

ANCIENT LAND OF MANCHUS RE-ECHOES TO ROAR OF AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVES

The fastest, finest train in the Far East is the South Manchurian Express. It is the only railway in the Orient with an all American equipment of locomotives, coaches, rails and rolling stock. Today the ancient home of the former Manchu Emperors of China resounds to the shriek and roar of modern express trains. Since the Russo-Japanese War, the South Manchurian Railway has bought seventy-five million dollars worth of American equipment and has definite plans for still larger expenditures to keep up with the marvelous development of Manchuria.

The open door is proclaimed in Manchuria with equal opportunities to all, and the South Manchurian Railway Company invites American contractors, exporters, importers, and travellers to look into the opportunities of this oldest, yet newest section of China. The fine road has a total length of about seven hundred miles. The main line runs from Dairen to Changchun, where direct rail connection is made with Harbin on the Trans-Siberian Railroad. A wonderful land, rich in agriculture, timber, minerals, has been opened up. Ten thousand tons of coal a day are coming from the railroad's Fushun mines which have reserves of over one billion tons. The Anshan steel works is now operating two blast furnaces. The equipment was purchased in the United States. Two hundred million tons of iron ore are available for the steel industry. Dairen, the Southern terminus of the line, has a foreign trade of $360,000,000. Among "Opportunities Offered to Capitalists" offered at Washington advised of coal, iron, oil, water rights, Manchurian progress.

The twenty-second session of the Indiana Legislature, passed July 23, 1921, on S. 1 of the Judgment and Attorneys' Fees Act, whereby it states that it is unlawful for anyone to possess or transport liquor. This Act provides that the court upon conviction of such persons may order the liquor destroyed, the vessel used for transportation sold for expenses and after the fees are deducted the excess funds of the county receive the balance.

AN ECHO OF THE OLD DEAD PAST

Steve Karpetsowski, former Indiana Harbor saloon keeper, let an almost forgotten cat out of the bag in a well timed story in the Hammond newspaper.

Indiana has a law which prohibits distilleries and breweries from selling retail saloons. It has been on the statute books for years.

In March, 1911, Steve decided to own a saloon in Indiana Harbor. He had no ready cash but that didn't matter. He owned some real estate. He gave a note to John F. Reilly for $1,200 and he and Mrs. Karpetsowski executed a mortgage on their property to guarantee payment.

The complaint says that Mr. Reilly was merely an agent for the Van Buren Brewing Co., and handled the deal in order to circumvent the Indiana law and that he immediately assumed the note to the brewing company who later assigned it to the M. S. Brewing Co.

The plaintiff alleges that the mortgage was never assigned and that he is entitled to a 30 per cent reduction because of the defendant's failure to have the mortgage assignment recorded within 45 days. He holds that he has never paid $1,200 and demands reimbursement.

The case is in the hands of Attorney G. J. Meyer of Hammond.

INDIANA HARBOR GIRL ATTACKED

Miss Roswell, aged 16, while returning to her home at 1816 and Kennedy aves., Indiana Harbor from the corner grocery of Michigan avenue, last evening around 8 o'clock, was attacked by an unknown man and dragged despite her struggles by the colored savages to a basement room along the railroad tracks. In her desperation the girl managed to free herself from the brute's grasp and escaped. Through her screaming, the girl attracted the neighborhood and frightened her assailant away.

To Chief of Police Strain and Capt. Makar, Miss Roswell said that she was coming from the grocery store towards her home and at the L. H. Bolt tracks she met a short stout colored man who grabbed her by the throat and threatened her life unless she accompanied him. The girl claims to have offered her passage to the dagger, but these were refused.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctor for rheumatism ever since I came out of college over 40 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called cures and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost stand it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain. I couldn't go up stairs or down stairs. I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day in comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You can get rid of rheumatism by following the advice given in "The Inner Mystery," which I wrote over twenty years ago. The entire story of this trouble. If any reader of 'The Times' would like a copy of 'The Inner Mystery of Rheumatism' offered by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 1219-B Street, Hammond, Indiana. Write now and forget. If not a sufferer cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever—adv.
