PROTEST AGAINST CONSOLIDATING

Des Moines, May 8.—The report of the committee appointed to draft resolutions protesting against the proposed action of consolidating the allopathic and homeopathic departments of the medical college at the State University of Iowa was to be heard by the delegates attending the annual convention of the State Homeopathic Medical society this morning. The report of the committee was the first business of the day.

Before the session began, delegates expressed the belief that the committee would recommend a state wide campaign to create public sentiment in favor of the recall of President Bowerman of the state university who together with members of the state board of education has been severely criticised on the convention floor and charged with "conspiring to eliminate the homeopathic department at the state university."

Among the most important legislative recommendations already made are the abolishment of the public drinking cup and a health certificate as a marriage requirement. It was announced today that considerable time will be devoted to the matter of the proposed change at the state university and every effort will be made to prevent the execution of the plan.

LITTLE CHARITON BOYS BURIED

Chariton, May 8.—The funeral services of Willard Kelvin Larimer and George Stuart Israel, the two lads who were drowned in Bartholomew's pond on Monday evening, were held at their respective homes this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, after which the little forms were laid to rest in the Chariton cemetery. The funeral at the Israel home was conducted by Rev. George R. Chambers, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, while the one at Larimer's was conducted by Rev. G. I. Findley, of the United Presbyterian church. George Stuart Israel was born in Chariton on July 27, 1903, and was aged 8 years, 9 months and 9 days. Willard Kelvin Larimer was born in Chariton on February 6, 1902, and was 10 years and 3 months old. Both were bright, lovable lads, and the news of their sad and untimely deaths cast a gloom over the entire community. Willard was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Larimer, while Stuart Israel is survived by his parents and a little sister, Constance. These stricken ones will have the deep sympathy of the entire community.

DENTISTS WILL NAME OFFICERS TODAY

Des Moines, May 8.—The morning session of the Iowa Dental society today was devoted to clinics. The afternoon session opened with a business meeting and the annual election of officers was scheduled to be held before adjournment.

Among the interesting features of today's session was the report on the examination of the teeth of children attending schools in Iowa City which was in the hands of Dr. F. A. Rogers. Many members of the association delivered addresses at the opening session of the convention and the dental colleges of the country were criticized by President W. G. Grandall of Spencer in his annual address. He declared that many of the school employ incompetent demonstrators and faculty members with little experience which, he said, resulted in graduates with low standards. The establishment of a national bureau of health was advocated.

Dr. E. K. Wedelstaedt of St. Paul, in addressing the delegates, urged several reforms and denounced the use of strong cements in connection with dentistry.

The next case will be that of Ida Jones of Buxton vs. the Consolidated Coal Co., for $5,000 damages for permanent injuries which she claims was caused by falling through the back steps of the house belonging to the company and which she was occupying as a residence.

WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP BULLETIN

Des Moines, May 8.—The past week was warmer than usual, the daily excess of temperature ranging from 2 to 5 degrees, and weather conditions were generally favorable for rapid progress in farming operations. Heavy rains on April 28, and frequent showers during the week did, however, delay field work to some extent in southern counties. Light to copious showers occurred in nearly all parts of the state on the 2d, 3d or 4th, and gave ample moisture for present needs. The warm rains, and the high temperatures during the last four days have caused an unusually rapid growth of all vegetables. Most of the trees are green, fruit trees are in blossom, and grass and small grain have made a decided improvement. All fruit trees, except apples show an abundance of bloom. Spring sown grain and grasses have made a good start, and show a strong, vigorous stand. Much ground has been prepared for corn, and some planting was done in many localities during the latter half of the week. With favorable weather planting will be general during the coming week. Most of the live stock is in pasture and obtaining sufficient feed.

MODERN WOODMEN AT CEDAR RAPIDS

Cedar Rapids, May 8.—The Modern Woodmen convention to be held here May 16 promises to be a lively affair according to prominent members who are residents of Cedar Rapids and active in lodge circles.

The action taken by the head camp in Chicago last January in raising the rates of the memberships will be strongly denounced and resolutions protesting against the proposed increase will be adopted.

The call for the convention has just been issued by a joint committee appointed to arrange for the meeting.

The convention has been urged by several hundred members in Iowa, it is said.
