The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad company will be asked to place a light and keep a watchman at South First and D streets. Complaints have been made to the city officials by employes of the Starr Piano factory about the danger in crossing the C. & O. tracks at that place. If the company will not do this it will be forced to assist in constructing a viaduct under the tracks. It is estimated that a viaduct would cost about $1,000.

Owing to the bad condition of the National road the board called J. F. the improvement, before it this morning. After considerable discussion the board decided to repair West Main street to Eleventh in order that funeral corteges could use Main street and then go from Eleventh south to the cemetery on the National road. THE WORD PARADISE.

Its Earliest Meaning Was an Inclesed Pleasure Ground.

The earliest meaning of the word paradise appears to have been a walled in pleasure ground. In the Hebrew it was "perdes," in the Persian "ferdus," and from one or other of these the Greeks appear to have derived the word "paradeisos," from which we get our own word. We also know that the ancient monarchs of Chaldes and Assyria and also of Egypt constructed vast inclosures of forest land for the preservation of wild animals kept for hunting purposes, and these were also called paradises. Thus the historical meaning of the word comes to this: A space protected from all incursion from the outer world, in which those who were privileged to enter were able to indulge in such pleasures as pleased the fancy.

It is easy to see the translation from paradise in the latter sense meaning the place of the elect or chosen. This is strikingly borne out by the fact that the favorite battlecry of the Moslems, whose firm belief it is that those who die fighting go straight to heaven, was always "Fight! Fight! Paradise! Paradise!" And the strong probability is that they got the word from the Per-Hogs-Receipts 12000; light $5.70@ sian campaigns of the eighth century. The use of the word in its present form in the New Testament is of Greek origin, and its description as applied to the garden of Eden is probably of Hebrew origin, dating from the period of the captivity.

MILLET'S SKETCHES.

The Painter Didn't Value Them and Let Them Go Cheap. I sold Sensier a quantity of Millet's sketches, and this is how I got them. went into his studio one morning and found the servant making a fire with pieces of paper that looked as if they had pencil marks on them. I examined them more closely and, seeing that they were the painter's sketches, began to upbraid her for what she was doing, but she very coolly told me that her master had told her to burn up the papers. I could hardly contain myself with astonishment, when in came Millet, and I began to reproach him for the destruction of what I knew would sooner or later bring money. To all of which he calmly replied: "Ah, they are good for nothing. I have got out of them all I want." Just then I noticed a pile of paper in the corner, and I looked it over and found that it consisted of sketches. "What will you take for the lot?" I "Anything you have a mind to give," said Millet. "Will 300 francs be enough?" "Oh, yes." I handed him the money and took the sketches home and counted 800! Soon after I sold them to Sensier, who mounted them carefully and set to work to sell them. From this one can
