SOCIAL CALENDAR

SOCIAL EVENTS FOR TUESDAY

Miss Florence McGuire will be hostess for a meeting of the Tuesday Bridge club at her home on East Main street.

A card party will be given in the Moose hall by the members of the Lady Moose.

A meeting of the Aid Society of West Richmond at the church will be held in the afternoon.

SOCIAL PARTIES

Between forty and fifty guests will attend the elaborate dinner to be given at the Country club by persons who participated in the Golf Tourney this year, in honor of Mrs. Harry Needham, who won the cup Saturday. The affair has been arranged for Saturday evening and will be one of the most important social events to be given at the club this fall. The tables will be handsomely decorated and a number of toasts will be given. Although Mrs. Needham has resided in Richmond but a short time she has made many friends who are glad to extend congratulations. She is a charming woman. She formerly resided at Columbus, Ohio.

Adding much to the week's social calendar will be the large reception to be given Wednesday evening in the public art gallery at the high school by a committee of members of the Art association. The members of the Art Study class will assist in the reception. The Richmond high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Ralph Sloane, will furnish music throughout the evening. Several young women will assist in the different rooms. This is an annual reception given each October by the association and is always a notable social function. Only persons holding membership cards will be privileged to attend. The pictures, which will be on exhibit at this time, will remain in position for some time and the public will be permitted to attend the gallery at a later day. Further announcement will be made later.

The week will be a busy one in social circles, and the most important function for today is the elaborate dinner to be given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Dennis in West Richmond for the members of the Ticker club and their husbands. A committee is in charge of the function. After dinner Dr. Dennis will give an illustrated lecture on the Panama canal.

A class in dancing will be organized Wednesday evening, October 22 at the Country club by Mr. Best Kold. Many of the members will join the class. The class will meet each week at the Country club. Special music will be furnished for each occasion. Many of the new dances will be taught at this time.

A delightful dancing party was given Friday evening at the Auditorium in Connersville by the members of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity. Miss Margaret Ferguson and Miss Blanch Bayer of this city were among the guests.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Grace M. E. church will meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Rothmeyer, 355 Richmond avenue. The meeting will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Members are asked to take the car that leaves Eighth and Main streets at 2:15 o'clock.

A picture of Mrs. James Judson of the National road, west, appeared in Sunday morning's Indianapolis Star, with the following article:

A series of delightful, original stories by Mrs. Clara Ingram Judson, formerly of this city, will be begun in the Star tomorrow. Mrs. Judson has made an enviable reputation for herself with her writing, and she has been particularly successful with her children's stories. Many of these have been published as she has written them, and she is now preparing a book of her stories for publication.

Not only through her writing is Mrs. Judson well known throughout the state and even farther, but through her active association with the Daughters of the American Revolution and by her interest in welfare work. She is regent of the Richmond chapter of the D. A. R., and was one of the prominent delegates at the state conference of that organization held at Crawfordsville last week.

She and her husband, James Judson, both lived in Indianapolis before their marriage, and are members of prominent old families. Mrs. Judson is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ingram, who moved from there to Chicago a few years ago. She is a cousin of Dr. Harry C. Mahlo of Indianapolis, and is a frequent visitor here.

The old Judson home at Meridian and Eleventh streets, where Mr. and Mrs. John E. Roberts now live, was the scene of many notable functions during the life of Mr. Judson's grandparents.

EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fiermoor of Indianapolis last night services as concert singers more in demand each season. Last year Mr. Fiermoor had charge of the vocal department at Earlham college. Last winter they sang before various clubs in Muncie, Anderson, Richmond and Marion, and also with the Indianapolis Mennerchor and the matinee musicale. They open their concert work for the present season today in Kokomo, when they appear before the matinee musicale of that city. Miss Ethel Skinner, soprano, who is one Mr. Fiermoor's pupils, will give a recital in Portland this week, appearing on the program with Mr. Earl Carthrite, the well-known baritone of Boston.

AS THEY COME AND GO

Mr. Karl Eisner, who was a member of the Palladium news department, left Saturday for his home in Springfield, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Needham of the Cornell apartments, left today for a few days' visit in Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Ray Wessel has gone to New York, Washington and Philadelphia where he will visit friends.

Miss Hazel Miller, Mr. Scott Morse, Miss Grace Saunders and Mr. Harry Eadler spent Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Seney, at their suburban home south of the city.

WEDDING BELLS

The following invitations have been sent out:

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson Penquite request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, to Mr. George Frank Foster on the evening of Wednesday, October twenty-second, at eight o'clock 121 Chestnut street, Richmond, Indiana.

Lora,

At Home: 218 Linden avenue, Richmond, Indiana.

The wedding of Mr. Everard Knollenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knollenberg, and Miss Ada Ebenhaack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ebenhaack, former residents of this city, will be solemnized Thursday, October 30, in Coldwater, Mich. Among those from this city who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Knollenberg and Miss Alice Knollenberg.

