HERING NOW AT WORK

Cashier of the Looted Chicago Savings Bank Shows How Stensland Did Business.

HE DIGS UP A "SIDE" LEDGER

Book That Was Not Shown When the Official Examiner Was Visiting the Bank.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Henry W. Hering, cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, which closed its doors three days ago, has been arrested. Paul O. Stensland, president of the defunct institution, is still a fugitive, and although nearly 100 detectives are searching for the missing president his whereabouts is as much of a mystery as ever. But that isn't so strange; fifty detectives searched for Hering far and near and couldn't find him; while he was at Chicago all the time. Hering was arrested two hours after the time he had previously announced he would give himself up.

He Got No Stolen Money.

He was taken at once to the office of Chief of Police Collins and put through a thorough examination as to his knowledge of President Stensland's mismanagement of the institution. Hering declared he did not know where President Stensland was and had no communication with him for over a week. The cashier strenuously denied the charge that he (himself) was partly responsible for the failure of the bank. Hering maintains that if he is guilty of breaking the banking laws of Illinois President Stensland is responsible. Hering in his examination declared he never benefited a single dollar by President Stensland's peculiar system of banking.

Goes to the Bank to Work.

At the conclusion of the examination of Hering at police headquarters he was taken direct to the bank, where with Bank Examiner Jones and Assistant State's Attorney Fiske and Olson, a thorough investigation of the bank's affairs was made. In this examination the representatives of the state are seeking evidence to prosecute the bank's officials. Hering had promised to show them and the bank examiner all records of notes and transactions whereby the bank was defrauded.

He Digs Up Some Ugly Facts.

At the bank he showed where the bank had loaned the Paul O. Stensland Real Estate company $1,300,000. Four loans amounting to $91,000 had been made to as many persons whom it is said are clerks in the Milwaukee Avenue Co-operative store, one of President Stensland's ventures. The most startling discovery of fraudulent work was a "side" ledger which Cashier Hering took from a hidden drawer. This he is said to have admitted to the investigators who kept from the state bank examiner on his annual visits. In it, so far as the investigation has been made, were found entries of loans, practically without security, aggregating $101,000.

NOT RASCALS; ONLY FOOLS

Men Who Managed to Lose $5,000,000 in War Stores for the British Government.

London, Aug. 10.—The war office has issued the report of the royal commission which was appointed to investigate the South African war stores scandals. While the report acquits the British officials concerned of the charges of corruption it finds that the losses, equalling about $5,000,000, were due to grave mismanagement and incompetence rather than to fraud.

The commission criticizes severely several officers and public servants, and charges a number of non-commissioned officers with receiving bribes. It declares that the errors were due to deplorable and complete want of co-ordination and the divorce of interests between the different departments of the war office. The army service corps is declared to have been utterly wanting in business training and experience.

Spain Turning Against the Pope?

Madrid, Aug. 10.—The cabinet discussed the protest of the papal nuncio against the government's action in denying the right of the clergy to refuse burial in consecrated ground to those married civilly. It was decided by the ministers to maintain absolutely the rights of the civil authority. During the discussion the minister of Justice, Count Romanones, announced his resignation to give the government a freer hand.

Woman Robbed of Her Money.

Mount Vernon, O., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Matilda Foote, of Fredricktown, O., was robbed of $2,500 in gold coin which she had hidden at her house. Mrs. Foote drew the money from a bank to purchase the farm on which she lived and the robbery was committed while she was in Mount Vernon getting the deed.

Medals for the Loyal Troops.

Cronstadt, Aug. 10.—Prince Troubetsky, aide-de-camp to the emperor, visited the fortress here and distributed medals to the troops who participated in the suppression of the revolt.

Had His Life Well Insured.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 10.—M. Herzenstein, the ex-deputy who was murdered near Terioki, Finland, July 31, was insured in a United States insurance company for $25,000.

SHAM BATTLE FOUGHT

Michigan Troops at Camp Benjamin Harrison Get a Lesson in How to Defend.

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—The most pretentious army maneuvers ever attempted in Indiana were those of the mimic battle between the armies of the Blue and the Brown. Each army was made up of 2,500 soldiers, thus bringing into action the entire strength of General Carter's command. The Blue army was made up of the Fourth, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth infantry. Major Sibley's squadron of field artillery. Colonel Sweet commanded the regulars. The Brown army consisted of the Michigan National Guard, commanded by Brigadier General Charles W. Harrah.

The problem was a lesson in defense for the Michigan troops. The battle raged for more than two hours. The weather was ideal for the conflict, the sun remaining behind the clouds most of the time. The efforts made by the Michigan troops to defend Fort Benjamin Harrison against the regulars was apparently successful.

Shea Elected President.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Cornelius P. Shea was elected to succeed himself as president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters in the convention of that body here. The delegates who voted, fifty in number, continued to absent themselves and it is alleged will organize a rival union. The vote for president stood 158 for Shea and 15 for John White, of New York. The entire ticket named or approved by Shea went through without any serious opposition.

