FRENCH LACE "NIGHTIE" PUT TOGETHER WITH SEAM BEADING

The difference between a distinctive and an ordinary lingerie garment is not only in the fineness of the material, but also in the manner of workmanship. The better class garment, when much lace is used, is put together with very narrow entre deux or embroidery seam beading—troublesome to stitch in, maybe, but paying for the trouble in the exquisite daintiness secured. The illustration shows a nightgown made of sheer nainsook and trimmed with French valenciennes lace, every yard of the lace being set in with the tiny entre deux. A wide ribbon insertion at the bust, threaded with pale blue ribbon finishes the garment.

"GUEST DAY" AT THE CLUB.

The members of the Hammond Woman's Club will observe "Guest Day" at their next meeting, Saturday afternoon, October 29th in the auditorium of the First M. E. church in Russell street. The members of the Art and Music committees are in charge of the program for the afternoon and they desire that there is a large attendance. The program promises to be very delightful and one of the numbers that is anticipated with a great deal of interest is talk by Carl Weritz of the Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago. Mr. Weritz will lecture on "Artistic Reasoning."

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

A meeting of the members of the W. C. T. U. took place last evening in Wells Hall in State street. The attendance at the meeting was very large and an amount of business was transacted. Plans were made for the next afternoon meeting which will take place Friday afternoon, October 28th at the home of the president, Mrs. H. E. Granger, 55 Hamilton street. The reports of the recent convention at Fort Wayne, Ind. were given by the delegates from Hammond, Mrs. Granger and Mrs. W. O. Leaverton. Several musical numbers were also featured of the evening's program after which the members met informally in the hall for conversation and a social time.

AN AFTERNOON ENTERTAINMENT.

One of the delightful afternoon parties of the week took place yesterday when Mrs. H. E. Sharrer entertained a number of Hammond ladies at her home in South Hohman street. Her guests were the members of the Embroidery Club who met for their regular weekly meeting and Mrs. Sharrer entertained a number of friends, not members of the club. The afternoon was spent very enjoyably with embroidery work and at four o'clock the hostess served a dainty luncheon. Another party will be given Monday afternoon of next week and the place of meeting will be announced to the members later. The invited guests for the afternoon included Mrs. I. E. Dickenson of Woodlawn, Mesdames Frances Kingsley, V. S. Reiter, J. B. L. Hinds, O. A. Kribbill, E. F. Johnston, W. H.

SOCIAL NEWS FOR WEDNESDAY.

Mrs. H. O. Young will be hostess to the members of the Fleur-de-lis Club Wednesday evening at her home in Doty street.

The members of Progressive Court No. 166 Tribe of Ben Hur will entertain at a dancing party Wednesday evening in Long's Hall in State street to which their many friends are invited.

The ladies of the Knights of Columbus will meet Wednesday afternoon in the K. of C. Hall for an afternoon of cards.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors in South Hohman street.

A meeting of the members of the Deborah Aid Society of the First Christian church will take place Wednesday in the church parlors.

A meeting of the members of the Court of Honor will take place Wednesday evening in the I. O. O. F. Hall in State street.

A BUSINESS MEETING.

The members of the Garfield Club met in the parlors of the First Christian church in Calumet avenue last evening for an important business meeting. There was a very large attendance of members present. The routine business was transacted and the members were drilled in the rules of the club. Plans were made for the bazaar to be given by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church during the week of Thanksgiving. Following the business meeting the members were invited into the dining room of the church where they were served with an oyster supper. An hour was spent pleasantly in a social way. The next meeting will be held as usual in two weeks and an interesting program is being prepared.

PARENTS CLUB TO MEET.

The members of the Parents Club of the West Hammond school will meet Friday afternoon, November 4th at three o'clock in the school hall. It is the second meeting of the school year and a large attendance is desired. A committee meeting was called last week to arrange the program of enter-

HOW IS IT WITH YOU?

When your husband brings a friend home to dinner are you serene or are you upset? Do you say "I am delighted" to your guest or do you receive him with such frigidity that both he and your husband are made uncomfortable? The ideal of every young husband is a place where he can invite his men friends to dinner. He sees in imagination a smiling wife to greet him, and a table perfect in every detail. The reality is often a bitter disillusion. His wife resents any unexpected addition to her table, and after a few trials, the husband, nursing a grievance inwardly, but outwardly content, refrains from further invitations. This is not as it should be. The woman who cannot have an unexpected guest without disturbance of her serenity has either a wrong point of view, or a domestic experience that should be overcome.

tainment. The entire program has not been arranged but announcement of the following has been made: Longfellow Exercises.....Room 4 Address.....Mrs. Elizabeth Barker Address.....W. B. Conkey

A COMMITTEE MEETING.

Mrs. W. F. Bridge was at home yesterday afternoon at her Homewood residence to the members of the domestic science committee of the Hammond Woman's Club. It was the regular bi-monthly study meeting and an unusually large number of members were present. Mrs. Bridge had entire charge of the program which was a study of "The Modern House."

The study was a very interesting one and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present. Plans were made for the next regular meeting to take place in two weeks when the members expect to have an out of town lecturer present to address them. The complete arrangements were not made yesterday but announcement will be made later of the place of meeting.

A HOUSE PARTY.

Mrs. C. A. Burnett, formerly of Hammond but now of Oak Park, Ill. will entertain a number of young ladies from Hammond at a house party during the coming week end. They are anticipating a very pleasant time as her guests.

HOLD REGULAR MEETING.

