For the EASTER GIFT

The spirit of giving at Easter time should be guided in the selection of the present, too often the generous intention is unseen in the article chosen.

Let us suggest a piece of fine china. Such a gift affords a practicality which will endure it to the recipient and if it be of artistic design its beauty will grow with the tender association in the quiet hour.

Our Easter china pieces displays are beautiful. The decorations are show are distinctively attractive, and every piece a work of art. They are second to none ever shown in Ottumwa and priced to suit the purse of all.

Will you accept an invitation to view our Easter display, no matter whether you intend to buy or not. Bring your friends.

All street cars pass our store.

VERMILION IS HURRYING CASES

DISTRICT COURT JUDGE DISPOSES OF MANY SUITS TO MAKE WAY FOR NEXT WEEK.

Matters of small import are being rapidly disposed of in the district court by Judge C. W. Vermilion, who is anxious to clear as many cases from the docket as is possible, so as to prevent any great delay in the progress of the more important proceedings when they come up for hearing next week. The grand jury is still in session, and will not report before tomorrow or Friday.

Thomas B. Loughery figured in two suits yesterday, one quieting title to certain property in this country in which C. Franklin et al were the defendants. In the other suit, Loughery was given a divorce from his wife, Ellabeth. Cruel and inhuman treatment practiced by Kate Cherry upon her husband, Harry Cherry, won the latter a decree of divorce and the custody of two minor children.

Cases Disposed of.
Among the cases thus far handled by Judge Vermilion in the district court the following have been adjudicated:

The damage suit brought by Lavina Ware against the Ottumwa Railway and Light Co., in which she sues for $1,526.50 for personal injuries said to have been sustained August 22, 1906, was settled and dismissed.

John H. Seifert has been given a divorce from Signe E. Seifert, the decree being signed this morning by Judge Vermilion.

An order approving the sale of certain property has been made in the suit for partition entitled Mary A. Parks, et al vs Alexander Wright, et al.

The suit on note brought by J. M. Elder against Austin Wymore has been settled and dismissed. In the wills of Elijah Johnson and L. M. Carpenter, Charles E. Johnson and Dan W. Johnson have been appointed executors in the former and M. C. Carpenter will act in a similar capacity in the latter. Both instruments have been admitted to probate.

family moved to Wapello county Iowa, where she grew up. Her husband, and was married at the family residence to Zachariah McEwen September 12, 1861. To this union were born 13 children three of them dying in infancy. Rev. Wm. A. Brame, the father still living. Her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Brown, four brothers and two sisters also survive her. The children still living are Mrs. Alice Darnier, Pierre S. D. N. C. McEwen, Stockton, Kansas; Martha A. Purdy, Newkirk, Okla.; F. L. McEwen, Brame, Okla.; Rose Cobler, Ottumwa; J. A. McEwen, Woodstock, Kan.; Hattie Gardner, Jola, Kan.; Estella Clough, Fairview, Okla.; Z. McEwen, Jr., Newkirk, Okla.; and Josie Preston at home. Fifty grand-children and 2 great grandchildren and a host of friends mourn their loss. She died at her home in Kay county, Okla., at the age of 65 years, 3 months and 16 days, after an illness of several months.

She united with the Baptist church at the age of 16 of which faith she lived and died in.

The funeral services were held on Monday, March 22, at the home conducted by Rev. Wm. A. Brame. The pall bearers were five grandsons and a nephew of the deceased, Loss and Ray McEwen, Eddy and Rex Purdy, Charles Darnier and Lee Brown. The burial was held in the Brame cemetery.—Contributed.

SALOON MEN ALL PLEAD NOT GUILTY

OSKALOOSANS SAY THEY ARE INNOCENT OF SELLING LIQUORS TO INDIANS.

In pursuance to indictments returned against them yesterday by the federal grand jury, thirteen Oskaloosa saloonkeepers appeared before Judge Smith McPherson this morning and each of them pleaded not guilty to the crime of selling liquors to Indians. Bonds in the sum of $500 were imposed upon each by the court and the thirteen defendants were admonished by the court to appear upon the first day of the next term of court for trial.

The men against whom indictments were returned are James Deboard, David Blackburn, Edward D. Nugent, James K. Black, Homer McMain, W. J. Doyle, Robert Milner, H. D. Nugent, A. E. Greenway, J. D. Dow, A. L. Stolar, A. Roesch and A. Mendenhall. According to the evidence presented to the grand jury, the Indians who purchased the liquors were from the Tama reservation and it was through the cleverness of E. E. Van Wert, a special agent from the department of the interior, who was called to the state by O. L. Green, the Indian agent at Tama, that the Oskaloosa saloonkeepers were suspected. The red men had been giving the Tama agent considerable trouble, a great many of them being under the influence of fire water all the time, and therefore very abusive. Van Wert took several of the Indians to Oskaloosa, clothed in blankets and in every way decked out so that the men who sold them liquors could have no excuse for not recognizing them as real Indians. They had no trouble in getting the liquors; in many of the cases the sales being made in full view of Agent Van Wert. The revised statutes show the sale of intoxicating liquors to Indians to be a criminal offense, for which the maximum penalty is three years in jail.

OBITUARY

Johanna Deady.

Eddyville.—Died at her home in Des Moines Saturday April 3, at 11 p. m., Johanna Deady, aged 78 years. The deceased with her husband formerly lived in the country between Excelsior and Oskaloosa, from 1859 until April 1908 when she moved to Des Moines to keep house for her son, Wm. The remains were brought from Des Moines Tuesday on the afternoon train over the Rock Island, and were met by the undertaker, and the small party accompanying the remains, followed them to their last resting place in the Catholic burying grounds of Highland cemetery, where they were laid beside those of the husband five children buried there. Those coming on the train were: Eugene Deady, of Kansas City, Mo., and William Deady of Des Moines, sons of the deceased and the only surviving relatives, Ed and James McDonald, Pat Ferry and Mr. Hutchison.

Mrs. Taima McEwen, daughter of Mary A. and Isaac N. Brown was born December 4, 1843, in Van Buren county, Iowa. When six years old the