An important social event of interest to many in this city will be the wedding of Mr. Horace Ingram and Miss Edna Bliss, of Chicago, which will be solemnized Thursday, October 30, at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Judson, Miss Mary Judson and Miss Alice Judson will leave Friday evening for Chicago in order to attend a number of social affairs to be given in honor of the bride and bridegroom-to-be. On Saturday evening a dinner will be given. Mr. Judson will be one of the ushers, and Mrs. Judson will be matron of honor. Miss Alice Bliss, a sister of the bride-elect, and who has visited here several times, will be bridesmaid.

Among the weddings solemnized during the past week was that of Mr. George A. Deubner, of Greenville, O., and Miss Hilda Marie Cook of this city. The wedding was solemnized Thursday evening at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Greenwood avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. J. Feeger, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, in the presence of the members of the families and of intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Deubner will reside in Greenville, where the bridegroom is a prominent contractor. Their many friends wish them happiness. The bride is well and favorably known here.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

The East End Aid society of the First Christian church will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Belle Scott, 114 North Fifth street. Matters of importance will be considered. Thursday, Friday and Saturday the society will hold a rummage sale at the corner of Eleventh and North E streets.

Mrs. Pennybacker is spending today resting with the recording secretary of the Central Federation, Mrs. Harry L. Keefe in Walthill, Neb., and will speak tomorrow at the Iowa State Federation convention in Sioux City, going from there to Yankton, S. D. Our own Mrs. M. F. Johnston of Richmond, chairman of the art department of the General Federation, will also speak at the Iowa meeting. Mrs. Johnston is on tour program of the Ohio State Federation, too, which may prevent her being present at our convention, the two coming on the same dates. She will be greatly missed should she not come, and it is hoped that she may arrive at least for a part of the time—Indianapolis Star.

The Webster M. E. Aid society met at the church Wednesday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Lizzie Thompson; vice president, Mrs. Pearl Vornauer; secretary, Mrs. Nora Harris; treasurer, Mrs. Vashti Davis. After the business meeting a two-course luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held November 12th.

On Tuesday of convention week of the State Federation of Women's clubs will take place the Press club luncheon at 1 o'clock at the Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis. The Franchise League dinner will take place the same day at 5:30 o'clock at the Columbus club and the Federation dinner followed by Dr. Lindley's address on Wednesday evening at the Claypool.

Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith, a trustee of the Indiana Federation, has returned to her home in Cambridge City after a visit of two months with Miss Mary Matthews in Lafayette. She will attend the annual convention next week.

The Art Study class will hold its initial meeting for the year at the Public Art Gallery, Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as a number of important matters including the day of meeting and work for the year will be considered.

Mrs. W. J. Robie, assisted by her daughter, Miss Grace Robie, will entertain the Daughters of the American Revolution Friday afternoon at her home on North Thirteenth street. Reports from the Crawfordville convention will be given at this time by Mrs. James Judson and Mrs. John H. Nicholson.

A meeting of the Athenaeum Literary society which held its first meeting Friday afternoon of the past week will be held in a fortnight. The meeting will be in the nature of a Halloween party.

The annual banquet of the U-All club was held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott on the National road, West. The hours were spent in a pleasant social manner. An elegant dinner was served. The tables were placed on the lawn. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. William Morrey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawke, Mr. and Mrs. John Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Metz, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Bowing and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott. The evening was spent playing euchre. Favors went to Mrs. Bagley, Mr. Hawke, and Mr. and Mrs. Robbins. The first regular meeting of the club will be held Wednesday afternoon, October 22nd, at the home of Mrs. John Bagley, at Reidston, west of the city.

TELLS OF CHURCH LIFE IN TORONTO

Rev. S. W. Traum Says Canadians Suppress All Sunday Amusements.

In his regular services in the First Christian church yesterday, the Rev. S. W. Traum gave an account of the proceedings of the convention of the christian church held in Toronto, to which he had gone as a delegate from the local church. A substantial purse had been handed him, and with it the instructions to go to the convention and bring back with him the impressions made upon his mind by the great gathering. This task afforded the inspiration of the services yesterday.

The speaker entertained golden opinions of "The Lady of the Snows," and spoke of Canada's greatness in terms of unstinted praise. Especially was he impressed with the character of the religious life shown by the people. In describing the effect of the Sunday life he used John's words when on the Isle of Patmos he said: "I was in the spirit on the Lord's day." He found the people a church-going, devout, reverent company and expressed the belief that Canada's laws forbidding the Sunday newspaper and the opening of theatres, and suppressing some of the popular amusements of the first day of the week contributed to this. Toronto particularly was singled out as the ideal convention city, granting her guests, among other favors, free transportation on all the city car lines.

