

REDLEGS AND BRAVES PLAY REAL BASEBALL IN 10 RARE INNINGS

CINCINNATI, July 18.—A triple by Jake Daubert and a single by Pinelli, in the tenth inning, tallied the deciding run of the game with Boston at Redland field Monday afternoon, which gained the Reds a win by the score of 8 to 7. Things looked bad for Cincinnati when Boston had them 5 to 0 in the fourth, but Moran's men jumped on the offerings of Watson in the Red half of the fourth and got their first tally, and from then on the Reds crept up on Boston until the score was tied in the eighth inning.

Three home runs featured the heavy hitting of the game. Sammy Bohne smashed a long drive over the left field wall for Cincinnati in the seventh inning. The ball hit the street, bounced up against a brick building on the other side and rebounded into the ball park, much to the surprise of Nixon, left fielder for the Braves.

Both clubs slugged the ball extra hard in all 10 innings, but Cincinnati had the better of one hit.

Reds Come Back
With the score 5 to 0 against them, the Reds took a brace and refused to give up. Watson had been almost invincible up to this time, but the Reds got him in the fourth for a run on hits by Harper, Cavency and Wingo. One more run was tallied up for Cincinnati in the fifth on hits by Pinelli and Cavency, but they still were four tallies to the bad. In the seventh they jumped on Watson so severely that he was soon called from the mound for Lansing to take his place.

After Daubert had filed out in the seventh, Duncan doubled and Harper tripled. Bohne hit over the left wall for a homer and the Braves had but one run as a lead. The Braves added one more tally to their lead in the eighth, but Cincinnati tied things in their half of the same inning with two runs on an error, a triple and three bases on balls, the tying run being forced in. Keck Finishes.

At this time Moran called on Keck to finish the game and the Cactus finished the two remaining innings in great style. Neither team scored in the ninth inning, but Cincinnati ended things in the tenth when Daubert opened with a triple to center. McQuillan, in desperation, passed both Duncan and Harper, thinking that he could get a double play to end the round, but Babe Pinelli came through with a clean single, and the whole affair ended as Daubert came pounding over.

The Braves were to play their final game of the series Tuesday, and they then vacate to make way for the New York Giants, who open a four game series on Wednesday. The Giants will play the remainder of the week in Cincinnati, and will furnish the big attraction at Redland field Sunday afternoon.

Baseball Player Killed
In Collision With Another
MANSFIELD, Ohio, July 18.—While engaged in a baseball game at the Ohio State Reformatory grounds here yesterday, James Thimmes, a Fairfield county inmate, collided with the first baseman on a close play at first base. Thimmes crashed into the first baseman with such force that the former was rendered unconscious and died five minutes later. He was 24 years of age and has a wife and three children residing at Lancaster. Thimmes was to have been paroled in September.

GIANTS STILL LEAD IN NATIONAL LEAGUE BY TRIMMING CARDS

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—St. Louis missed going into first place by losing to New York on the Cardinal diamond Monday, by the close score of 3 to 2. New York scored twice in the first and once more in the third and had enough runs to win, as St. Louis scored but two runs in the fifth inning and the tallying was over.

As it now stands, New York has one and one-half games to the good in the league standing and if they lose to the Cardinals Tuesday, they will leave St. Louis with a lead of half a game.

Inability on McCurdy's part to hold Pitcher Doak in the fourth inning, caused Manager Rickie to put Clemens in his place for the remainder of the game. The score:

REMEMBER MERKLE'S TERRIBLE BLUNDER?

Usually failure to follow some simple rule of baseball produces the worst kind of bonhead plays on the ball field.
Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, the failure to properly complete the play, is not due to lack of knowledge, but rather to sheer carelessness on the part of some player.
Failure to touch a base is the easiest way to create a bonhead play. As long as baseball is played players will continue to fail to touch the bases.
If such failure does not prove costly, the omission is soon forgotten. Otherwise, the careless player goes down in history in the list of "bonheads."

In all probability the most costly failure to touch a base is charged to Fred Merkle.
Merkle was playing New York. It was the ninth inning, the score was tied, two were out, and runners were on first and third. Merkle, then playing first base for the Giants, was the runner on first.

The batsman hit cleanly to the outfield, and the runner jogged across the plate with what was apparently the deciding run. Merkle, on first, ran within a few feet of second, and seeing the runner had crossed the plate, dashed for the club house.
Johnny Evers, playing second for Chicago, called for the ball, which was thrown to him by Hoffman. In the failure to touch a base is charged to Merkle. Evers touched second and Merkle was called out. His failure to touch the base, simply made a force play at second.

This retired the side and the rules state no runs can score on a play in which the third out is a force play. That erased the run that apparently had won the game.
The game was never finished, as it ended in a tie score. New York and Chicago tied in the pennant race that year. It was necessary to play an extra game to decide the championship. Chicago won the game and the right to play in the series.

Merkle's "boner" was the costliest ever made. Had he touched second the Giants would have won the pennant. The owners would have realized a small fortune and each player a fancy figure.
The bones of a human being will bear three times as much pressure as oak, and nearly as much as wrought iron, without being crushed.

Chips and Slips

Samuel Grindstone was a hustler of the modern school. He believed in the gospel of speeding up.

Over every desk in his office he placed a large printed notice, reading: "Do It Now!"

But a week later, with tired fingers and exhausted air, he tore them all down.

"Do it now!" said a friend, dashing in and seeing the ceremony of destruction. "What's up? Doesn't hustling pay? Going back to the old leisurely methods?"

"Yes, I am," snorted Grindstone. "Hustling doesn't pay. I gave six pence each for these notices, thinking they'd spur my staff on to hard work."

"Well?" the net results is that they've all acted on the motto. The chief cashier has bolted with the contents of the safe, my typist has eloped with my youngest son, four juniors came in yesterday to ask for a raise, and the office boy has found a better job and gone off to it."

Once more, the veteran "Ty" Cobb hit for an average of 1,000. The Tiger manager was up five times and delivered for his club in each case. He got a double and a home run out of the five hits and stole a base on the side. Detroit won the game, 16 to 7.

The Tigers are a dangerous bunch and they are still hitting a fast pace.

Those Chicago White Sox made the New York Yankees duck under again in their game at New York Monday. This time it was 8 to 7 in 11 innings, but it was a victory just the same.

Fans can't help but feel for the fighting Sox inasmuch as it has been tough stepping since the scandal in 1919. Comiskey's bunch is fighting every inch of the way and there is no hitch in their deserving third place in the standing. New York used 15 players in the game and Chicago used 15 in coming out on top.

John McGraw's Giants advanced their lead over St. Louis to one and a half games by virtue of their win over the Cardinals Monday, 3 to 2.

But those Cardinals are due to get to the top rung and they absolutely are determined to get there.

Joe Gleason, pitcher for the Columbus American association team, is thought to have deserted the team. He did not arrive to board the train for St. Paul when the team left. It was said that he had intended that he was through with Columbus and that he did not intend to pitch any more for them. Gleason was obtained by Columbus from the Washington American league team.

One of the uses of the radio compass is the location of disabled submarines.

CHICAGO SPORT FANS MUST LEAVE HOME TO WITNESS SPORTS

By FRANK G. MENKKE
Pity the bloke with sportive love who must make Chicago his home.

When you do that you are plying a multitude. For Chicago, in ratio to population, probably knows more sport enthusiasts than any city in the world.
