twelve are there. At that moment there is a pause before they are sworn when either side may challenge but that right is rarely used. The good faith and impartiality of the jury is taken for granted. After that moment elapses, the jury is ordered to arise, the oath is administered, and at once the counsel for the prosecution rises to open his case." The English solicitor was positive—that under the British system miscarriages of justice were rare, and that "graft" and "jury fixing" are practically unknown. He gasped in astonishment as he listened to the quizzing of the talesmen, and heard the lawyers for the prosecution and defense question them. When told that in some instances days elapse without a single juror being secured, he exclaimed: "The time wasted by your methods must be prodigious. The judge, the waiting jurymen, the parties to the cause and the counsel—think of the time that goes for naught. A few minutes devoted by the judge at the opening of the case, or even in the summing up, would in practically every instance achieve the same end. The wheels of justice would go round faster."

UNITED STATES TROOPS WILL SOON LEAVE CUBA.

Washington, May 9.—The first and second battalions of the Twenty-seventh Infantry, now in Cuba, will be withdrawn as soon as practicable. This decision was reached at the request of Brig. Gen. William H. Carter, commanding the department of the lakes, who said that his department had not sufficient men for the regular target practice and maneuvers. No additional troops will be sent to Cuba to relieve the two battalions withdrawn. No further withdrawals are contemplated.

SPURIOUS WORKS OF ART ARE SOLD

Investigation Leads to Some Startling Discoveries.

SUCCESSFUL IMITATION.

SO CLOSELY HAS THE WORK OF
THE GREAT MASTERS BEEN FOLLOWED THAT DETECTION
HAS BEEN ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE.

Chicago, Ill., May 4.—That spurious works of art for years not only have been sold but sold in wholesale quantities to dealers, collectors and institutions throughout the country was the revelation made here as a result of an inquiry by some of the leading art collectors of America. Shocked, why the art world of the United States and Europe is agitated. W. M. R. French, director of the Art Institute of Chicago, made the disclosures, in defense of genuine art works. For many years, it seems, the most discriminating purchasers of paintings and the most reliable critics have been grossly deceived by dealers, assisted by clever painters. Not only have the uncompleted works of recognized masters been finished, but even their individual style has been imitated so successfully that the best judges of art have been imposed upon. The works that have been most successfully and persistently counterfeited are those of three great masters of American landscape painting—George Innes, the elder, Homer Martin and A. H. Wyant, all of whom are dead. Even the immortal name of the great Whistler is said to have been forced on spurious paintings, as well as those of Henry W. Ranger, J. Francis Murphy and Ralph Blake-lock. Although Cogot never turned out more than 1,500 or 2,000 paintings, 40,000 "Cogots" have been sold in the United States. Turner, it is asserted, produced something like 4,000 pictures; but many times that number have been sold to art collectors who believed they were buying the real thing. It has been estimated that counterfeit paintings have been disposed of in the United States to the amount of not less than $130,000. A large part of the counterfeiting is charged to an Englishman from a western state, who went to New York poor and there is wealthy as the result of his nefarious work.

CLASS TO PICNIC.

The senior class at the local high school will picnic before the present school term has been completed. A committee composed of Mable Kuhn, Mary Dickinson, Deborah Shute, Emmett Bartel, Paul Fisher and Robert Tallant is making arrangements for the event.

CANDIDATES ARE NOW WORKING ASSIDUOUSLY

Neither of Them Have Been Able to Overcome the Lead Taken by Miss Ida Beeson of Greensfork, Who Has More Than 25,000 Votes to Her Credit.

Although her competitors worked assiduously and she did not report any additional votes yesterday, Miss Ida Beeson of Greensfork, continues to lead the contest in the Niagara Falls proposition. Her lead over all competitors is regarded as substantial and indications are that she will not be headed for some time. Miss Lucie Benton, of Fountain City appears to be a consistent garner and her helpers vote for her daily. Eleven of the contestants are beyond the 1,000 mark and all are gaining regularly. There is always a prospect for others to enter and push the present leaders. Such a proposition never has been made before to readers of a newspaper printed in Wayne county. The trip to the Falls will be free and all that is asked in exchange is a few hours' work in soliciting subscriptions to the Palladium.

The regular ballots will appear in each issue, entitling the lady voted for to one vote. Remember you can enter the contest any time you wish to, so "get busy and keep busy." The conditions of the contest are as follows:

Days Are Lost

Indigestion spoils many a day that can be saved with Kodol. When the stomach fails, let Kodol do the digesting. That's all that is necessary, and more than anything else can do. See our guarantee.

It is wrong to suffer from indigestion, when Kodol means instant relief. Please let it digest your food.

If your ankle was lame you would aid it. If the body was weak you would rest it. It is far more important to rest the weak stomach.

Not by dieting, for that means partial starvation. The body requires many sorts of food. To cut out some elements means to rob some parts.

But let Kodol, for a little time, do what the stomach can't do. Then see how quickly the stomach recovers.