Emphasis was placed on the community of interests between Canada and America. He affirmed that their industrial life is one, and that the one nation can not go forward unless the other goes along. Also, he said, these nations are one intellectually. What ever may be said of political reciprocity, there is an intellectual reciprocity whereby through interchange of ideas both nations are enriched. It was also held that they have exactly the same great national problems to deal with. Both nations have an immigration problem; both have a liquor problem, although in Canada it is not in the same aggravated form as that found in our country. Then they are one morally in that they both stand in need of the redemption given through Jesus Christ. And there is a common task, saving America and Canada not for their own sake, but for the world's sake.

The convention likewise made its impression upon the Canadians, for in Ontario the Christian church has but few members, but when the hosts of delegates, some 2,750 in number, swept in on the city and recounted their achievements during the past year, and through the eight days' convention sustained their enthusiasm unabated, the Canadians took note of them.

CRONIN EULOGIZES LAND'S DISCOVERER

Rector of St. Marys' Speaks in Place of Lieutenant Governor

REVIEWS HARSHIPS

Rev. Roell, of St. Andrew's, and Rev. Shea, of Cambridge City, Speak.

Because it was impossible for W. P. O'Neill, lieutenant governor, to attend the Columbus day celebration of the local council of Knights of Columbus, last night, Father Cronin, of St. Mary's church, delivered the address. Lieutenant Governor O'Neill, who had promised to be here, wired late yesterday afternoon that it would be impossible for him to come.

Father Cronin said it was due to the efforts of the Knights of Columbus that Indiana and thirty-six sister states had made October 12 a holiday to honor the great explorer. He briefly reviewed the hardships Columbus encountered, showing the courage and faith which bore him up under the most discouraging circumstances.

At last, Father Cronin said, he came to the throne of a woman, who helped him. In this connection, he said, woman always had been an integral factor in the world's progress and advancement, and always would be. Columbus, he said, trying to find a new route to the Holy Land, that it might be regained from the Saracens, gave to the world a land of opportunity, where all men are free and equal, and where there is religious freedom. He lamented that the explorer had been deprived of the honor of having the land bear his name. He concluded by urging the Knights of Columbus to show equal zeal in advancing their principles, which are the same as those which prompted Columbus.

Two reasons for remembering Columbus were given by Father Roell, of St. Andrew's church, who spoke next. He said nothing but faith in God could have given the explorer courage to travel the unknown sea in a little shell. His purpose was to give Christianity to the people along his route, and to reach the Holy Land. Not only was he an explorer, but one of the greatest of crusaders. Rev. Roell said his aim in trying to reach the east was that it might be more easily wrested from the enemies of the church.

Make Better Lives. Father Shea of the Cambridge City church, turned from Columbus and the past to the present. He pointed to the waves of crime and vice sweeping the country, and asked that people live to make the world better. The program was concluded by a musical number, Mrs. Florence Young sang "Perfect Day," Miss Alma Pfafflin playing the accompaniment.

Among the Christian churches there is a movement known as "The Men and Millions Movement," whereby it is sought to raise $2,400,000 for foreign missions, and send one thousand new men into the world. It was reported that this task was more than half done, and that by the time of the annual convention at Atlanta success would crown their efforts.

Board Reports. This announcement was made amid great enthusiasm, and was second only to the achievement recorded by the board of church extension when it announced an aggregate of money raised amounting to $1,504,506. At the great communion service in Massasoit hall last Sunday the offering alone amounted to $3,575.

Among the lessons drawn from this inspirational gathering, Mr. Traum noted that missions is the spiritual dynamic of the church. Nothing is comparable in stirring power to the command of Christ to win the world for Him. This spirit manifests itself in various ways. It generates the spirit of evangelism and moves the church itself to new activities locally. It grows into a social life, a spirit of fellowship, and becomes at last love in action. Accompanying it is a great joy, while underneath it all, and the great storehouse whence comes the power, is the spirit of prayer.

During the last two years there has been made a great discovery by the Christian church. It has found that in Russia there is a body of Christians holding identically to the same doctrine as found in the churches of America. These people number something more than a half-million, and are now in fellowship with the convention held in America. Rev. Z. T. Sweeney, formerly ambassador to Turkey, was appointed a delegate to visit these people this year.

It was an interesting session when he made his report and in it included a photographic record of Russian days as seen by the Russians themselves. These records were produced in the convention hall. He also bore with him a letter from the Hon. David Lloyd-George, England's chancellor of the exchequer, in which greeting were sent to the Canadian and American churches, and regret was expressed that the press of state affairs forbade his attendance upon the sessions of the convention with his brethren.

Incidentally the pastor observed that he was privileged to take his wedding trip alone, inasmuch as it is the conventional thing for newly married people to visit Niagara Falls. This being his first visit to the falls, and as his wife remained at home, he determined to take the trip, even if he had to take it alone.