The members of Triumph Council No. 1 D. of L. met last evening in the K. of P. Hall for their regular meeting. A large number of members were in attendance and spent the evening with the usual business and social program. After the lodge session a pleasant social hour was passed. The next meeting will take place in two weeks and all the members are invited to attend.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

The ladies of the Fern Leaf Linen Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Frederick A. Bull in State street yesterday afternoon to celebrate her birthday anniversary. They presented her with several very pretty gifts in remembrance of the day. The guests met in the parlors where the afternoon was spent pleasantly in a social way. The leading feature of the afternoon was cards and the guests played several games of whist at small tables. Mrs. Claude Campbell received first honors and the remaining prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ray Fowler and Mrs. Will Ziegler. An enjoyable musical program was rendered after which the dinner was announced. Mrs. Bull served her guests with an elaborate course dinner in the dining room. All of the club members were in attendance at the party which was one of the enjoyable social events of the week.

A NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

All members of Hammond Hive No. 3 L. O. T. M. wishing to attend the Maccabee Rally at South Bend, Tuesday, November 1st are asked to report to the Record Keeper, not later than Friday, October 28th. The members will leave on the L. S. & N. B. at 5:20 and those wishing to return the same evening may do so. The return fare will be $1.40. Byrequest of the Record Keeper, Mrs. Lizzie Pontius. 25-3t

ENTERTAINS INFORMALLY.

Mrs. Stafford Kinsfield entertained a number of young people last evening at her home in Claude street in honor of Miss Edith Kinsfield of Morgan Park, Ill. whose marriage to Mr. Agger will take place Wednesday, November 16th. The evening was spent very pleasantly in a social way with games, contests and music until a late hour when refreshments were served. A number of Hammond young ladies were present and spent an enjoyable time.

TEN DOLLARS IN CASH FOR CAPTURE OF RAFFLES

Let me express my heartiest thanks to the wide-awake gathering about me last night. Your diligent work and search to capture me was amazing, as well as amusing. It was beyond what I expected for my first evening. You did nobly (so did I). The greater portion of the evening you made me feel like a striped convict seeking for liberty. I did not have on attack during the evening, however, thank you. Yet I saw you annoy one or two innocent persons. With the enthusiasm displayed I simply will not at this time make any predictions as to my possible capture, for would it not blend my dignity if I could not make good? The spacious quarters, with the numerous attractions, give me a most exceptional opportunity to escape.

I entered promptly at 8:30 last evening, under entrance ticket No. 434. I went to Wonderland and then directly to the country store. Here the wheel of fortune presented me the lucky winning, No. 38 — five pounds of dried apples. I then turned my attention to the ladies' fancy work booth and made liberal inquiries (through the courtesy of Mrs. Bell, I believe) as to the value and disposition of certain articles. This was exactly 8:50 and I left for the German village, where I seated myself at the piano and played a few tinkling sounds: "I Am Waiting for You." I stayed perhaps fifteen minutes and then viewed the furniture exhibit on the first floor. I also grouped myself with the male quartet at one time during the evening and gave them my generous assistance. I departed at exactly 9:30.

Tonight I will again appear in the same attire at 8:30 and my maneuvers will be precisely the same as those of last night. I will be everywhere. Remember my conditions. Have copies of both daily papers in your possession and approach me saying, "You are the mysterious Mr. Raffles of the Elk's bazaar."

Follow my description and my capture is easy, perhaps a matter of only a night or two. Can you do it? Try. Yours truly, RAFFLES.

FACTS ABOUT THE BAZAAR

The third night's barrel of fun will be opened at the Elk bazaar this evening. The attendance last night was about what was expected for the first night in the week, but these present had the advantage of getting their choice on the best bargains. Every article that was sold last night was a bargain. Mrs. Peter Schutz, the State florist, was the lucky winner of the $5 gold piece, a chance on which was given away with every entrance ticket.

A portable gas or electric lamp will be given away this evening. The announcement that will bring joy to the hearts of the Elks in Lake county is that Garry Herrmann, the grand exalted ruler of the order and chairman of the national baseball commission, will be present. Mr. Herrmann will be escorted from Chicago to Hammond with forty automobiles, and it is expected that hundreds of other Elks from Lake county will be present.

The highest official in Elksdom has been invited to be the guest of the Elk lodge No. 4 in Chicago, and it was because of Hammond's proximity to Chicago that he could make arrangements to come to this city.

The Elk bazaar is the talk of the town. "Have you been there?" is the question. The duck pond is a feature that was introduced last night for the first time. This is on the third floor in the German village. Three live ducks swim around in a small tank of water and are the targets for a little hoop which is to be thrown from a certain distance. Any one ringing a duck gets a half dollar. The African plunge adjoins the duck pond and is another good attraction for the fun seeking ball tosser.

Meeting a Good One.

The republican meeting at Robert's date last evening was one of the most successful that has ever been held. Attorney W. J. McAleer, D. E. Boone and Fred Crumacker were the speakers.

The hall where the meeting was held was so crowded that fifty people were compelled to stand on the outside. The speeches were all splendid expositions of the issues of the campaign from a republican point of view.

The meeting was a success from start to finish, but is only a sample of the meetings that the republicans have been holding in all parts of the county.

Speaking of the Divorce Evil

Trying to succeed in business without advertising is like the case of the man who, trying to cut expenses, divorced his wife and alone attempted to keep house and raise his children. It cost him more money for doctor bills and funeral expenses in a year than he gave his wife in a lifetime.

When advertising is divorced, business success becomes failure.

This paper is building your neighbor's business. He has reasons. He tried advertising and it helped him. It is not an experiment--this paper brings results. Good, hard, convincing results--dollars.