Trophy Must Pay Duty.

Boston, Aug. 10.—The silver cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton as a yachting trophy for a series of races under the auspices of the Boston Yacht club has been declared dutiable by the customs appraisers, and assessed an ad valorem duty of 45 per cent. The cup is valued at $1,000. The assessment was protested.

Three Notables Have a Shock.

Springfield, O., Aug. 10.—Governor Warfield and Governor Harris and General J. Warren Kiefer had a narrow escape from death while they were making an automobile tour of the city. They came within two feet of getting in front of a Big Four train going fifty miles an hour.

For the Mattress.

The daily turning over is not the only necessary attention for the proper treatment of a mattress. This operation itself is liable to strain the ticking and pull the stuffing out of shape in course of time. To avoid this handles may be sewed to the sides, so that the unyielding surface of the mattress itself need not be grasped. These can be made from webbing or a crosspiece of ticking and sewed as firmly as possible to the sides.

Girl's Gabrielle Dress.

A decidedly novel use for the guimpe is given in the gabielle dress here shown in a new form. The gabielle, or overdress, which may also serve as a princess, is fashioned of seven pieces, cut in deep round outline at the top, and at each side it is shaped to form two straps. The closing is arranged at the back, where an inverted box plait disposes of the extra fullness allowed in the skirt. A wide hem and three tucks finish the lower edge. The guimpe is made with the regulation seams and a group of lingerie tucks to yoke depth at the center of the front and at each side of the back closing. A standing collar finishes the neck. The sleeves in shorter length terminate in wide bands, while those in full length may have deep cuffs or narrow bands. English cashmere with embroidered batiste and insertion and panama with dotted swiss, needlework and velvet are nice fabrics for the frock.

GABRIELLE OR PRINCESS MODE.

Other suitable materials include pongee, shantung, taffeta, lansdowne, albatross, linen, duck, mohair, sicilienne, etc.—Delineator.

A Joke.

The other day a benevolent old gentleman was stopped by a tramp, who asked for money for a night's lodging. "Well, look here, my man," the old gentleman said, "what would you say if I offered you work?" "Bless yer life, sir," came the reply. "I wouldn't mind a bit. I can take a joke same as most people."

Dishwashing a Pleasure.

Do not get discouraged about having to wash dishes 365 days in the year. Dishes must be washed, and of all the many duties that fall to women's lot this seems to be the most disliked. But there is an ideal way.

The chief things required to make it a pleasure are care, order, plenty of good hot water and a stack of dry tea towels, two dishcloths and a large enameled bowl. The dishes, when removed from the table, must have each of its kind put together. Put all the cooking utensils on the range and fill them with water until the time comes to clean them.

Have a receptacle in which to place all the scraps that come from the dishes, plates, etc. The most important thing is to have plenty of hot water—not merely warm, but hot—and use some good soap in the water to make your suds. It cleans the greasy meat dishes and plates twice as quickly. Have your mops with handles for deep mouthed jugs and have nice dishcloths made of cheesecloth.

Begin with the glassware and next china and follow with spoons, forks, knives, etc. Never use a wet towel.

The Pace of the Camel.

As a matter of fact, and in spite of its having carried Mohammed in four leaps from Jerusalem to Mecca, seven miles an hour is the camel's limit, nor can it maintain this rate over two hours. Its usual speed is five miles an hour—a slow pace, beyond which it is dangerous to urge it, lest, as Asiatics say, it might break its heart and die literally on the spot. When a camel is pressed beyond this speed and is spent it kneels down, and not all the wolves in Asia will make it budge again. The camel remains where it kneels, and where it kneels it dies. A fire under its nose is useless.—Times of India.

He Had His Wish.

Carl Schurz had no consideration for hypocrites or pretenders. Upon literary pretenders he was particularly severe. At a dinner in New York one night a man of wealth who had written a volume of poems sneered at politics.

"I wouldn't give a penny," he said, "for a senatorship or a cabinet office. To be even president wouldn't tempt me. I, for my part, would rather be known any day as a third rate poet than a first rate statesman."

"Well, aren't you?" said Mr. Schurz.

Oldest Body of Human Being.

The oldest body of any human being reposes in the Egyptian gallery of the British museum. It is the body of a man who was buried in a shaft grave hollowed out of the sandstone on the west bank of the Nile in upper Egypt. This man must have hunted along the banks of the Nile before the time of the earliest mummies, long which the museum possesses, before the time of Menes, who was supposed to have ruled Egypt at least 5000 B. C. There were previous to that time two prehistoric races, one the conquerors and the other the conquered, from which sprang the Egyptian race of the earliest dynasties. It is with these remote stocks that this man had to do. Considering the condition in which he was found, it is evident that he was associated with a late period of the new stone age of Egypt. He was buried in a characteristic neolithic grave, with his neolithic pots and instruments of flint about him. There is of course no inscription of any kind on the pots, knives or grave, all having been long before the invention of any written language.—American Antiquarian.