All in all, he was favorably impressed with the greatness of the convention, and closed his sermon by again thanking his parishioners, by whose generosity he had been permitted to take the trip.

TALK TO BROTHERHOOD

J. T. Giles Explains Social Responsibilities.

Education in the social responsibilities of the church was the subject of the address of J. T. Giles, superintendent of city schools, at the First Baptist church Brotherhood, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Giles' talk on the social service of the church was based on a statement of the federal council of the Churches of Christ.

Mr. Giles declared that the church must take a stand on the great social problems of the day as one of its great responsibilities, then steps must be taken towards the correction of the wrongs and evils. A plan of organization, first to ascertain local conditions, then to educate the people toward the correction of the wrongs, is necessary before legislation, he said.

A stand should be taken on the following principles of social work, he said: Equal rights and complete justice for all men in all stations of life; protection of the family, by the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, proper regulation of marriage, and proper housing; fullest possible development for every child, especially by the provision of proper education and recreation; abolition of child labor; such regulation of the conditions of toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of the community; abatement and prevention of poverty; protection of the individual and society from the social, economic, and moral waste of liquor traffic; conservation of health; protection of the worker from dangerous machinery, occupational diseases, and mortality; right of all men to the opportunity for self-maintenance, for safeguarding this right against encroachments of every kind, and for the protection of workers from the hardships of enforced unemployment; suitable provision for the old age of the workers, and for those incapacitated by injury; right of employees and employers alike to organize for adequate means of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes; release from employment one day in seven; gradual and reasonable reduction of the hours of labor to the lowest practicable point, and for that degree of leisure for all which is a condition of the highest human life. Living wage as a minimum in every industry and for the highest wage that each industry can afford; new emphasis upon the application of christian principles to the acquisition and use of property, and for the most equitable division of the product of industry that ultimately can be devised.

SHOWS DIFFERENCES WROUGHT BY TIME

Rev. W. B. Freeland Tells the Third M. E. Congregation of Three Principles.

The communion sermon of Rev. W. B. Freeland, district superintendent, at Third M. E. church Sunday, showed the difference between the churches nineteen hundred years ago and the present-day church. The churches of today, he said, often lack the three principles upon which a church only can be successful.

Rev. Freeland says the principles which are required to make a church successful are doctrine of religion, fellowship or fraternity, and devotion. "Fellowship or fraternity is often the lacking principle," said Rev. Freeland. In explaining the lack of this, he compared a lodge member with a church member, who goes to another city and wants to spend a few hours socially but knows no one. By a sign of the lodge, the lodge member enters among the members of the fraternity and immediately he is greeted heartily, is asked questions until every person in the lodge knows him and where he came from, and then is invited to return as soon as possible. A church member, however, Rev. Freeland said, is very seldom greeted at all even though he would attempt to introduce himself among members of a church of the same denomination to which he belongs.

"The bond of fellowship which is mentioned in the Bible, was created through the persecution of those who were Christians. They were forced to band together for protection, and some of them fled to other countries where they continued to spread the new religion. By the bond of fellowship, the doctrine of the religion and the devotion, they were able to add to their numbers."

Rev. Sylvester Billheimer, pastor of the church, announced a congregational meeting for tonight. The regular quarterly meeting business will be taken up, and the members will also vote on a plan of starting the evening services earlier than 7:30 o'clock.

TAG DAY RECEIPTS AMOUNTED TO $838

Hospital Committee Is Well Pleased With Contributions By the Public.

Receipts from the sale of tags Saturday by the ladies of the Red Memorial Aid society amounted to $838, considerably in excess of the amount derived from the same source last year but less than the sum realized two years ago.

Last year the sale of tags brought in $774 and the year before the ladies obtained a little more than $900 but this included one individual contribution of $125. No large sums were given by individuals. Saturday, there being a few five and ten dollar bills, the greater portion of the money raised came from the dimes and quarters.

Most of the women who solicited funds put in a full day, accepting relief only at the noon hour and again for a time in the evening. The weather in the morning was very cold and worked a hardship to those who were compelled to remain exposed to the weather.

"We are very well satisfied with the donations of the people of Richmond toward the maintenance of Red Memorial Hospital," said Mrs. George Keger, who had charge of Tag Day. "The money will be applied this year as it has in the past in purchasing supplies which will be worked into shape for use in the institution by the ladies of the Aid Society."

"This money is productive of great good, for with the hospital in its present overcrowded condition every cent of money spent and every bit of work done outside is of material benefit to the superintendent of the institution. I also desire to express my thanks to the Richmond newspapers for the kindly assistance they gave us in our work."

The expense was very small this year as the tags were donated by the Nicholson Printing company.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but has no bad effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling comes from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. (Advertisement)