Undigested food grows hard, and irritates the stomach lining. It causes inflammation—sometimes ulceration. That is the source of the pain.

It also ferments and forms gas. It decays and breeds germs. And those germs lead the blood with their poisons. That leads to serious troubles.

Don't think that the stomach can ever get strong while those conditions continue.

Kodol consists of all the digestive elements, in highly concentrated form. It digests all sorts of food, and completely. It does all that the healthiest stomach can do.

Pepsin is part of it, but pepsin digests albumen only. Starch requires something else, fat something else. Kodol combines all that is needed.

Digesters which depend solely on pepsin do only what pepsin does. They are but half-way treatments. Other elements are just as essential, and they must be in liquid form.

That is why Kodol is liquid. And, because it is liquid, like the digestive juices, its action is instant. It even begins in the mouth—by increasing the flow of saliva.

The action of Kodol can be easily proved, either in the stomach or out of it.

Eat what you need of the food that you want, and take Kodol. Note the absence of pain and gas. You know to a certainty that the food is digesting.

Or you can see it digest food in a test tube, under proper conditions. In these laboratory tests, Kodol digests every whit of the food, just as it does in the stomach. All other digesters digest but part of the food, just as they do in the stomach.

Don't employ half-way measures, for the stomach needs complete relief. Any undigested food will, through irritation, interfere with the cure. Nothing but Kodol does all that must be done. No other digester can digest all foods.

Our Guarantee

We ask you to prove these statements at our risk. Buy a dollar bottle of Kodol, and ask for the signed guarantee. If the results are not as claimed, take the empty bottle back with the warrant, and your druggist will return your money.

This offer applies to the large bottle only, and to but one in a family. This is sufficient to prove how much Kodol means to you.

If you need relief, won't you learn how to get it on such a fair offer as that?

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

IS NOT AT ALL AFRAID OF AERIAL NAVIGATION.

ENGLAND WILL ONE DAY DISAPPEAR

This Is the French View of the Island.

Paris, May 9.—Gaulois publishes an article by M. Guy Dorval on the erosion of the English coasts. The writer refers to the predictions of certain British scientists, whom he does not name, that England will one day disappear altogether beneath the waves. He says that this terrible news has fallen on the British public like a bolt from the blue, and leaves his readers to imagine the emotion and stupor produced by it.

WANT TO ISSUE PAPER.

Various members of the Senior class at the local high school have expressed their desire to get out a Senior edition to the High School Reflector, the proceeds above the expenses to be used in purchasing a picture or a statue for the school. There will be a meeting of the class next week at which time some definite decision will be made.

NOTICE.

Owing to ill health I have sold the controlling interest in my monument business, located at No. 15 South 10th street to Alvin A. Marlatt. I expect to be at our place of business at least through this year and would be glad to have my friends and customers call and see us. We will keep constantly on hand a large stock of granite and marble monuments and markers. Also all the latest designs and will be glad to quote the lowest possible prices on any class of work. And will guarantee every job put out to be just as represented. I feel very thankful to the public for the very generous patronage I have received in the past and bespeak for the new firm a continuance of the same.

Respectfully,
JOHN HALLOWELL.

NOVEL SCHEME FOR PURCHASE OF YARN

Those Buying Those Buying
Get Money Lottery
Tickets.

London, May 9.—A strange scheme has been devised by the Cotton Spinners' association to encourage the purchase of Japanese yarn in Shanghai. It is proposed that purchasers of Japanese yarn in the Chinese port shall be entitled to tickets, according to the amount of their purchases, the possession of which will enable them to participate in a lottery for money prizes. A protest having been made by the Shanghai consular body against this lottery, the scheme of the Japan Cotton Spinners' association has received a check, but still undaunted, the spinners have decided to continue the lottery system, but to award the prizes in yarn instead of money.

Progressive Stove and Hardware Store Has Latest Improved Cash Register.

The Peter Johnson Co. leads in innovations for improving trade and accommodating their patrons.

Long recognized as one of Richmond's leading stove and tin stores, The Peter Johnson Co., 812 and 814 Main street, has taken another initiatory step in their store equipment by installing one of the latest improved cash registers, which was made expressly for them by the National Cash Register Co. V. B. Morris, the representative of the Company, effected the sale and superintended its installation. It is regarded as a wonderful piece of mechanical construction. It shows at a glance the total cash and charge sales. Money received on account and paid out, as well as total of each clerk's cash sales.

It shows the number of customers waited on by each clerk and the total number waited on by all clerks. It issues a printed receipt showing the date, class and amount of sale, initial of clerk who made it, as well as the time to the minute it was made.

Being desirous to avoid all mistakes and disputes with their customers, and knowing if a printed receipt is given to each customer at time purchase is made that these mistakes could not occur. They will give $1.00 in cash to anyone making a purchase who is not tendered a receipt showing correct amount of same. As an inducement to their customers to save these receipts they will give $1.00 in cash for each $25.00 worth of cash receipts returned.

It has many other valuable things necessary for conducting such a business as is done by The Peter Johnson Company.
